

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES

Miss Josie Kotan spent the week end at home.

Mrs. Henry Stepanek went to Portland Wednesday.

And still Mill street is not improved. Who is to blame?

Fred Giselman has established a cream station at Jordan.

An airplane passed over Scio at 12:45 Saturday, going south.

Miss Lizzie Smith spent Sunday at her home near West Scio.

Jesse Hildreth and Carl Smith motored to Albany Thursday.

Mrs. H. Bauman of Marion was in town Thursday.

Misses Christine and Rose Shindler spent Sunday at the Frank Pruitt home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bilyeu went to Halsey Saturday evening to visit his uncle, Robert Bilyeu.

Roe Phillips says the fall is all right; he has seeded about all he intended and is ready for winter.

Scio lodge of Masons will hold stated communication Saturday evening, Nov. 1.

Frank and Joe Bartu went to the McKenzie country Friday in quest of the deer someone has staked out for them.

Sunday at 2 a. m. you may turn the clock back an hour; maybe you had better do it Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. George Emmett of Hillsboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Mat Inglesheimer of Albina, were guests at the George Morrow home last week.

It is with regret that the community has learned of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Peery moving away from Scio the latter part of the week. They will make their home at Grays Harbor, Wash.

M. M. Peery, who conducted a drug store in Scio for many years, then moved to Springfield, Lane county, engaging in the same business, has again sold. Mark is a first class druggist and citizen.

The Tribune family and office force makes its profoundest bow to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Grimes of Roseburg for a small crate of casabas and which included a vegetable mud hen, commonly known as summer asparagus. It is seldom that a vegetable takes the form of animal or bird so nearly as this specimen does. Mr. and Mrs. Grimes are prospering nicely at their new home.

Dies from Wound.

Saturday, Emil Posvar, while working in the gravel pit was the victim of a gun accident from which he died Monday morning.

He and Frank Roner were working together. A shotgun was on the wagon. Roner in moving the gun discharged it in some way. Posvar was on the ground putting a sack on the wagon and received the full charge in the right leg above the knee, shattering the bone so badly that amputation was deemed best by his physicians, Dr. Hobson of Scio and Dr. Wallace of Albany.

Funeral services were held Tuesday and the body shipped to California.

John W. Vana left Tuesday for Portland to work this winter.

Archie Lindley is off on a ten day deer hunt and we will look for a slice of venison on his return.

Louis Posvar of Red Bluff, Cal., arrived Monday to attend the funeral of his brother Emil.

A. Schram, state bank examiner, was here this week checking up the bank.

Mrs. W. W. Howard of Echo and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Irvine, came down Monday.

The Misses Maycel and Hazel DeLong spent Sunday at home above Bilyeu Den. They are attending Scio high school.

Mrs. Frank Irvine of Echo came down last week, called here on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. A. F. Beard.

Mrs. Oscar Lindley, after spending about a month with her brother W. J. Young, returned to her home in Silverton the latter part of the week.

Mrs. A. F. Beard is failing rapidly and the end seems not far distant. Her children are at her bedside constantly and are making the closing hours of a long life as pleasant for the aged mother as possible.

The football game Saturday ought to draw a good crowd. The Scio high school boys have been practicing faithfully and should give a good account of themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shelton, accompanied by Mrs. Pomeroy and Mrs. Clara Griffin, Saturday motored down 10 miles below Woodburn for a visit with G. C. Pomeroy, a brother of Mrs. Shelton. The motorists returned home Sunday.

To Put in Fish Ladder.

E. S. Hawker, deputy fish and game warden, was over from Albany Friday and made arrangements with Manager Thoms of the Scio Milling Co. for immediate installation of a fish ladder at the company's dam. As Thomas creek is about as low as it will get the work will be hurried.

Dr. Hobson should be able to put some pep into the football team as he is an old timer at the game.

For sale—fall and winter apples at 50c per bushel; sweet cider at 25c per gallon at the farm. R. H. McDonald.
