

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES

Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Clark motored to Salem Saturday.

Miss Josie Kotan spent Sunday at home.

From reports frost did not damage the fruit in this locality.

Found—A bunch of keys; at this office; owner call and get it. 36

Several people of Scio and vicinity talked of going to hear the Marshall lecture in Albany Monday night.

Home building in Scio this summer is talked of.

George Bifey has erected a modern chicken house on his property in Scio.

John Wesely has had the front of his theatre building newly painted, adding greatly to its appearance.

Farmers are getting well through with their seeding and a good crop is expected.

It is expected that the Jordan-Scio power line will be in operation in July.

Ansel, the small son of J. A. Burton, is taking treatments under Dr. Hobson at the hospital.

William Shores, who has been in the hospital for the last two weeks, is quite ill.

Jerome Smith of Seapose was looking after business interests in town Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rodgers and Mrs. Anna Shannon were shopping in Albany Saturday.

The Parent-Teacher meeting at the schoolhouse tomorrow (Friday) evening will be well worth attending. Don't miss it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jonas, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Studnicka and Mr. and Mrs. Florian Chytil were guests at the home of John Kotan Sunday.

W. O. Fillpot of Lebanon was in town Monday. He reports that he sold his farm near Lebanon and will move to eastern Oregon.

John Stellmacher found a shoe last week on the road between the Shimanek bridge and Scio and left it at The Tribune office, where the owner may get it.

W. P. Rees, who has been living on the Jorie Gaines place, loaded a car with household goods Sunday preparatory to leaving for eastern Oregon.

Trout fishing is now the order. Some of our local fishermen are violating the law as to the number of trout they catch in one week, also in the size of fish caught.

Mrs. Gladys Smith Denning of Mill City underwent a major operation at the local hospital last Thursday at the hands of Doctors Prill and Davis.

D. C. Thoms, C. W. Bragg, Art Shelton and J. A. C. Brant went to Jefferson Saturday evening to see Jefferson Lodge No. 33, A. F. & A. M., confer the second degree upon two candidates. After the session a lunch was served and the brethren visited a bit before dispersing.

Mrs. Riley Shelton went to Salem intending to return by train Tuesday on the train leaving Salem at 3:50 p. m. Not wishing to miss the train Mrs. Shelton went to the depot at 2 o'clock. Selecting a comfortable seat in a cozy corner she assured herself that she had plenty of time, at least an hour and fifty minutes, to wait for the train. She kept her eye on the clock; noted when the hands pointed to 3 and said to herself "only 50 minutes more," and sat back comfortably to watch the slow-moving hands. The next time she looked up at the clock the hands pointed to 4. Mrs. Shelton started, rubbed her eyes, and on inquiring learned that the train had been gone 10 minutes. If it had been Riley he would have said "17*17*" and so on, but Mrs. Shelton quietly secured a taxi and rode home unperturbed.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Announcement of school events still to occur is made at this time so that in case of conflicts with other organizations adjustments can more readily be made. The following list of events may be revised should it be necessary.

Friday evening, April 22, the Parent-Teacher Association will present Rev. E. B. Lockwood of Jefferson, with his illustrated lecture "A Mar- rion County Man's Experience in 'Y' Work Abroad."

Wednesday, April 27, Mill City high school will present its play "Peter Piper's Troubles."

Friday, April 29, Jefferson high school presents its play at Jefferson while Lebanon's play is on tonight at Lebanon.

On April 30 there will be a track meet here between Scio and Jefferson, and possibly other high schools. This meet is set for the afternoon. It is planned to make a day of it.

In the forenoon the grades of the community will compete and special contests appropriate to picnics arranged. Bring your lunch and spend the day.

The county track meet will be held in Albany May 6 in connection with the Albany College May Day exercises. At least eight schools will be represented: Scio, Crabtree, Shedd, Sweet Home, Mill City, Albany, Brownsville, Lebanon.

On May 13, if the date is open, the school will open its bag of fun by indulging in a country fair. Not only will a rip-roarious program be given, but the hall will be full of stunts from one end to the other, and whether one is witnessing a baby show or throwing at the nigger dolls, a good time is guaranteed.

Unless the date is changed the Scio grade teachers will, on May 20, entertain the public for the last time this year. "Midsummer Eve," the musical treat they are preparing, will probably be the banner performance of the year.

High school commencement is at hand. Baccalaureate Sunday comes May 29 and commencement June 3. Class exercises for both grade and high school graduating classes will be given June 1.

Friday, April 15, Scio sent a team of 7 to the Lebanon track meet and the contest between Scio's 7 men and Lebanon's freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes was like a battle between a lion and a mouse. The mouse, however, in some events ran almost as fast as the lion, but both teams got good practice, thus fulfilling the purpose of the meet. McLain won second in the mile run and demonstrated that next time he will reach the tape as soon as anyone. Hiron won third in the 440 immediately after placing well in the high jump. Neal did creditably in pole vault and broad jump, especially for one with so little chance to learn the form. Hollis was a very close fourth in the 100-yard dash, and Lebanon only kept from losing third in the 220 by throwing him to the ground. White, after working all forenoon, came in a close fourth in a number of events. McKnight and Knauf did well, but Ray was not well; he "forgot and ate a bunch of cake." The 50 yards was run in 5 4-5; the 100 in 10 4-5. The time of other events was slow because of the small circular track.

Henry Lyons, for whom the town of Lyons on the C. & E. was named, died at his home in Albany Sunday.

The Tribune editor is in receipt of an invitation to be present at the presentation of the Kenneth Lucas Fenton memorial law library to the law school of the University of Oregon by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fenton in memory of their son, today, but regrets his inability to attend.

George Stoddard is helping at the bank this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly of Albany spent Sunday with the M. P. Longs.

T. A. Richardson returned from a trip to Portland Tuesday.

County Agent Heyman of Albany spent Monday in Scio. At a meeting in the evening the subject of drainage was discussed.

Mrs. J. F. Wesely and daughter Frances, with Mrs. Oscar Eichinger and daughter Ruth, were the guests of Cecil Eichinger on a motor trip to Albany Saturday.

Joseph Volek and family who have been living in the Will Abbott house this winter, are making preparations to immediately leave for their former home in Orient, South Dakota.

J. B. Cornett of Shedd has been in Scio and vicinity for several days in the interest of co-operative selling of mohair and wool. Mr. Cornett is one of the large breeders of short horn cattle in the Willamette valley.

Indications point to postponed baseball games in Portland this week. McCredie's team should be glad. The more rain the fewer games will be played and the fewer lost games will be charged up against the Portland team.

On Monday of last week as Joe Poindexter was driving his team attached to a sled, one of the runners dropped into a deep rut; the sled tipping over onto Joe. The horses dragged Joe and the sled a short distance before being stopped by Joe's son. Under the care of Dr. Prill Joe is convalescing though pretty badly bruised.

Wheat is now down to a dollar or less per bushel, yet bread is still up to war prices. Somebody is profiteering to the tune of about 100 per cent and it is not our home dealer either.

Vancouver, B. C.—A shipment of five tons of cascara bark from the coast valleys of British Columbia has revealed the fact that the only known supply of this valuable medicinal bark, in large quantities, is in British Columbia, the forests in Washington and Oregon having been completely stripped. Owing to the depredations of Jap loggers, who ship to American and British drug firms, this valuable provincial asset is in danger of being exterminated, and steps are being taken to protect this valuable herb in order that it may be properly cultivated and in time become an established industry of British Columbia.

Don't plant a garden where the sun does not shine for at least five hours each bright day.

The same kind of vegetables should not be grown twice in succession in the same part of the garden, if this can be avoided. If a radically different kind is grown disease spores and insects, though present in the soil, are not so liable to attack the second crop.

There is no general rule regarding the depth of planting, as different kinds of vegetables and different soils necessitate different practices. The smaller the seeds the shallower the covering should be as a rule. In heavy soils the covering should be lighter than in light soils.

When you want your meat supply fresh or cured, also nice fresh lard and compound, call on the Sanitary Market, Shelton & Co., Props.

Oregon Made Home Knitting Yarns.

A great surprise for the home knitters of Oregon, but still a fact. Furthermore, this yarn is absolutely virgin wool yarn; the wool was grown in Linn county, sold by Mr. Senders to the Oregon Worsted Company (mills located at Sellwood), made into worsted yarn by Roy T. Bishop, son of C. P. Bishop, proprietor of the Woolen Mill Store of Salem. Oregon knitters try this yarn out. All colors. 45¢ per ball of 2 ozs. Samples sent on application. Address C. P. Bishop, Box 75, Salem, Oregon.
