SCIO OREGON

Oregon Made Home Knitting Yarns.

A great surprise for the home knitters of Oregon, but still a fact. Furthermore, this yarn is absolutely virgin wool yarn; the wool was grown in Linn county, sold by Mr. Senders to the Oregon Worsted Company (mills located at Sellwood), made into worsted yarn by Roy T. Bishop, son of C. P. Bishop, proprietor of the Woolen Mill Store of Salem. Oregon knitters try this yarn out. All colors, 45¢ per ball of 2 ozs. Samples sent on application. Address C. P. Bishop, Box 75, Salem, Oregon.

Miss Hazel Phillip, who this spring completed high school entered the O. A. C. at Corvallis Monday.

SANTIAM FARM TOPICS

September 20

The old man has lost his best friend on earth—his favorite dog, as he got a bit of salmon. He lived 20 days without swallowing a bite of food, excepting possibly four tablespoons of milk. I am now wanting another dog, rather have a pup. Who has one to spare?

Our long looked for rain came in Sunday morning for the rest of the fall and winter.

M. C. Gaines, of Crabtree, called in Friday for a social chat and to let his father know he was still living.

Grant Teters and wife, of Salem, came up Sunday for a visit with Mrs. Teters grandmother, Mrs. S. W. Gaines. William Byram and wife, of Rodgers mountain, called in Sunday for a supply of tomatoes.

Billy Richards and George Griffin are fitting up their registered sheep for the state fair, as they have some fine ones.

Our school district, number 77, opened Monday morning for a nine-months' term, with Miss Moore, of Albany, as teacher.

Ed Kalina, wife and Miss Prokaska, went to Scio Sunday to take dinner with his mother, Mrs. Nimic.

Our Sunday and Monday rains made the grade over Franklin Butte impassable to Scio. We have to go eight miles around to Scio.

JORDAN ITEMS

September 20

Mrs. Enders was called to Johnny Rowen's Monday morning. She reports a wee baby girl there.

Frank Combs cut ensilage for Mr. Worth Thursday.

Mr. J. Gettis went by stage to Albany Wednesday.

Elmer Ray, who recently underwent a very serious operation at the Scio hospital, is improving nicely.

P. Fiddler motored to Albany Tuesday, returning late same day.

A nice neighborhood party was held Thursday evening at Wilson Park in honor of the Arbuckles, who are soon starting to California. Quite a number were present and all report a pleasant time, despite the coolness of the weather.

Mrs. C. Silbernagel was called to her son John's Sunday night by the sickness of her little granddaughter.

P. Gasman had the misfortune to lose two of his fingers Wednesday while blasting for the rock crusher. Dr. Brewer, of Stayton, was called to dress the wound.

Father Boniface, who has had charge of the Jordan parish, started Monday for a protracted visit in European countries. His pleasing personality and popularity has won him many friends who join in wishing him a safe and happy voyage.

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES

Mrs. Jim Calavan, of Woodburn, formerly a Scio resident, is visiting old friends and relatives in this locality. This is her first visit in a many of years, though she has kept up correspondence with her friends of by-gone days.

We wondered who ordered the frost last week and the rain this week. It's as the fellow says, though, "If it wasn't for the rain there wouldn't be any hay, and if there was no hay we couldn't make any hay while the sun shines".

We recommend William Arnold for the Hall of Fame. Why? He deserves it. Any man that can raise as good watermelons as he can ought to be classed with the best in the world. We know, for Mr. Arnold left one of the best melons in the Tribune office last week we ever ate.

Jack Cook is one of the lucky few who were able to get deliveries on new Fords, and Jack surely was a happy man when he drove the new "fizzy" into the front yard last Friday. He intends to cut it down to a "reg'lar Pullman sleeper" and save hotel bills on their trip to the sunny south.

Frank Shelton, one time of Scio, but now a homesteader near Happy Camp, California, is spending a couple of weeks visiting friends and relatives. Frank says the deer are so tame that they come right up in the bean field and help themselves. They ruined better than half an acre of his land that way, he claims.

J. C. Austin, of Portland, assistant-director of Baptist activities in Oregon, was a Scio visitor the early part of the week. He came to Scio at the urgent request of Rev. Bentley to look over his work in the evangelistic field here. Mr. Austin was enthused over the work done by Rev. Bentley, and highly complimented him and the community on the showing thus far made.

Roe Phillips always has been in the wrong place at the right time, or in the right place at the wrong time, he says. The last time it happened as he was coming home from Albany Saturday night, when an unknown car bumped into him. The driver of the other car got out and picked up the fender he knocked off and wobbled off with a lame wheel, but Roe found nothing wrong with his car and so drove on to Scio in peace.

See Wallace Reid in
"THE HELL DIGGERS"

A story of a land where the vanquished goes down and the game of life is played without rules. A romance of gold and the wilder West, and fighting men, and love. With Wallace Reid in an even ruggeder role than he had in "The Valley of the Giants"
