

His 40th Birthday

Mrs. Leonard Gilkey planned a surprise on her husband last Sunday by inviting in a few friends to help celebrate his 40th birthday. They went to Sunday school and church, as was their regular custom, and about 1:30 the guests began to arrive. He was completely surprised.

Mrs. Gilkey had used the phone as a means of inviting the friends, and did not tell them what was up, so some conceived the idea it was to pick a few strawberries for home use. This proved to be the correct solution, later, but the surprise was the main thing. Strawberries, ice cream and cake was there in abundance, and all proved equal to the occasion. When asked if he had celebrated 40 summers and winters, Mr. Gilkey replied that he had, but Joe Prokop said Mr. Gilkey spent three years in California, and they didn't count. A good time was enjoyed by the following: Mrs. G. H. Smith, W. A. Gilkey and wife, F. W. Haskell and family, I. V. McAdoo and wife and W. F. McAdoo and wife, all wishing Mr. Gilkey many happy returns of the day.

Sunday was also the Gilkey's fifteenth wedding anniversary.

Gymnasium Notes

The following people very kindly have participated in the gymnasium evening shingling class to date: John Kelly, Walter Holeczek, John Couey, Rolla Shelton, Sam Stoller, John Becicka, Maurice White, Keith White, Glen Holland. Others who have assisted recently are: Alvin Merrit, Arnold Zysset, Orville Gilkey, Ralph Hollis, Gail Jones, Vincent McDonald, Frank Bilyeu. Sam Stoller donated hauling, George Bilyeu furnished and drove an automobile for one afternoon, the Tribune published a booster ad and W. L. Cobb hired a man to work for one day. Thank you all, including any who may have been carelessly overlooked. You are certainly kind to help. Just a little more and the roof will be shingled. Wont that be a grand and glorious feeling?

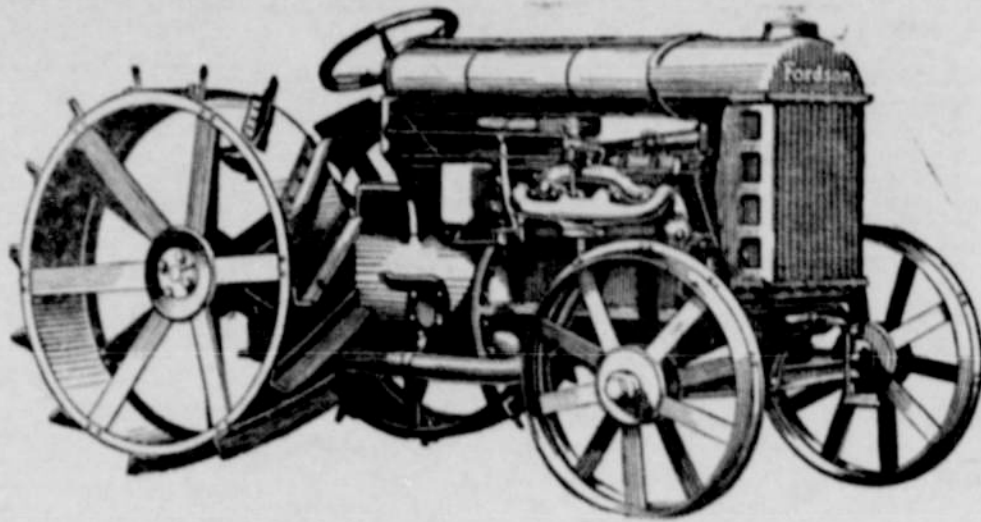

Thanks is also due to John Eagr for a donation of $5 and to John W. Costello for a $1 gift. Perhaps we have omitted mention of other favors. Fred Jones and Henry Hassler began to paint the gym Wednesday morning. The color will be solid ivory. An Oregon paint, the Oregon standard, is being used. Mr. Cain was able to secure a very good introductory price on a highly guaranteed product.

Any who may have had Farmer's Elevator stock or similar papers have probably found their transfer value less than that of Federal Reserve notes; but they served a worthy purpose nevertheless. Some who have thought it necessary to convert gym bonds into cash have been disappointed because prospective bond buyers prefer to purchase directly from the Student Body. This poor salability does not detract from the value of the bonds. They are as good as the promises of those who issue them. The Student Body pays its debts and the Faculty representative whose name appears on the bonds takes pride in the fact that no one has ever lost a penny on a transaction with which he has been connected. It is understood, also, that the school directors will take special pains to be sure that the Student Body meet all obligations. If you have confidence in the organized students, faculty, the directors, the gym committee and school district No 95, you will consider your bonds as good as gold. You are a part of the district. Do you trust yourself?

It is understood that the gym has been insured, not on the basis of what it cost, but according to what it is worth, which is much more than the very economical cost. Every precaution is being taken to protect the community's fine investment.

On Whom Was the Joke?

A happy crowd of young folks, and friends of Della Westenhouse and Elizabeth Swindt, proceeded to hunt them up Sunday night and gave them an old-fashioned charivari, but some how they got houses mixed and spent a lot of energy and time in hearing the echo resound from an empty house. They had just been married and rented a house, and knowing of two or three such places, of course got mixed up and expended their energy in the wrong place. Of course, being young people, and not knowing the word defeat, hunted around until they located the house Dell had rented. Then bedlam broke loose with all its terrors. It is hard to say who the joke was on, and on whom the treats should really fall, but all had a good time. Dell and Elizabeth were married last Wednesday, and immediately rented the house recently vacated by W. F. McAdoo, and which belongs to E. C. Shelton.

The friends of the happy couple wish them long life and prosperity together, and hope they will be as happy in taking care of the little things that come their way as they are now in just beginning to establish a home.

Installs Electric Outfit

C. E. Kendle, the blacksmith, is preparing for the prosperity that is surely but slowly coming this way. He has just installed a new electric blower, electric drill, with a full set and in all has expended about $250 in improvements. He says he is now prepared to handle any machine or wood work that comes his way, large cutting torches assisting in cutting heavy steel materially assisting him. He is keeping up with the times and is making his plant up-to-date.
