

LOCAL BREVITIES

The city council meets tonight in regular session.

Friends of Grandpa Wallace are glad to note he is able to be on the street again after a siege of illness.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church contemplates a bazaar early in December for the benefit of the building fund.

Tom Large expects to leave tomorrow for a several days trip through the valley in a new Ford, which he has just purchased.

W. A. White and wife were in Albany Tuesday, and while there made the announcement they were soon moving to Washougal, Wash.

J. A. Craft was in Albany Tuesday on business.

D. E. Cooper and Mr. Shanks were over from Lebanon last Friday on business.

Ed Chrz' sale last Friday was the biggest of any hereabouts, $2400 being realized.

Otto Mueller and Miss Helen Dobskovsky were married in Albany on Aug. 30 by Judge Olliver.

Lester Bilyeu realized quite handsomely from his disposal sale, but we did not learn the receipts.

The county commissioners request that the bulk of heavy hauling be done now before the fall rains set in and make it necessary to restrict the size of loads. Just a request, so don't force drastic measures.

The painters are busy painting the front of the bank and the other buildings adjacent. It is helping the looks of Main street amazingly. And it is a good thing to do so, that passersby may see a neat little town when they go through.

The Stayton Round-up is now history, and many from here attended, some going over for the entire three day affair. It was good, so reports say, and although the weather and other things was against it, the receipts were as good as could be expected.

Delbert Long and wife, of Pacific City, spent a part of last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Long. Delbert was married in Salem on August 27 to Miss Mamie Von Behren. He will teach in Pacific City the coming year, commencing on the 11th.

See the ad of J. F. Wesely in this issue.

N. I. Morrison was in Portland on business Tuesday.

Joe Oupor and wife spent Sunday in Silverton with friends.

Miss Lois Parrish is visiting her sister, Miss Ina, in The Dalles.

Miss Ellen Tobie, of Greenacres, Wash., is here visiting her brother, Prof. H. E. Tobie and family.

Timely and saving bargains at Wesely's. See ad.

Ernie Smith, of Albany, formerly owner of the Scio hotel, was here Saturday on business.

Business has increased to such an extent for the S. P. Ry. at Shelburn that it has made the station there a telegraph station.

Louis Bowerman and family, of Portland, came up Saturday and remained over Sunday as guests of G. L. Sutherland, and family.

G. W. Dennis, K. B. Dennis and wife, of Kensington, Kan. are here visiting the family of their daughter and sister, Mrs. W. F. Pepper.

The Linn county fair association will erect a school exhibit building on the fair grounds at Albany, and same will be ready for occupancy by fair time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Werst and children, of Hillsboro, came over Saturday and remained over Labor Day with the latter's parents, F. T. Thayer and wife.

Leave your order for Muir Peaches with the Meadow Shade Dairy. There will be but one truck load come in. Do it today, if you want good peaches.

Harrisburg and the state highway commission have at last reached agreement and the work of completing the highway through that little city will proceed with vigor.

You will profit by reading the ad of J. F. Wesely in this issue.

Mrs. Frank Bartlett, of Portland, spent Sunday with the family of her brother, J. D. Densmore. Mr. Densmore took her and his mother to Portland Tuesday, where the mother will visit for a short time.

It is expected the Shimanek bridge will be completed within the next two or three weeks. The lateness of beginning its construction was caused by the inability of the mills having the contract to furnish the timbers earlier.

W. S. Carpenter has just finished installing a complete water system in his home and now can boast of a perfectly sanitary home. He has installed all the necessary plumbing and provided a good septic tank. I. G. Hoagland and son are doing the work.

Frank Gill and wife and Miss Josephine Kotan were guests of the former's brother, R. W. Gill, in Vancouver last Sunday. I. V. McAdoo went down Sunday for his wife, they accompanying him on the trip. The daughter-in-law of Mr. McAdoo is improving nicely and will soon be entirely well.

Mrs. I. V. McAdoo has accepted employment with the U. S. government and will teach sewing and alteration in the Chemawa Indian school this year. This is Mrs. McAdoo's first position of teaching, but she has had much experience in the profession. She began her duties last Monday.

Rev. J. J. Canoles, pastor of the Lebanon Presbyterian church, and well known here, has resigned to accept a call to the Oakland, Calif., church and will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday, Sept. 10th. He leaves shortly thereafter for his new place, where he will have an opportunity to attend the seminary there.

The Hollis Confectionery is now the agent for the Magnolia Laundry in Albany. All persons having laundry are hereby informed that shipments will be made on Tuesdays and returned here on Saturday. May we have your Laundry?

The poultry culling demonstration at Vilas Arnold's last Thursday was well attended and great attention paid to the remarks of A. C. Heyman, the demonstrator. It is said these affairs for this year were ended at this time, and that great good has been accomplished by them.

The federated church is holding regular services each Sunday, and the attendance has been remarkably good during the summer. Dr. W. H. Lee, of Albany, will preach next Sunday and Rev. Eason the following Sunday, the two alternating. The Sunday school is growing and parents are urged to bring or send their children, the school will do them good, and the preaching service will be helpful to all.

The hotel management feels that they owe a vote of thanks to the many friends who have been keeping them in vegetables and fruit, and they want in this way to so express their gratitude. The hotel is gaining in patronage, and yet they are not receiving the support of the home people that they should. Help them prosper, and we will all prosper with them. We need a good hotel, and they are giving us one.

No Understudy and The Singer Barking

By D. O. L. SCOTT, Ph. D.C.

—There was no understudy and the concert singer had a bronchial cold and could only bark. The manager was tearing his hair. In two hours the audience would be assembling and a big money loss was certain, unless—as the singer said, a chiropractor could do some good. It turned out that he could.

THE LOWER NERVE UNDER THE MAGNIFYING GLASS IS PINCHED BY A MISALIGNED JOINT. PINCHED NERVES CANNOT TRANSMIT HEALTHFUL IMPULSES. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTING REMOVES THE PRESSURE. THE UPPER NERVE IS FREE AS NATURE INTENDS.

—Bronchial colds are nuisance enough under any circumstance, but to a singer they are a tragedy. There is an immediate stimulus in most cases following a chiropractic spinal adjustment that gives the relief that was necessary in the singer's case, but ordinarily the victim of bronchial colds has a spinal condition that only time and repeated adjustments can correct. Other methods may give relief, but as long as the spinal nerve is under pressure the cause will not be removed except by chiropractic spinal adjustments.

Singer Twice Rescued by Chiropractic

"Personally, I had two very remarkable demonstrations of chiropractic efficiency in one season. I was quite suddenly attacked by bronchitis in one instance and septic sore throat in the other. Both times, as no preparation for an understudy had been made, I was in despair, but in both cases a few spinal adjustments performed what seemed like miracles and at the performance I was in splendid voice."

—Katherine Noack Figue, in The Chiropractic News, July 8.
