SANTIAM FARM NEWS

Sept. 19

Our community Chest Baby Fair at Scio was a grand success, with a fine display of all kinds of garden vegetables of the best quality, also field and sweet corn galore, considering the dry season it was snuffy grand, with a fair attendance. The forks of the Santiam was well represented as it is the Hub of Linn county. The gymnasium was well decorated by the ladies with all kinds of fine needle work and a profusion of fine flowers, and a bountiful basket dinner for all, as free as the wind.

The community club is doing a grand work for the forks of the Santiam, all ought to put their shoulders to the wheel and push the good work along.

Mr. Clarence Lovejoy and wife, of Dallas, pulled in Saturday for a visit with the Santiam farm, and Mrs. Lovejoy will spend the week with her aged mother Mrs. S. W. Gaines.

The landlord of the Scio hotel called on his road to Crabtree to ask the old man to accompany him for a social chat.

Ed Kalina and wife made a run to Scio Thursday too late to bid her brother Ed goodbye on his departure to Minnesota. Calling in at the hospital a fine baby boy was soon presented to them. Ed is the proudest man you ever met; the wife and baby are doing nicely, Ed has to return to the hospital every day to see his new son.

The old one eyed Pie Eater and Ed Kalina amused themselves by cutting down a bee tree Friday finding bushels of filing black bees and from the appearances they had been there the past 20 years, as the comb was badly decayed black, filled with honey, beebread, rotten wood and worm dust, so we got no honey for our experience of getting 100

Mrs. Flora Smith, of Dallas accompanied Mr. Lovejoy over Saturday for a short visit with her sister Mrs. May Lettenmaier, and father, Newton Crabtree.

Mr. Howard and Mr. Smith, of Crabtree, came up Sunday for a supply of grapes.

The family on the Billy Miller farm came up for a supply of grapes and tomatoes; they are our new neighbors.

Uncle Pitt Wallace and good wife of Lebanon, called in Sunday for a short chat with the old people.

Mrs. Gaines and her daughter Mrs. Lovejoy, paid Mrs. Lettenmaier, a short call Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Clarence Lovejoy and Mrs. Flora Smith, of Dallas, returned home Monday.

Newton Crabtree has his new house finished and will soon move in for a bachelor's life.

With the aid of a Fordson Geo. Bilyeu has about all of his farming done, also David Horsburg will have his plowing and sowing done.

out Sunday for a load of tomatoes; arrived about 8 o'clock, so we went to the tomato patch, so dark we couldn't see the vines and staggered around like a lot of blind mules in a yellow jackets nest.

Mr. Art. Lettenmaier and wife and Newton Crabtree, called Monday for a supply of tomatoes.

PIE EATER

Millard Was There.

At the Community Fair last Saturday, Millard Shelton brought in his Shropshire sheep for exhibition purposes. While there were no provision made for livestock, the management feels Millard is entitled to honorable mention for the interest he is taking in his chosen field, and this is in recognition of that interest. Millard is striving hard to excel in his line, and no doubt will be successful. He is one of the live-wire boys of this community, and there are a number of them.

The Shindler bridge will be finished this week—after many delays on account of timbers, etc., which was unavoidable.
