

Scio's Newspaper History

An investigation of the files of papers that have been printed in Scio show that the first newspaper printed here was edited and published by Dr. H. H. King, in 1870. His paper was a 4 column 4 page sheet, with pages about 9 inches wide by 12 inches long. At that time it was one of the few papers published in Oregon, the others being principally the Oregonian, at Portland, the Statesman, at Salem and papers at Oregon City and Astoria. At that time there was no paper in Albany. After about a year and a half, or in the fall of 1871 Mr. King discontinued publication.

Again in 1889, Col. Van Cleave, a veteran newspaper man, came to Scio and established the "Scio Press," which he published for a little over a year. In July 1890 he sold the paper and plant to T. L. Dugger, who published the Press until 1897, when he sold the plant to Albert Cole and Roy Gill.

Cole & Gill published the "Santiam News" for a few months, then suspended publication and left town. During the fall of 1898 Ira Phelps purchased the plant and revived the News. Mr. Phelps carried on publication of the News for about five years, when he became dissatisfied and sold the plant to Don Humphry.

In 1904 T. L. Dugger returned to Scio and again purchased the News, taking immediate possession. He continued to hold the editorial pen until during the summer of 1912 at which time he sold the paper, plant and everything to L. L. Gooding, who sold the plant to L. W. Charles a few weeks later.

Under the management of Charles the News began to deteriorate, and in the fall of 1914 a number of merchants and other interested parties wrote to Mr. Dugger, at Sweet Home and asked him to return. Mr. Charles refused to sell the News, so Dugger set up the Tribune in opposition to him, and in the fall of 1915 the two plants were merged into one paper under the name "Scio Tribune."

Tom Dugger held the Editorial pen from then until the first of September, this year, when the plant was sold to I. V. and F. W. McAdoo, the present publishers.

The newspaper history of Scio is a great deal like that of other cities of this size. Editors come and go, some giving the people an extra good paper, others a comparatively poor one, one remaining throughout a lifetime, others only a few weeks.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that the present publishers offer to their subscribers and advertisers this paper, the first paper of more than eight pages ever printed in Scio.

Five From Scio

Scio is represented by five of the 3,400 students at the O. A. C. this year. Two of these students are registered in agriculture and one each in mechanical engineering, home economics and commerce.

Hazel Lambert is a junior in home economics. She is a member of the home economics club and the Citation committee, a committee of upperclass and sophomore women who aid in maintaining campus traditions among freshman women.

Hazel Phillippi, freshman in commerce, is specializing in office training. Both girls are living in the new woman's dormitory.

Franklin Gilkey is a junior in agriculture. John Clark, also taking agriculture, is registered as a vocational student. James Keller, registered in mechanical engineering, is taking industrial art work.

Stores Displaying Holiday Spirit

Many of the stores are putting a Christmas display in their windows that certainly should attract any prospective purchaser. Cain has a very attractive toy window; Kelly has a window full of books and coyote skins and a number of dolls and playthings for the children. Bartus have a very original tractor display showing the ground covered with snow, a tractor, also covered with snow and Christmas greenery.

Hibler & Gill and J. F. Wesely's windows are also quite attractive in their decorations of red and green and display of Christmas suggestions both for gifts and the dinner, as is also the Hollis confectionery and others.

Cooked Food Sale

The ladies aid of the Baptist church will hold a cooked food sale at Riley Shelton's office Saturday Dec. 17 and 24. On Dec. 24 they will sell dressed chickens in addition to the cooked food. d22

RIVERSIDE LOCALS

December 13

Alvin Gilkey returned from Forest Grove last Tuesday where he has been working for the past two months for C. D. Minton in an apple packing house. Edgar Gilkey returned with him. He had been visiting in Corvallis and several towns on the west side and in Portland.

J. G. Holt has returned from a visit in Salem and Dayton. He has been gone since Thanksgiving day.

A farewell party was held at the W. A. Gilkey home Saturday evening in honor of Winnifred Ferris.

It is reported the child of Lillian Beeme of California, who has been so ill, is improving.

Fred Gooch and family, who have been visiting relatives at Gilkey, left yesterday. Sylvia Gooch, their daughter is studying pharmacy at the O. A. C.

Most of our people attended the William Bartnik funeral in Scio yesterday. The Riverside and Oak View Schools were dismissed so that the teachers and children could pay their last respects to the one who grew up among them and will be missed by all. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

40,000 Christmas Trees Shipped

George A. Walters, of Oakland, Cal., who has been buying fir trees in this community, left for Oakland Saturday to resume his studies at University of California. While here Mr. Walters distributed more than $600 among local people, Eli DeLong, Ed Bilyeu and O. K. Howard getting the most of it. The trees will be sold by a leading Oakland florist among the richer class of people for Christmas decorations.

Eggs Wanted

We buy eggs and pay you top market prices, also we pay you 5c premium for white select. Swift Produce Co.

Bill Kookin of Shelburn, paid a business visit to Scio Monday morning.

SANTIAM FARM TOPICS

December 12

A Ford runabout and a Bug pass the farm daily at about 50 to 60 miles an hour, not having time to watch the road.

Mrs. Paine was summoned to appear in court Monday. She got George Griffin to take her over in his auto, as she has no way of going.

Monday the old man closed out his fine stock of White Leghorns, about 150 chickens, realizing $110, a bargain for anyone wishing a fine lot of hens. That is the way advertising pays in THE TRIBUNE, for one day finished up the sale.

Mr. Powell's milk trucks hauled four coops full of chickens to Scio for generosity Monday.

Arch Ray and Eldon Griffin made a flying run to Albany Tuesday for cheap goods, as Scio was a little up.

Mr. James Dobrovsky, of near Richardson Bridge, returned home Friday, after a two year's absence, bringing with him a fine Buick touring car. He was on the hunt of a better half. Not being able to find one to suit his fancy, decided some sweet Oregon girl was his fancy as he intends to take one in for company in his new car, so now the girls better look out.

John Griffin returned Friday from a trip to Dallas, where he was visiting his sister, Mrs. Lovejoy.

Ed Kalina finished up covering his barn without a drop of rain. He is proud of the job as a boy with a new knife.

Eldon Griffin after spending a week with Lafe Osborn of Sethorn returned to the Santiam hotel as he is looking for a job.

George Griffin is going into the canine business as he has a Scotch Collie female.

The Santiam farm, after placing an ad in the Tribune for fine chickens for sale on Wednesday, received a phone call Thursday evening for $20, worth of chickens which were delivered Saturday morning. Monday the remainder were boxed for market when young Posvar drove in for $54, worth so I sold the remaining 65 in market.

I have learned the Richardsons Gap cheese factory has been sold to Mr. Mueller for $1,100. The sale was a fine thing for the farmers as they could not stick together and make a success of it.

James Milligan and Dave Horschburgh killed some fine hogs Thursday for their own use, as they were young and fat.

Bill Beran and wife, of Rodger Mountain, were down on a run Monday morning for a chat with Ed Kalina and wife as the women are sisters, also bringing Ed some mountain apples.

Joe Kalina was over visiting his brother Ed and failed to bring his wife along as he forgot her and so he was afraid to go home.

Geo. Griffin is making quite a lot of necessary trips to Scio of late. I fear he has wool in his teeth, as he killed a fine mutton last week as he is getting tired of a bachelors life.

The pie eaters good wife visited her sister, Mrs. Rebecca Morris, of Scio, Monday as they are old friends and recognize each other when they meet.

Basketball Game as Seen From Line

(Contributed)

Scio opened the basketball season last Friday night by defeating Jefferson High School by the onesided score of 37 to 5.

Although the game was a walk-away for Scio, it demonstrated that the home team is in need of lots of practice before they will be in number one condition.

Scio's second team would undoubtedly give Jefferson a good game.

It is an old saying that the first team is what the second team makes it. Scio's first team will be an altogether different team after a few hard practices.

Kenneth Simms and Glen Holland proved to be the outstanding stars for Scio, while Lindsey Doty performed likewise for Jefferson.

The lineup was—

Scio	Jefferson
K. Simms	c	Albert
T. Simms	g	Hall
Holland	g	Arnold
White	f	Allen
Wesely	f	Doty

The Scio teams, both boys and girls mix with Halsey in a double header here Friday December 16. A close game is expected for both teams.

Full Program Is Plan

On Wednesday morning a committee of leading farmers of the community met at Riley Shelton's office to consider a program of work for 1922. The following program was adopted and leaders selected:

Drainage, Lester Arnold; Tile Demonstration Farm, Joe Crossman, Lime Demonstration, W. W. Miller; T. B. Eradication, J. F. Parker; Culling Demonstration, Vilas Arnold; Rodent Control, F. T. Thayer; Thistle Control, W. W. Miller.

The community is interested in another drainage project east of the city. It involves the making of an open ditch approximately three-fourths of a mile long to head off the water from the mountain and prevent its flowing over a number of farms. Lester Arnold, who is much interested in the project, is acting as leader.

Rodents and thistles were also regarded as serious pests and the community expects to wage a strenuous warfare against these, under the leadership of F. T. Thayer and W. W. Miller.

N. L. Brown, of Shelburn, made a special trip to town Saturday night in order to be present at a meeting of the Oddfellows, of which he is Noble Grand.

CHEESE FACTORY SOLD

Silverton Man Will Remodel and Start Operation Immediately —To Move Near Plant.

The Richardson Gap cheese factory was sold to Adolph G. Mueller, of Silverton, Saturday morning by order of the board of directors. Mr. Mueller will take immediate possession.

The cheese factory was built several years ago by a company of farmers in the Richardson Gap district, intending to use it as an outlet for their milk supply, and having no one who understood the business sufficiently to handle it successfully, it was closed down and has remained idle during most of the time. The sale to Mr. Mueller for $1,100 was considered very fair by the owners, in as much as the factory will be put into instant use.

Mr. Mueller has announced his intention of making a number of repairs at once, and is moving near his work in order to properly superintend the work. He will probably build a home on the land with the cheese factory this spring.

The factory will start work as soon as repairs and remodeling are finished, and a supply of cream laid in. It is said the factory has a capacity of 10,000 pounds of milk a day.

JORDAN ITEMS

December 12

Miles Marshall, who looks after the T. H. Thomas ranch, was a Jordan shopper Saturday.

Mrs. F. Flatman spent the weekend with friends at Mill City.

Mrs. M. J. Kranz and daughter went by stage Saturday to Scio to have some dental work done.

Mike Bilyeu, while wrestling with a vicious heifer, had the misfortune to get a little the worst of the combat and is now nursing a very sore hand, having been hooked through the palm.

A fine load of Xmas trees passed through our town Saturday enroute to West Scio, which bespeaks the productiveness, in that line, of our wonderful hills and valleys.

Reports say the Jordan Flouring Mill was recently purchased by Mr. Sylvester Bender, who hopes to have the same refitted and in running order within a few months. Here's wishing success.

OREGON MIST.

Well, of all the questions Under the sun, The question confronts me Just this one!

"Who reads the advertisements?" Be patient a minute— Did you ever see anyone Really who didn't?"

Even the parson, perhaps, they say, Had stopped to read one that same day

His wagon went to pieces. His congregation took it in— No, not the wagon, by the way, But what that advertisement Had to say.

From that day on, so the story goes, Both parson and people, let us suppose,

Are stopping to read advertisements still, While climbing life's rugged and tiresome hill.

County Judge W. R. Bilyeu, commissioners Dave Pierce and Tom Butler passed through here last Friday on a tour of the part of the county suffering the most from the flood. They found part of the foundation of the Richardson bridge loosened, but otherwise little damage done near here.

Among the visitors at the Oddfellows meeting Saturday night was Mr. Alexander, a Jefferson business man.
