MARKET ROAD BUILDING ON THE NORTH HILLS

R. Shelton Invites Guests Including County Court to View Work Elegant Dinner Provided

On the road on the north hills the so called market road connecting the Stayton-Jordan road with Scio, road improvement is in full progress by order of the county court and under the supervision of Riley Shelton.

As the court had decided to inspect the progress being made by the workers, last Saturday Mr. Shelton invited several Scio people to be present as well and among the number was this pencil shaver. Mr. E. C. Peery was detailed by Mr. Shelton to convey us to a spot some half way on this stretch of this road. Peery's order for us to be ready at 11:30 was imperative and we obeyed the order.

Just at 12 we reached the designated spot when the workers had stopped for dinner. Under the spreading branches of an oak tree a long table had been prepared. The ladies of the neighborhood then took charge. First spreading snowy cloths on the boards, they loaded the impromptu table with a bountiful supply of good things fit for a wedding feast. Sandwiches and coffee, fried young chicken, roast chicken, fried country bacon, several kinds of salads, pies, several kinds of elegant cakes, strawberries and cream, etc., etc. Those ladies out there are elegant cooks, to be sure. If this writer was a young man and searching for a wife the girls of this particular neighborhood would be looked over carefully.

After all had filled the inner man, including the hands, the county court, and the Scio contingent and even Brother Grimes of Harrisburg had in some way heard of the dinner and was there.

After dinner Judge Bilyeu and other members of the court told the people of their plans of road building, emphasizing the fact that the people must furnish the money to enable the court to build the roads as fast as the people wanted them, and even then some roads would have to wait to get the use of the machinery.

He said we have just sold $160,000 in bonds, but that can only be spent on the specified or bonded roads. He said the court must have more money. We now have the money arising from a 2½ mill tax which produces $75,000. Next fall we are going to ask you to levy an additional tax of 3 mills, making a total of 5½ mills, which will give us a sum of $165,000 for general road purposes. Then we can buy more road machinery and build roads faster.

Commissioners Butler and Pierce made short talks, sanctioning what the judge said. As it could be seen that Boss Shelton was getting nervous the meeting adjourned and the road workers got busy.

Two Cletrac engines were pulling each a grader; eight or ten teams were pulling dump scrapers and Ira Bilyeu was plowing. Further towards Scio grubbing to clear the roadway was under way. The road force seemed to be well organized. The grade finished is fully up to requirements and is fine.

Those partaking of the elegant and bountiful dinner were:

County Judge Bilyeu, Commissioners Butler and Pierce, Grimes, Ed Peery, John Sticha, Joe Wesely, T. L. Dugger, Frank Bartu, Riley Shelton, Joe Bartu, C. Posvar, Tom Epping, C. Leffler, I. ## JORDAN MERCHANT IS CALLED BY DEATH

Herman C. Foltz Expires Suddenly While Attending to Business

Saturday morning Joseph Foltz was in Scio for the purpose of procuring a casket for the burial of his son Herman C. Foltz, whose death had occurred about 6 o'clock the previous evening at his store at Jordan, while attending to the regular duties of the store.

Friday afternoon he was sitting at his desk closing up the day's business when he was seen to lean back in his chair, and when some one present went to him he was found to be dying or quite dead, the father did not state.

Two or three doctors were called, who found him quite dead of course, and held consultation as to cause of death. Their conclusion is not known at this writing, but heart trouble may be ascribed as the cause. What caused the heart to cease functioning will be revealed in the medical report. (None was made).

Mr. Foltz was 23 years of age; he had been married but a few months and had bought the Jordan store and business sometime last year. He was energetic and a reliable young business man and gave promise of an active and useful life.

His young wife was in the store at the time of her husband's death and was heartbroken in her sudden bereavement.

THE COURT NOW LEADS

One year ago our county court was criticized severely for backwardness in taking up the county road plans. It had not formulated its plans, had so little money with which to satisfy the many and insistent demands, that it was deeply discouraged.

Now, with more money in sight and in prospect, the court has formulated a program and is moving forward zealously in its prosecution.

In November the court will ask the people to add three more mills to the road levy so that more work can be carried forward at the same time. In his speech last Saturday at the road inspection meeting Judge Bilyeu seemed disposed to take the people in his confidence and to be not afraid to discuss his plans and what was the purpose of the court to try to do. One could see his talk impressed the people and to give more zest to the road workers to do things. The court will lead from this time onward.

Enough.

A big, powerful motor car slowed up as the occupants perceived a car of very modest proportions standing by the roadside in a rather battered condition. The owner of the car was on his knees endeavoring to straighten out some of the parts.

"Have an accident, my man?" queried the man in the big car.

"No, thank you," grimly returned the other; "just had one."

White-Allen.

A simple but beautiful wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White of West Scio last Sunday afternoon when their daughter Rose Loreen became the bride of Dr. Clair K. Allen of Roseburg. In a room beautifully decorated with Testout roses and Trailing Arbutus the ring ceremony was used by Rev. Albin Essen of Albany, Mrs. Marian White playing the wedding march.

The bride was adorned in white silk crepe de chine and gorgette and carried a bouquet of flesh carnations. The couple was attended by Miss Esther Bond of Woodburn and Edgar Collins of Gates.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Simmons, Mrs. Beatrice Allen, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. McDonald and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shelton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer White, the Misses Marian and Elsie Allen, Doris and Ruth Shelton, and Messrs. Neil, Dodge and Keith Allen, Esther Bond, Charles Maurice, Keith White.

Miss White was a teacher in the Scio schools and Dr. Allen is a dentist. After a bounteous luncheon Dr. and Mrs. Allen left on the evening train to make their home at Roseburg.

Shimaneck Lambert.

Miss Gertrude Shimaneck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shimaneck, became the bride of Charles Lambert of near Stayton on Tuesday, June 22, at Albany. Last Sunday a wedding dinner was given in honor of the event by the parents of the bride at the farm home on Thomas creek. The table was bountifully supplied with good things to eat to which the following named guests did ample justice:

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Linn Lambert and son Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brenner and daughter Delphia, Mr. and Mrs. John Shimaneck jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartu jr. and family, Frank Bartu sr., Mr. and Mrs. Mylo Bartu, Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Browne, Miss Hazel Lambert, Tony Posvar, Frank Lambert, Lyle Lutz, Lester Shimaneck, Theo. Shimaneck.

SANTIAM FARM TOPICS

Our road blasting is finished and we're now waiting for the grader and the gravel.

Mrs. Jennie Lovejoy of Dallas came up to accompany her mother, Mrs. Gaines to the pioneers' picnic at Portland.

Hay cutting is now in full blast, with some baling. The hay is not the best in the world, but it is good enough.

Anyone wanting new potatoes call in at the farm as I have a hundred bushel ready to dig at reasonable price, also gooseberries at 25 cents a gallon on the bush.

The old man received his shipping bill for the Edison phonograph he ordered some three months ago.

PIE EATER.

Where and how will you spend the fourth?

BANKS OF COUNTY BUY BOND ISSUE

No Other Bids Received by Court for Road Bonds Authorized by the People.

Community spirit to the nth power was displayed Saturday by the twelve banks of Linn county when they subscribed in full to the second sale of Linn county road bonds in order that the road program might go forward unhampered.

This makes a total of $100,000 absorbed by Linn county banks representing resources to the amount of $6,909,335. In the bids accepted each bank shares pro rata in proportion to its resources, viz.:

	Loan Resources	Taken
1st Nat. Albany	$1,326,717	$19,200
Albany State	705,843	10,200
J. W. Cusick Co.	1,043,183	15,100
Albany Savings	1,147,461	16,600
Brownville Bank	421,807	6,100
Halsey Bank	249,506	3,600
Harrisburg Farmers & Merch.	57,015	80
Har. 1st Nat.	334,820	4,800
Lebanon 1st N.	776,403	11,300
Lebanon Nat. B.	335,601	4,900
Scio State	313,790	4,500
Shedd State	197,180	2,900

The action of the banks in taking up the bonds after other bidders failed to appear means that the road work of the county will be continued during the summer, as outlined at beginning of the year.

And With Eyes Shut.

"I'm in a great hurry," said the baldheaded man as he climbed into the barber's chair. "Can you cut my hair if I leave my collar on?"

"Sure," said Deane, as he glanced at the shiny dome; "even if you leave your hat on."

Making Good Progress.

Saturday evening, by courtesy of E. C. Peery, The Tribune man made a brief inspection of the work doing on the power project. We found men at work at different places, blasting going on, etc. A substantial bridge has been erected at the proposed power station, much excavating in the rock along the river bluff, etc.

Surveyor Cunningham thinks to place the proposed dam a few feet above the chosen site as it will increase the power and safety of the dam from high water, but at an increased cost of near $2000.

Evidently good work and a determination to complete the work on time is the purpose of Engineer Cunningham and his employees.

At The Peoples Theatre

For this week, Saturday and Sunday evenings at the Peoples Theatre the picture will be "Should a Husband Forgive?" a melodrama. The comedy "Just Neighbors."

A merchant had a lot of goods He wished to quickly sell; He advertised in news-papers And then they went like h-h-hot cakes.
