Intelligence reached Scio Thursday of last week of the death of John Simpson, who lived here 20 years ago. He married one of the Johnson girls. Death was caused by cancer.

Monday, Mrs. V. J. Philippi and children, Glen and Elma, with Mrs. Mose Titus hid themselves away to Breitenbush where they will breathe the mountain air and indulge in the waters for a month. To keep from getting homesick Mrs. Philippi has ordered The Tribune sent her.

Printer Brant made his usual monthly visit to Salem Saturday afternoon, going by way of Marion and the detour around Turner. The road was so rough and dusty that he returned via Ankeny hill and Jefferson. He says that whichever road one takes he'll wish he'd gone the other.

Unless motorists are careful an accident will happen at Morrison's corner, which drivers cut regardless of the direction they are going. A case in point occurred Monday when a car going east and one going west almost came together head-on in rounding the corner; a collision was only averted by both heading south, with not over six inches space between them.

E. Greathouse met with a near fatal accident while working at the bottom of a 25-foot well on the J. H. Jeely place near Thomas, when the rope broke allowing a bucketful of dirt to fall from the top, striking him on the head. The bucket was dented and several severe gashes cut in Greathouse's scalp. Dr. Prill was called and attended the injured man who is rapidly recovering.

Oregon Made Home Knitting Yarns.
A great surprise for the home knitters of Oregon, but still a fact. Furthermore, this yarn is absolutely virgin wool yarn; the wool was grown in Linn county, sold by Mr. Senders to the Oregon Worsted Company (mills located at Sellwood), made into worsted yarn by Roy T. Bishop, son of C. P. Bishop, proprietor of the Woolen Mill Store of Salem. Oregon knitters try this yarn out. All colors. 45c per ball of 2 ozs. Samples sent on application. Address C. P. Bishop, Box 75, Salem, Oregon.
