OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Principal Events of the Week Briefly Sketched for Information of Our Readers.

Ten acres of sunflowers at the Eastern Oregon State hospital were harvested the past week for silage and two 150-ton silos are filled with the yield. It was at first intended that the sunflowers should supplement corn as a silage crop but such a tremendous yield was obtained that the silos were filled without the corn.

After 37 years in the employ of the state hospital for the insane, most of the time as farmer, D. T. Brown has been compelled by age and ill health to resign. He is nearly 80 years old.
The state board of control has adopted resolutions in appreciation of Mr.
Brown's long service. He entered the employ of the state in 1883.

Sheriff Orr and Deputy Sheriff Hooker unearthed one of the most complete moonshine outfits ever found in Polk county while looking for bootleggers in Independence. The still, patterned after those of the mountain sections of Kentucky and Tennessee, was declared capable of turning out one quart of whiskey every six minutes.

George A. White, adjutant general of Oregon, soon will receive from the government a record showing every Oregon soldier who was wounded in the war, and a similar list will be furnished by the navy department. It is said the list will run well into thousands and will contain names represented practically every community in the state.

Foreign banks cannot lawfully advertise their business in Oregon newspapers nor by means of circulars and letters seeking patronage from residents of this state with the intention that deposits shall be mailed directly to the bank. This is the holding of Attorney General Brown in an opinion prepared for Will H. Bennett, state superintendent of banks.

Unless means for controlling or ex-terminating the pine beetle are discovered it will be only a few years until western pine forests are wiped out, according to Klamath Falls timber men who have been investigating the extent of the destruction in Klamath county in the last two years. So far warfare against the armies of tiny borers has been ineffectual.

The exceptional warmth of the water in Rogue river this year is keeping the fish from entering the river at Gold beach, according to fishermen who have lately returned from the mouth of the river. Many thousands of steelheads are reported to be lying at the mouth of the river, but refuse to come up the river on account of the warm water. As soon as the stream cools, one of the greatest runs of small steel heads and salmon ever experienced may be looked for, according to old timers on the river.

By resolutions adopted at its session in Astoria the convention of the Oregon State Editorial association pledged its members to fight any attempt to establish the non-partisan league in Oregon. It also condemned the 5 per cent interest bill, indorsed the northwest rivers and harbors convention, favoring the establishment of printing departments in the schools and urged congress to enact laws limiting the size of the metropolitan papers to 60 pages on Sundays and 24 pages on weekdays as a means of conserving the supply of news print.

The Union Fishermen's Packing company of Astoria filed with the supreme court an application for a temporary restraining order in an action against Carl D. Shoemaker, former state game warden, to prevent enforcement of the law prohibiting any person or firm to possess or sell food fish caught outside the three mile limit opposite the mouth of the Columbia river between the dates of August 25 and September 10. The application was placed in the hands of Justice Burnett who will have it under advisement until August 21.

Dr. H. E. Armstrong, federal inspector, reports that dipping of sheep in Klamath county as a means of eradicating scabies is virtually completed and he believes that the disease has been effectively stamped out. Since June 1, 251,295 sheep have been dipped in Klamath county and in the northern part of Siskiyou county, Cal. Fortysix thousand sheep were dipped in Siskiyou, the remainder at various dipping stations in Klamath county.
In addition, Dr. Armstrong states that 15,000 Jackson county sheep were dipped in the vicinity of Ashland, and all other sheep in Jackson county have been carefully inspected.

A committee of 11 Oregon men has been appointed by Governor Olcott to represent this state in the Constitutional league of America, an organization of leading citizens of the nation, formed for the purpose of keeping the people informed relative to the federal constitution, and preserving and upholding the constitution. Jerome A. Myers, national director of the league, requested the governor to appoint a committee for Oregon, and asked that it be nonpartisan. The governor has appointed the following: Richard W. Montague, Portland, chairman; Charles H. Carey, Portland; C.
E. Inzalla, Corvallis; Oscar Hayter, Dallas; Ed Wright, La Grande; S. S.
Smith, Medford; Dexter Rice, Roseburg; O. C. Gibbs, Lakeview; Vine W.
Pearce, Madras; Daniel J. Boyd, Enterprise; Frank L. Chambers, Eugene.

Sale of the government's big spruce production plant in Lincoln county, including the Alsea-Southern railroad, the big mill at Toledo and a tract of more than 12,000 acres containing three-quarters of a billion feet of lumber has been consummated by the Spruce Production corporation, the sale price being $2,400,000. The purchasers are eastern capitalists.

John D. McGilvary, a granite expert of San Francisco, was in Ashland recently and made an inspection of the granite quarries of this region. He became so much interested that he will return and make a more extended inspection.

Representatives of the Rogue River Valley Fish and Game association will start for the mouth of the Rogue river August 5 to make a thorough investigation of all matters growing out of the Rogue river fish controversy of that locality.

There were four fatalities in Oregon due to industrial accidents during the week ending July 29, according to a report prepared by the industrial accident commission. The victims were Ole Dragsvold, sweeper, Bend, William Greenhuber, laborer, Oregon City; Newton W. Lewis, laborer, Salem, and A. C. Duncan, logger, Powers. A total of 469 accidents were reported.

Strict enforcement of the motor vehicle operator's license law enacted at the 1920 session of the legislature will begin at an early date, according to a letter prepared by Sam A. Koser, secretary of state, and sent to every sheriff, police officer, justice of the peace and constable in Oregon.

School funds of the state aggregating $432,267.88, based on a per capita of $2.82 for the 213,394 persons of school age in Oregon, have been apportioned among the various counties by O. P. Hoff, state treasurer. The total apportioned for 1920 shows an increase of $23,522.53 over that of 1919.

The Eugene Fruit Growers' cannery handled more cherries this season than had ever been handled by any cannery in the state, according to O.
N. Kaldor, assistant manager of the association. The crop handled amounted to more than 2,000,000 pounds, which was valued at $250,000 to the growers.

Contractors who have charge of the work on the Pacific highway known as the Dillard-Myrtle creek unit, and which will eliminate travel over Roberts mountains, one of the most dangerous sections of the highway between Portland and San Francisco, expect to have this stretch of road complete by October 1.

Reports of game wardens and woodsmen who are traveling the trails point to a fine hunting season in Coos county this fall. Many who have been about the eastern portion of the county declare there are lots of fat bucks and fawns are plentiful. In Curry county the same reports are being brought in. The bucks are said to be in much finer condition than usual at this season.

Ochoco dam, the reservoir for the Ochoco irrigation project, was completed at noon July 26. The dam is the fourth highest in the United States and the largest in the northwest. The maximum height is 126 feet. It is 1000 feet long and 600 feet thick at the base, contains 541,000 cubic yards of earth and rock and is 18 feet wide on top. Work was started on the dam January 2, 1918.

Reports filed with the secretary of state showing the sales of gasoline and distillate by Oregon dealers for the month of June, 1920, bear out the contention of the producers that more gasoline was placed in the hands of distributors this year than ever before and that the present shortage is due to the rapidly multiplying agencies of consumption. During the month of June, 1920, the Oregon dealers disposed of 4,309,848 gallons of gasoline and 546,078 gallons of distillate, while in June, 1918, there was sold 3,702,146 gallons of gasoline and 407,464 gallons of distillate.

Exports from the Portland district during the year ended June 30, 1920, were valued at $40,388,320, while the exports from the Astoria district for the same period were valued at approximately $7,000,000.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON —is maintained by the state in order that the young people of Oregon may receive, without cost, the benefits of a liberal education.

The University includes the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, the Graduate School, the School of Physical Education, and the Professional Schools of Law, Medicine (at Portland), Architecture, Commerce, Journalism, Education and Music.

High standards of scholarship are made possible by an able faculty, well equipped laboratories and a library of nearly 100,000 volumes.

Supervised athletics are encouraged and every attention given the health and welfare of the students.

With a heightened confidence gained by the recent expression of public support, the University is now entering upon an era of large development and extended usefulness.
