

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES

C. F. Sargent of Crabtree was in Scio Saturday to do some shopping.

W. A. Ewing and family left Friday for an outing at Cascadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vsetecka were shopping in Albany Friday.

Z. J. Clark and family motored to Salem Sunday for the day's visit.

Wheat yields are better than expected, we are told.

Henry Stepanek has his babies at home for a visit this week.

F. A. Doolittle of Lebanon was doing business in Scio on Thursday of last week.

Fred Bilyeu went to Portland last Friday morning for business purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gill expected to go to Sodaville this week for a few weeks' stay.

The Scio mills received the first load of new wheat for the season this week. The quality is excellent.

Miss Albina Doubek after spending a short stay at home, returned to her work in Portland Sunday.

D. Ransford of Portland arrived the latter part of the week on a short business trip.

Dan Zeh and family of Albany and Mr. Butler and family of Portland spent Sunday with the R. C. Pettit family.

Mrs. Theron Russell and children of Salem arrived at the W. H. McLain home last Thursday evening for a short visit.

Dr. Hobson motored to Salem Saturday evening. He took Fred Jones and Printer Brant along for company and ballast.

Othel Wallace and Ray Hassler left Wednesday to camp by the Hannah bridge and work at the new electric light plant.

Mrs. Nettie Carruthers of Seattle arrived Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Rosprafka for a short visit.

Mrs. Ilena Whitbeck of Portland is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Katherine Kester, matron at the Scio General Hospital.

Gordon Wesely left Monday for Mill City. As he had a pair of loggers' shoes it is supposed he is going to be a logger for awhile.

Mrs. Lucinda Stringer of Portland is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. W. Pomeroy of Scio. Near 50 years ago the Tribune family knew Mrs. Stringer when she lived in Lebanon. She is now a widow.

Mrs. Clair K. Allen (Loren White) of Roseburg, is visiting home folks. This is her first visit home since her marriage.

Electric light poles were being hauled through town Sunday and Monday and all have been delivered on the right of way.

Monday night of last week somebody forced open the front door of Cobb's garage and took three tires—one from Merle Cyrus' truck, one from John Kelly's car, and one from John Wesely's car.

John L. Kelly and family expect to go to the Tillamook beaches next week for an outing. During his absence Harold Peery of Springfield will be pill expert at the corner drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Renton, of the auditor's staff, Yakima county, Washington, are visiting relatives and friends at Scio and Jefferson. Mrs. Renton was formerly Miss Grace Gill, daughter of the late J. W. Gill.

John Wesely has been limping around this week and all because he thought he could do the Wanda Hawley stunt of jumping from one fast moving car to another. John miscalculated somehow and he missed connections.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bilyeu of Lebanon passed through town last Friday on their return from visiting a relative at Lyons. They expect to go to Eastern Washington in a day or so to take care of their harvest.

The Tribune family makes its politest bow to Joe Wesely for a mess of Marion lake trout which he brot back with him from his recent outing. The water of the lake was roily because of volcanic disturbance and the fishing was not quite so good as usual.

C. E. Fitzpatrick arrived Friday and for a month will be the S. P. agent at West Scio while Agent C. W. Bragg will seek rest and recreation from the trials and tribulations of a railroad man's life in some remote and secluded spot—but he'll have his fishing tackle.

The Scio Milling Co. has recently made minor improvements to the flour manufacturing parts of the mill and more are yet to be made. As a result no better flour can be found in the state, hard wheat or otherwise, than they are now making. It is the purpose of the management to make Scio flour a premium flour throughout the state and coast. Try it.

Father Boniface of Jordan was in Scio yesterday looking for carpenters to work on the new Catholic church there.

For Sale—8-ft. dining table and a heating stove; cheap. Cliff Compton

Lost—A strand of blue beads connected with a silver chain. Finder leave at The Tribune office, or with Mrs. Walter Bilyeu and get reward.
