OPERATIONS AT JORDAN CLOSED UNTIL SPRING

Sudden Floods in Thomas Creek Makes Dam Construction Very Risky.

We are informed that construction work at Jordan has ceased for the winter. Thomas creek is very sensitive to heavy rains and flood conditions may be brought about by a few hours of heavy rain.

The dam, the construction of which controls completion of the project, is partly completed, the wings now being in place and of such a substantial nature that it is believed the winter floods will do no damage.

Twice the falsework for the center section has been placed only to be swept out by a sudden rise. So it is considered unsafe to attempt building this section at the present portion of the year.

The flume, save a few feet at the dam, has been completed. The penstock, buildings, etc., at Wilson Park are yet to be constructed.

The work will be commenced next spring just as soon as the weather seems settled.

The second issue of bonds has not yet been sold owing to the present demoralized condition of the bond market. The Tribune suggests that an attempt be made to sell the bonds locally. We believe there is enough of surplus money in this locality to absorb this small issue.

Keith White, a schoolboy, is willing to work mornings, evenings and holidays. He is an exception to most schoolboys who want to devote all their spare time to play. Keith will make a success in life because he desires work by the job rather than by the hour or day.

SANTIAM FARM TOPICS

Our deputy road boss, Uncle Geo. Bilyeu, came out Monday and mustered up six wagons and men to fix our bad piece of road and are now rushing it to a finish when it will be as solid as the tail on a hen.

The last word from Mrs. Newton Crabtree, now at Aberdeen, Wash., is that she is gradually failing from an operation for cancer.

Mrs. Jennie Lovejoy of Dallas is laid up with a fearful cold at her mother's, Mrs. S. W. Gaines.

Ed Kalina has filled his silo with corn. Off of three acres he gathered 300 bushels as fine corn as can be found in Linn county.

Johnnie Griffin of Salem, where he and wife are tenants at the asylum, came out Saturday for a night at the Santiam hospital, returning to Salem Sunday.

George Griffin and Billy Richardson sold to Tom Large some fine beef steers, so Uncle Tom can furnish us with fine beef, as usual.

Lyman Small, who had a finger mashed off, may have to have the crushed bone taken out up to the wrist.

The Santiam Farm is still selling potatoes at $1 a bushel, just as The Tribune had it last week.

We are sorry to learn of the Scio "commissary" getting burned the other night, supposed to be of incendiary origin. As the loss is heavy on Albert Randall and the bank—Albert's loss being six bits and the bank's two bits, we sympathize with them and hope to see a new house on the old location soon.

PIE EATER.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The Scio high school girls played their first game with the alumni Wednesday evening. They have as yet been unable to secure games with outside teams.

Friday evening the boys play at Crabtree and on the 19th at Stayton.

The high school juniors have started work on an exceptionally good play, "And Home Came Ted." This play has been well received. A safe robbery is an exciting feature. The seniors' play follows that of the juniors.

A feature of Tuesday's work at high school was the presentation of interesting and valuable lectures on "Hereditry" by Mrs. Kelley and Mr. Hoskins of the Oregon Social Hygiene Society.

After slightly more than holding their own in the first half of their game with the alumni team Friday evening, the high school team lost the second game of the season 27 to 13. The lineup:

Alumni	High School
K. Sims	C. T. Sims
Wesely	F. White
Winslow	F. Densmore
Long	G. Hiron
Thayer	G. Neal

At The Peoples Theatre

For this week, Saturday and Sunday evenings at the Peoples Theatre "Under Crimson Skies" will be presented.

JUSSERAND TO BRING VIEWS ON COVENANT

Principal Allied Powers Willing to Go Far to Meet Desires for Changes in Treaty.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Jules Jusserand, French ambassador, who went home several months ago on leave, will return to Washington on November 24. He is expected to bring with him the latest views of his government regarding the recasting of the league of nations covenant and to be prepared to discuss the subject with the officials of the Harding administration as soon as they assume office and are ready to proceed.

It has long been known in diplomatic circles here that the principal allied powers were prepared to go far toward meeting any desire of the American government for changes in the covenant, but it has been stated in at least one quarter that such changes must in no case violate the underlying principles.

Diplomats generally do not believe that such changes could be made by reservations as proposed in the so called Lodge plan.

In their opinion amendments would be necessary, requiring the approval of the signatory powers. Another matter that will engage the attention of Ambassador Jusserand is the status of commercial relations between the United States and France under existing treaties.

France last spring gave notice to all powers with which she had commercial treaties of the termination of these conventions. The French government, however, later withdrew the notice as far as it concerned the United States.

France, however, has not abandoned her plan of revising her commercial treaties and is understood to be deferring the opening of negotiations with the United States until after the change of administration in Washington. Before these negotiations are opened M. Jusserand is expected to acquaint himself with the plans of the republican leaders as to tariff revision.

The ambassador is expected to make a close survey of the situation in Washington and report to his government upon the prospects of success in case it should decide to renew its efforts to secure approval by the senate of the treaty which would guarantee protection for France against external aggression for five years.

Wheat is now at the lowest price in Chicago for four years, the present price being $1.77@1.78.

The price of milk, our dairymen say, is below the cost of production.

Koontz & Co.'s store in Halsey was robbed Sunday night of $300 worth of goods. An automobile loaded with four persons, two men and two women, going south, are suspicious.

People will give the republican party credit for advances in prices, but charge up any decline to the democrats.

JORDAN ITEMS

Bells, bells, wedding bells!

Mrs. A. Lackner and daughter were Jordan shoppers Thursday.

T. A. Phillips and family motored to Lebanon Saturday.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas called on Mrs. Wortman Tuesday.

Percy Thomas made a business trip to Salem Monday.

Mike Bilyeu returned from Aberdeen, Wash., Friday, being called there by the death of a relative.

Henry Jungwirth moved to the Dougherty farm Monday, where he will farm the coming season.

The young ladies of the Catholic church gave a marshmallow roast and party at the hall Sunday night. A good attendance and a pleasant evening the result.

John Jungwirth, we understand, has purchased an interest in the Jungwirth Bros. sawmill and will move his family to Gooch so as to be near his business.

Linn Co. Breeders in Pacific Show.

Twenty-three Linn county exhibits made by 20 breeders of purebred livestock will be seen at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition which will throw open its doors Saturday, November 13. This is, it is believed, the largest number that have been entered by any one county in the five states from which exhibits are entered—Washington, Idaho, Montana, California and Oregon.

Following are the Linn county exhibitors:

Red Poll Cattle—F. H. Porter, Halsey.

Jersey Cattle—W. H. McConnell, Shedd; H. M. Palmer, Albany; Henry Stewart, Albany; E. C. Pugh, Shedd; J. C. Brown & Son, Shedd; J. M. Dickson & Son, Shedd.

Holstein Cattle—C. R. Evans, Halsey.

Shorthorn Cattle—J. B. Cornett & Sons, Shedd; C. C. Cole, Albany. Shroshire Sheep—Carl Needham, Albany.

Oxford Sheep—C. P. Kizer, Harrisburg.

Rambouillet Sheep—Ed Schoel, Albany.

Cheviot Sheep—R. A. Templeton, Halsey.

Hampshire Sheep—Carl Needham, Halsey.

Southdown Sheep—Carl Needham, Albany.

Goats—S. F. Zysset, Scio.

Chester White Swine—Ed Schoel, Albany; C. F. Sargent, Scio.

Percheron Horses—D. F. Burge, Albany.

Boys and Girls Clubs—Shedd Calf Club; Anna and Clarice McConnell, Shedd; Edith Pugh, Shedd.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the many friends for their kindness during the illness and death of our wife and mother.

JAPANESE MILITANT SO THEY DECLARE

Battle for Asserted "Rights" Both as to Citizenship and Land to Be Taken to Courts.

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—The Japanese in California do not accept the adoption of the anti alien land law in Tuesday's election as a final defeat. They intend to fight the law in the courts with a view to establishing, in spite of the expression of Californians at the polls, their "right" both to American citizenship and to land.

The following is a part of an editorial from Wednesday's issue of the Japanese New World:

"Fellow countrymen residing in America, we are not a political organization; we have no vote, no money; we are few in numbers; we fought almost single handed against some 40 anti Japanese organizations. The enemy brought every sort of influence to bear to beat us.

"There is no ground for alarm, much less for losing heart, because we have been worsted in the first battle. Countrymen, in the legal battle which is to follow the enemy can use neither brute force nor the power of money. Let them move the great crowds as they will under the leadership of their bravest generals.

"Countrymen, do not yield. Go straight ahead with stubborn courage. This paper yesterday fired the first gun in declaration of legal war. We are determined to continue this war to the bitter end if it takes three years or five years."

Separate Road Districts.

Acting under instructions of the county court County Assessor Van Winkle Monday cut off all the incorporated cities and towns that have not taken advantage of the 1917 law, into separate road districts. The towns and cities affected are Scio, Halsey, Brownsville and Sodaville, Albany, Lebanon and Sweet Home have road districts of their own.

Some time ago Brownsville made application to be a road district. Scio has just made similar application and the court made separate road districts out of all incorporated cities and towns that had not taken advantage of the 1917 law. The effect of this action is to give each incorporated city or town handling of its own road moneys.

Parent-Teachers to Meet.

An enjoyable evening is looked forward to when the Parent-Teacher Association meets next Thursday, November 18. A regular Thanksgiving program is being prepared and all are invited to attend.

William Brenner is a successful dairyman because he knows how to treat cows in order to get results. His herd shows that he does not starve his cows in the name of economy, and in driving them from the barn to pasture they are not chased unnecessarily by dog or man.
