

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES

Scio lodge of Masons meets 28th. Lee Davis, the piano man, was over from Albany last Thursday.

A son of Charles Dart died last week and was buried on Wednesday. Our public and high schools will probably resume business Monday.

Something wrong. Our frog pond is getting dusty in February.

Merle Cyrus came up from Portland last week for a few days' visit with Scio relatives.

After wrestling eight days with the flu, Miss Christine Shindler got back to her bookkeeping at the bank last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith of the Scio Hotel took last Friday afternoon off and spent it at Albany.

As we go to press it is thought that most Scio people are fairly well from the flu.

It is said that some who voted no Monday want to change and make it unanimous.

Willard Marks and Ward Cyrus came over from Albany Saturday to attend the Elmo Sims funeral.

Early gardening and setting out berry plants is on with a rush while the weather holds good.

Born—February 21, at Portland, to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Borovicks an 8-pound son.

Mrs. Leona Canfield of Portland, sister of Mrs. Louisa Perry and aunt of Mrs. E. J. Smith, is visiting her relatives here.

Tom Large moved his pool tables, stock and fixtures to the building formerly occupied by the Everett drug store last Sunday.

C. W. Brazg, depot agent, is out again after tussling with the flu for a week. He was looking after business matters in Scio Saturday.

For the first time in the history of Scio and perhaps in the state, an entire election board of women presided over the special water bond election Monday.

Clifford Harold, well known in Scio, has been promoted to the management of the Albany Tractor Co., which will handle Samson tractors and trucks.

Fred Bilyeu went to Portland last Thursday for the purpose of driving home a Ford truck. By the way, Fred is selling a lot of Ford stuff these days.

Miss Charlotte E. Walker, R. N., county nurse for Linn county, has been in Scio several days looking after the sick here and at Shelburn, giving advice, etc. She will go from here to Mill City.

The very favorable vote on water bonds Monday has caused one man on the Jordan road to advance the selling value of his farm $5 per acre. This will be true of all property along the line and in Scio.

Enoch Shelton went over to Shelburn to see how his brother-in-law, John Miller and family were getting on with the flu. He found them all down with it except John who was about wore out from nursing the others. Enoch came home on Tuesday and reports the family as getting better.

Frank Zavodsky went to his old home in Monroe Tuesday. His trip was for the purpose of digging 1200 loganberry and as many gooseberry plants and some fruit trees. He is going to bring them here and plant them on his own place.

The Tribune has received two copies of a song composed, words and music, from the author, Mrs. Cora Eichinger. We have not yet tried out the composition, but from a cursory examination we do not hesitate to say it is highly creditable to the author both in spirit and harmony. The title of the composition is "Oh, Ring Out, Liberty Bells."

Riley Montgomery and wife, after enjoying a siege of the flu, were able to come to town Wednesday.

Yesterday D. C. Thoms advanced from driving a car to pushing a wheelbarrow.

George C. Miller of Shelburn was in town Tuesday. He says he did not enjoy the flu attack.

L. L. Miller, representing the Allen Piano Company of Salem, was looking after business interests in Scio the first of the week.

Mrs. Nickolas Endres, who had been nursing the sick at the E. D. Myers home, left Saturday for Shelburn to take care of the T. J. Gibbons family. Mrs. Myers and baby Helen are slowly recovering.

Mrs. Roscoe Daniels and Mrs. C. U. Sandoz and children left Wednesday morning for their future home at Newberg. The men folks left the previous day, each with a carload of goods.

Most everybody has to replenish his woodpile these days. There has been more continuous and severe cold this winter than usually falls to the lot of Oregon.

President Wilson seems to have great influence among labor people. At least labor seems to accept his dictum. Republicans say it is simply postponing trouble. If so, and the postponement lasts long enough, there is always a chance, when labor reflects, to adjust matters amicably.

Cow For Sale.

Your choice at my price of two young grade milk cows, 2 and 4 years old; each one has heifer calf 1 and 2 months old. These cows are daughters of my milk prize winner at Linn County Fair.

RILEY SHELTON.

Notice.

At the last annual meeting of the board of directors of the Scio Mutual Telephone Co. of Scio, the president and secretary were instructed to enforce the by-laws in regard to the collecting of telephone assessments, but on account of sickness time will be extended until the first day of March. On and after that date those who have not paid their first assessment will be dropped as far as central is concerned. We would ask that you please be prompt so that we will not have to take this action. We do not think it is right and just for a few lines to pay and the rest wait until the last minute; and we do not think it is right for the secretary on each line to have to call upon each and every member on his line to collect the assessment. When you are passing, have your check made out and hand it to the secretary. It will only take you a minute to do this. We thank you and hope you will be prompt.

J. L. CALAVAN, President.
J. B. COUEY, Secretary.

LUMBER FOR SALE

I have 30,000 to 40,000 feet second hand lumber for sale. It is mixed, rough, all lengths and sizes, at $6 per thousand, at the old fair grounds.

J. L. Rodgers.

The Tribune has a No. 1 stock or dairy farm for sale. Over 100 acres in cultivation and all of the rest can be cultivated save 60 acres of pasture and timber. Has good house, barn and other outbuildings; good orchard. See The Tribune man for terms.

Notice of Final Settlement.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, administrator of the estate of Charlotte C. Peery, deceased, has filed his final account in said matter with the county court of Linn County, Oregon, and said Court has fixed Saturday, the 3d day of April, 1930, at the hour of 1 o'clock P. M. of said day, at the court house in Albany, Linn county, Oregon, as the time and place for hearing objections to said final account, if any there be, and for the final settlement of said estate.

MARK M. PEERY,
Administrator.
