I. W. W. PLAN STRIKE AT HARVEST'S PEAK

Resolutions by Secret Convention
Are Revealed—Minutes
Copy Is Seized

Seattle, May 31.—A general strike throughout the country and an effort to influence all harvest hands in the United States to walk out of the fields at the height of the harvest season, are two of the interesting items contained in resolutions adopted at the national convention of the I. W. W. in Chicago May 10 to 15. The resolutions fell into the hands of federal agents here today.

A complete copy of the minutes of the national convention was seized by the police in a raid on an embryo district I. W. W. headquarters here last night. The convention was held behind locked doors and the delegates were said to have entered and left Chicago secretly. Many names of delegates are in the hands of federal officers and a cleanup of the organization in the northwest has received great impetus by the seizure.

Doubling Corn Yields.

Corn yields per acre in the United States could be doubled within a few years and this could be accomplished without increase in work or expense. It is not to be understood that it is desirable to double the present corn crop, but that it is desirable to produce enough to meet all needs on a smaller number of acres and with less labor. If 60 bushels are raised on one acre instead of on two acres, the labor of plowing, harrowing, planting, cultivating, harvesting is greatly reduced.

SANTIAM FARM TOPICS

The old man is on deck with a pocket full of rocks, blind in one eye and can't see out of the other.

George Bilyeu is bossing the road work and will soon have a fine grade with a good coat of gravel.

Mr. Payne has traded 180 acres of his farm for 160 acres in Eastern Oregon.

Clarence Lovejoy of Dallas motor-ed over Friday evening.

James Mulligan's brother and family came up from Portland for a two days' visit, returning Saturday.

William Lee was over Monday to plant potatoes for the old man.

Our school closed Friday with a successful program.

Newt Crabtree is now sending his milk to the cheese factory.

Crops look bad owing to the cold winds and cool nights. I feel sure crops will be light.

Uncle George is tearing up the earth and sandstone along Santiam Farm.

PIE EATER.

Hospital Notes

Miss Winnifred Ferris, nurse at the hospital, is taking care of Mrs. S. B. Curran (Ella Ransford) and baby at the Ransford home.

Edgar Brown, who had his leg broken last week, was dismissed Saturday morning.

Several coats of paint on the hospital building, both inside and out, add materially to its good appearance.

The new surgery room is completed, equipped and ready for use.

Dr. Uptedahl reports the birth of an 8-pound boy to Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Curran (Ella Ransford) at the home of the latter's parents here. The Currans live in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Shumaker of Jefferson, spent Friday evening at the Walter Bilyeu home.

George Washburn came up from Portland for Memorial Day and to visit friends.

The Shelburn cemetery was beautifully decorated for Memorial Day. Louise Riis of Chicago, Ill., sent two beautiful wreaths of cypress leaves.

A truck load of large wood pipe to be used in the construction of the power flume at Jordan, passed thru town yesterday. The pipe is about two feet in diameter.

Advertisers must send in ad changes not later than Tuesday morning to insure the change for the current week for the first side goes to press Tuesday afternoon, and if your ad is on the first pages printed the ad cannot be changed until the week following.

The shortage of gasoline is getting serious. Garage men have made several trips to Portland after gas which adds to the cost.

Like String.

Wilson—You can say what you like about Goodfellowe, but he's as straight as a piece of string.
Walters—Yes, and just as easily broke.

JUNGLETOWN JINGLES.

Miss Wells was visiting her friends in Jungletown not long ago.

While we have a new donkey we will be pretty busy getting out logs.

Mrs. Titus had a big company for chicken dinner Sunday week.

Mr. Livingston, who was sick last week, is back to work.

Elmer Whipp is busy hunting the rabbits around here.

Stewart killed a hog last week. The cook house got half of it.

We had a big frost the other day, but Mr. Wells' garden stood it.

Jungletown is quite civilized with electric lights and makes one think he is living in a city.

George Boise wasn't at work Saturday. Guess he was having better time out joy riding.

Miss Millie Walter was helping Mrs. Titus Saturday and Sunday and got along just fine.

JACK THE WRIPPER.

For Medicinal Purposes.

"For medicinal purposes." That was the credential under which 640 cases of California champagne, "extra dry," was en route to the Sherman House, Chicago. And Chicago within a few days is to be the scene of the 1920 national republican convention.

"For medicinal purposes" and headed for a Chicago hotel in time for the convention! Who got the federal permit for the shipment and who is expected to be sick? Certainly not the republican party, for it is known to be in lousy health.

"For medicinal purposes." Perhaps it was for use as a preventive medicine. With 640 cases there would be more than half a case per delegate.

If, with feeling running high and a bolt or a split imminent; if in a dread moment when under Hiram's fiery eloquence, the convention were about to go on the rocks, what a pacifier it would be to adjourn the convention and have the delegates repair in a body to the Sherman House "for medicinal purposes"!

Evidently, not a single point is to be left unguarded. Chairman Hays will see to it that there is no recurrence of 1912 if it is within the power of preventive medicine to avert it.—Portland Journal.

The Printer's Plight.

The bloom is on the early pea,
Blossoms bedeck the onion tree,
All nature smiles, it is the time
For poets to burst forth in rhyme.

The robin digs the angle worm
From out the crumbling dirt,
The hens betray desires to set
And father sheds his shirt.

Johnny's making water wheels
And damming up the creek;
Jennie complains to ma each day
That winter "undies" stick.

By these and sundry other signs
I have a slight suspicion
That one of these warm days
I'll up an' go a fishin'.

JORDAN ITEMS

Miss Clara Jungwirth visited her brothers at Gooch Thursday.

We understand the Wing place has been sold and the owner, a bachelor, has moved in.

Perry Bilyeu and family and J. B. Bilyeu of Crabtree, came up Saturday to visit and attend Memorial Day services.

E. J. Pennerling and family of Lebanon visited in this vicinity Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Montgomery and Mrs. Cupin-hagen of Oregon City visited his sister, Mrs. Harve Shelton Thursday.

Thomas Phillips and son Garlin of Lebanon, came up to visit his parents and harrow his potatoes.

Work on the light plant is progressing steadily. An office, with telephone is maintained in the Kimball house which makes it very convenient for all.

OREGON MIST.

Editor Has Big Job.

The man who edits the average country newspaper cannot well avoid treading on somebody's toes continually; must expect to be censured often for unintentional failures; must expect hard work and little thanks; must expect to be called a coward because he does not "pitch into" everything that somebody thinks is wrong, and a fool if he speaks out too plainly on public evils; he must expect to grind other people's axes and turn the grindstone himself. Still we think it is one of the noblest professions on earth; the one in which the earnest man can do the most good to his fellow man.

Birthday Reunion.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Merritt and in celebration of Mrs. Merritt's forty-sixth birthday, 54 of her many friends and relatives entertained with a charming basket dinner Sunday at the home of the former.

After an elaborate dinner, which was served cafeteria style from a long table in the yard, the remainder of the day was spent in social conversation and music.

Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. H. Powell and family of Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. Pitt Wallace of Lebanon, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Arnold and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Fillpott and family of Lebanon, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Long and family, Charles Merritt and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Broill and daughter of Turner, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Powell of Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Miller and family of Turner, Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Arnold and family, J. B. Couey and daughters, Mrs. Alvis Gentry of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Arnold and daughter.

Portland Grain Market.

Wheat—club $2.85, turkey red $3.00, bluestem $3.00 per bushel.
Oats—No. 3 white feed $70.00 per ton, or $1.12 per bushel.

COURT TO REVIEW

HENRY ALBERS CASE

Portland Manufacturer, Sentenced to McNeils Island, at Liberty Pending Decision.

Washington, June 1.—The supreme court today agreed to review the case of Henry Albers, convicted at Portland, Or., under the espionage act.

J. Henry Albers, Portland manufacturer, was convicted in the U. S. district court of the district of Oregon, February 5, 1919. He was sentenced to 3 years in the federal penitentiary on McNeils Island and to pay a fine of $10,000.

An appeal was taken to the U. S. circuit court of appeals, which affirmed the lower court. Mr. Albers then sought a writ of review in the U. S. supreme court, and pending the ultimate decision, he is at liberty.

Power Project Progress.

The Tribune is informed that progress is being made on the Jordan power project. The bridge across Thomas Creek has been completed and work on the ditch and flume will be under full headway next week.

The poles to carry the wires are about ready for delivery along the line and Engineer Cunningham will place the markers for pole location at once so that delivery can be made.

The concrete dam across Thomas Creek, which is to be placed about one-half mile above the Jordan store will not be undertaken until low water in the creek is here, about August. By that time all other work will have been completed except removal of the dynamo, which will require but three or four days. A new water wheel will replace the present one so that there need be no delay on that account.

Old Landmark Gone.

Last week the old building recently occupied by A. W. Hagey as a watch repairing shop, was torn down and the ground cleaned up up preparatory to the building of a hall for our Bohemian friends. They purpose to construct a hall which will require some 80,000 feet of lumber in the building. The old building was among the first constructed in Scio more than 50 years ago.

Will Celebrate July 3.

The business men of Stayton held an enthusiastic meeting May 24 and raised several hundred dollars to put on a rousing celebration July 3.

Features and sporting events program will be announced later. This promises to be the largest and best celebration ever pulled off in Stayton.

At The Peoples Theatre

For this week, Saturday and Sunday evenings at the Peoples Theatre Charles Ray in "The Busher," a baseball story.
