Mrs. Almira Pomeroy made the trip to Albany Wednesday.

Oregon is herself again and the flu should soon be conspicuous because of its absence.

Miss Lily Sims, who has been employed in Mill City the past few months, returned home Thursday.

Mrs. M. Morse, a trained nurse, came from Albany Monday to assist in caring for the Scio sick.

Mrs. Alda Hutchison of Portland, is at the Ardee Powell home to help nurse the sick. She came Monday.

Between the old city council and the flu, Scio has been showless for several weeks.

Mrs. Dr. Hobson came in Friday evening and is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Brenner.

Riley Boyd returned the latter part of the week to resumé work in his ship knee camp.

Mrs. J. N. Weddle returned last evening from a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Ohlmeier, in Portland.

The two orphaned grandchildren of Mrs. Harman were brought from Montana Saturday by Miss Ellen Johnson of Bancroft, North Dakota.

As an evidence that the war is over and that peace shall again maintain, Ford ads are to be found in the newspapers.

The office mud puddle is back to normal since the freeze and the boys think some of planting it to pond lilies, skunk cabbage and other choice aquatic plants.

Bill Parker of Centralia, Wash., has been visiting with his brother, J. F. Parker. He left Wednesday noon for Redna.

Mrs. Walker of Silverton, and Mrs. Cristie of Portland, have been visiting with their mother, Mrs. Mary Dorn, the past week. They left Wednesday morning for their respective homes.

Mr. Flowers, now residing in Albany but formerly of Montana, purchased John Egr's home and 27 acres of land. He will move thereon some time in March.

The Tribune has a 6-col. Diamond press in good condition, hand power, for sale at a bargain. Also a 1-form newspaper imposing stone—all at a bargain. 22

The Linn county bar, when Judge D. B. McKnight retired from six years of service as county judge, presented him with a gold watch as a testimonial to his fairness and courtesy to the lawyers during his term of office.

The boys or young men who have been stealing chickens recently from various poultry yards about town, had better be more cautious in their pilfering. The parties are known with some degree of certainty and prosecution is certain when positive evidence can be found.

Prof. H. L. Robe was a much surprised man Saturday evening. Mrs. Robe received in the evening mail some flowers and a letter of condolence sympathizing with her in the death of her husband. As the Prof. was in the front room trying to get music out of the piano, she couldn't understand how he could be dead. Then it dawned on her that she saw in an Albany paper the report of another Robe's death.

Enoch Shelton, janitor at the Scio school, has caused a shortage in the court plaster and arnica supply. It came about through Enoch's desire to show the kids how gracefully he could descend the front steps, especially when they were covered with mud and ice. He descended, but not gracefully. His feet got in a hurry and slid away and he rolled and pitched down those 13 steps like a ship in a storm. Enoch declares he hit every one of those steps at least twice. His demonstration met with hearty applause from his audience.

Scio has a monthly pay roll of about $20,000 with prospects that it will be increased to $25,000 within a few weeks.

The wind the first of the week did some damage in tearing down signs, blowing down trees and in one instance unroofing a barn. It knocked the Arnold windmill into a cocked hat.

John D. Densmore, jr., who was reported to be seriously sick in Portland, now seems fully recovered and is eating mother's grub at the family home in Scio.

Riley Shelton and Ben Thayer were the city mudlarks this week. They scraped the mud from Main street. Later—They got tired of the job before it was fairly commenced and an accommodating rain gave excuse to quit.

Condensery patronage is increasing. Near 10,000 pounds daily is the mark now. This means $336 paid for milk each day. With the full milk flow in the string the daily receipt is expected to reach 25,000 pounds.

A visit to the county court house will seem somewhat strange for a while. With Sheriff Bodine, Treasurer Francis and Judge McKnight absent from roll call, one feels he is in a strange pasture. His confidence will be increased, however, by interviewing Clerk Russell, Assessor Fisher or Recorder Velma Davis. But the real at home feeling will return if he calls on Janitor Mart Bilyeu.

The Scio Tribune $1.50 the year.

PLENTY OF MONEY to loan on good farms; low interest rates; five years time; privilege to pay $100 or multiple on any interest date. Call or write J. M. and H. M. Hawkins, Albany, Oregon.

"When the cat's away the mice will play," applies appropriately to the U. S. congress at the present time.

Our legislators do not seem to much alarmed at the shortage of funds for appropriations purposes if the voting of $5 to $10 clerks be the criterion.

If legislators will scrutinize the things for which appropriations have been made in the past, they will be astonished at the small benefit received in return.

The moderation of the weather and return of the good old Oregon rain, mark a turn for the better with most of our flu cases.

The Oregon legislature does not purpose to be balked nor baffled by a little thing like the flu. There is no lack of clerks or those who would be. Well, if the flu will just cause the customary lobby to go floey we will feel that there is some good in a great evil.

This is the way that he went home before he took a wife.

He was on deck for joy rides or whatever else was rife.

He was out late six times a week and led a frisky life.

But now he goes straight home like this, and stays there, you can bet He's had to learn a thing or two he never will forget. He dares not stay out late because he wed a suffragette.
