THE LABOR STRIKE.

What can we do with the labor strike? So long as these strikes affect only the employer and employee, the general public is disposed to look at the matter as of no concern to it other than most people entertain a disinterested secret sympathy for the striker. But when the strike, like the present one, has for its purpose the tying up of the industries of our entire nation, then the general public becomes deeply interested at once.

The purpose of the strike is for a comparatively few men to rule by force, and is contrary to abide by the spirit of our federal constitution. It is a refusal to abide by the law and custom of our country. But so long as property and life are respected the strike is tolerated.

No one denies the right of the individual to quit his job whenever he pleases to do so, providing he does not violate his contract. He may, also, persuade his fellow workman to do the same.

But when through organization he says to his fellow workman he must quit or must soldier on the job, then he is overstepping his rights as an American citizen. And more especially when the quitting of the job causes other industries to close shop.

There should be a sort of mutual fellow interest between employer and employee, and there should be a fellow feeling among workmen organized or unorganized as well. No workman should attempt to decrease the reasonable amount of product, either from his own hands or on the part of this fellow workman and yet retain the respect and good will of his employer. Nor should he expect to retain the good will and sympathy of the public unless he is willing to render a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

Right now organized labor is treading on very thin ice and this present strike has arrayed public opinion against organized labor as never before, nevertheless big labor leaders are standing flatfootedly against the strikers. They say the strike was wholly unauthorized and they know that the cause of labor will be set back severely because of the strike.

The general public is saying "What manner of people are these men who do not hesitate to violate the laws of the land nor the labor laws which they themselves enact?"

The final result will be very stringent laws governing labor by the congress and state legislatures. The general public will not long tolerate the present uncertain and disturbing attitude labor has assumed. There must be some stability in the established relations as between employer and employee. There must be eliminated from the ranks of labor these men and women who go about the country preaching discontent in the labor world. They are simply leeches who are living at the expense of labor, while they are doing harm instead.

A labor strike is a loser, look at it from any point you may. It is a loss to labor because of the loss of time while the strike is on. It is a loss to the employer because of the empty warehouses resulting from the strike. It is a loss to the consuming public because of the increase in the cost of goods and the inconvenience the strike causes.

Some day congress and state legislatures will be forced to enact drastic laws governing employers and employes because the general public, which is the great majority, will force them to do so, and the majority must rule in the end if it comes to a matter of force.

THE ANIMALS ARE MILLING

The Tribune is very much in favor of the nominating of Herbert C. Hoover for president, and if he is nominated he is sure of election. No other candidate can command the great mass of independent voters as he can. In fact, with a candidate nominated by each of the old parties and Mr. Hoover as an independent candidate, there is doubt about who would win.

It has generally been supposed that Hiram Johnson carried the vote of California in his vest pocket. Yet the latest news is that Hoover may carry the state. If Johnson should lose his own state of California, his political goose would be cooked, to which Oregon would say amen.

Johnson stands to lose in his home state for reasons not necessary here to mention. He is a brilliant campaigner and men will go out to hear him on that account, then go into the election booth and vote for whom they please, and very many of them will vote for Hoover.

In California democrats can vote for Hoover as the republican nominee, and Editor Piper says they will do so by thousands. In Oregon they can only do so by "writing in" Hoover's name on the democratic ticket though many will register as republicans in order to make their votes factors in his selection.

Mr. Hoover says he is a republican, though he makes it plain that he is not of the partisan variety. He favors the league of nations, with or without mild explanatory reservations. Being this type of man who places the welfare of nation above that of party, and of extraordinary ability as an organizer and financier, the people want him. The democrats would consider him as their candidate at San Francisco if he would accept. But he has said he would not accept a democratic nomination, so if he becomes a candidate it must be at the hands of the Chicago convention.

Less than two months from now the Chicago convention will be on. If the Hoover sentiment continues to grow as it has during the past two weeks, Hoover will be the candidate. Sentiment for no other candidate is making such spontaneous and rapid growth and a growth which comes up from the people, who have the votes to elect.

DENIM AND KHAKI.

If the denim and khaki clubs throughout the country will stay with it long enough Old Man High Cost of Clothes will have to come to time. And if some expedient can be devised to break the high cost of shoes a like result may be obtained.

When tailors demand and get $100 to $125 per week, profiteering is abroad. The same may be said of shoemakers, with hides at slow sale and worth but 25 to 60 cents per pound, owing to class and condition.

The way to reduce high costs of living is to reduce. If clothing dealers will not sell at reasonable prices, don't buy. Buy none but the cheapest grade of shoes; patronize the shoe cobbler freely and Mr. Shoe Dealer will do some real hard thinking. Nor do we place the blame on the retail merchant. It is the jobber, manufacturer and tanner to get after. Catch the big boys and deal drastically with them, and the little fellows will come to time quickly.

Headline: "Prices Soar." So are we

The Kalamazoo Gazette tells the world that the normal school band uniforms consist of "a cap and coat at first with the probable addition of pants at a later date." One way to beat the old H. C. L.

The ice cream freezer is said to have been invented by a woman, and it sounds reasonable. If a man had invented it, he would have made it so a woman could run it without any assistance from him.

March of the Feminist.

It is not much trouble to get a capon started brooding chicks. At dusk place the chicks under the capon's wing. Usually, the capon will be taking care of the chicks the next morning just the same as a hen, but if he seems to be uneasy, remove the chicks and try him again the next night. After doing this the second time, the capon usually takes to the chicks and mothers them the same as a hen would.

Although rain threatened, Saturday turned out to be a beautiful spring day.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Buy Now While Deliveries Are Possible

Buy your Ford car now while deliveries are possible. There is only a limited, specified number of Ford cars allotted to this territory. You will be wise to buy one now while we can get cars to deliver. A signed order with us is your protection.

Even our small allotment of Ford cars is not shipped until we have bonafide orders for them. This is because the demand for Ford cars all over the country is greater than the supply or production. So don't depend on spring delivery. Only so many Ford cars will be shipped in to this territory; only so many will be able to get Ford cars. If you would be forehand and plan ahead you will have us deliver you a Ford car as soon as possible. Then you will have it to use whenever you want it.

The Ford is an all year utility—in your home or business. Its serviceability, ease of operation, low cost of maintenance has made it such. It will serve you the year around. Spring and summer, autumn and winter, it is your servant; always ready to do your bidding.

We Sell Genuine International Repairs

Made For

By the

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY

REPAIRS made for International implements and other farm equipment by the Harvester Company are the only repairs made from the original patterns. All others are copied from copies, and in this roundabout reproduction they may lose in correctness of shape, sharpness of detail, closeness in fitting, and quality of material. These repairs are made for Deering, McCormick, Milwaukee, Titan and other International-made machines.

Genuine IHC Repairs

Are Better in Quality Fit Better and Wear Longer

The Harvester Company stands back of its machines. Be fair in the matter. Do not substitute imitation repairs for the genuine and expect best service. Repairs made by other concerns and marked "Made for" or "Will fit", are not genuine IHC repairs. They often lack weight, are not always correct in shape, are imperfectly finished, do not fit properly, or are made of inferior material. Buy Genuine International Repairs for your International Farm Equipment.

Beware of Any Other Kind!
