Oregon Made Home Knitting Yarns.

A great surprise for the home knitters of Oregon, but still a fact. Furthermore, this yarn is absolutely virgin wool yarn; the wool was grown in Linn county, sold by Mr. Senders to the Oregon Worsted Company (mills located at Sellwood), made into worsted yarn by Roy T. Bishop, son of C. P. Bishop, proprietor of the Woolen Mill Store of Salem. Oregon knitters try this yarn out. All colors. 45¢ per ball of 2 ozs. Samples sent on application. Address C. P. Bishop, Box 75, Salem, Oregon.

Those from near here who won prizes at the state fair in the club work were: Angora goats—John Scott, first; Arnold Zysett, second; Lucille Sommer, third; Marian Gilkey, fourth; Lona Zysett, fifth; Roy Scott, sixth; and in Duroc Jersey pigs, Gordon Gilkey, second.

We are glad to report J. G. Holt as being able to get about again.

When returning from Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mespelt met with an accident. In passing several cars one collided with their car, throwing it into a ditch and cutting quite a gash on Mr. Mespelt's arm on a barbed wire fence. Their car was damaged quite a bit, and Mrs. Mespelt's dress was torn in shreds. They were driving slow, which was very fortunate for them.

Baseball is losing its popularity in spite of all that Babe Ruth can do.

What's the use of going to a ball game and not knowing how it's going to come out? No gambling in the sport, no buying teams or anything of that sort. To think that baseball should be so reformed!

They ought to call it just plain ball now, since all the baseness is taken out of it.

The first base was settled by Landis; the second base hasn't been discovered, and the third will be so base it won't be worth bothering with. Just as base as the man who eats onions and then goes to a picture show.

Only trouble is some one might give football the boot and kick it out too.

One auto manufacturer says he makes a car that can be said to be the "Economy Six." Maybe, but we doubt it.

Another claims he makes a car that mechanics and owners have dubbed, rightly so, "the car with a conscience."

We wonder when some artistic manufacturer will announce "the motor with a mind."

We would also suggest that some one call their car "the vehicle with virtue," or "the truck that thinks." Why not some "puncture proof tires that patch themselves?"

A railroad crossing.
A motor car,
A brand new hearse
And there you are.
—Southern Motorist.

Two roads that cross,
Two cars that flew,
A new made grave,
And there you are.
—Oregon Journal.

A right sharp turn,
No change in pace,
A corner cut,
Last resting place.
—Corvallis Gazette-Times.

Some bootleg mixed
With gasoline;
From earth to H—,
A change of scene.
—Oregon Voter.

A corner blind,
A speeding bus,
Two cars that mix—
An awful muss.

Because of the wholesome conditions in Oregon, with little discontent and a satisfied people, the Ku Klux Klan has made little progress in its efforts to perfect an organization, according to a telegram prepared by Governor Olcott and sent to Herbert Bayard Swope, executive editor of the New York World.
