A lot of people who don't advertise think business is dead.

It is claimed the country people are slow, but they do not get all out of breath chasing the latest fads.

The telephone becomes a household necessity as soon as the young crowd get old enough to make dates.

The railroads aren't selling so many tickets to the cities now as formerly, but they are selling more return trips.

The special bonding bill for Linn county to enable it to pay off some $600,000 in warrants should carry. Vote for it.

The jangling of the heavy trucks over the city paving stones is a mighty poor substitute for the sweet bird songs of the spring in the country towns.

That aristocratic bootlegger in Portland drew a $400 fine, and a compliment from the judge for the good stuff he sells. If you are poor—well, a jail sentence for you, see!

Walter Pierce was in Albany yesterday, for an address before the county fair, and in the evening an elaborate supper was spread, and the newspapermen of this section invited to participate. We understand it is to be in the nature of a booster meeting for Walter in this part of the Willamette valley.

The proponents say no religious issue is involved, but there is, for practically the only schools that would be affected by such legislation would be those maintained by the various churches, Catholic and Protestant. The Oregon statute books have no place for such legislation, and it should be roundly and soundly turned down.—Pend Bulletin.

The Oregon State Federation of Labor refused to have anything to do with the Russian Bolsheviki movement, which was tried to be put over in the form of a resolution, at the Wednesday meeting of last week. The state need feel no anxiety from organized labor in Oregon—it is as sound as old Gibraltar, and will remain so as long as Otto Hartwig is its president and E. J. Stack its secretary.

The compulsory educational bill is bad from its beginning to its end. It has nothing to offer that will take Oregon a step forward, but does tend to send its progress to the scrap heap. It is religious, despite the denials of some of its sponsors, and religion has no place in politics. If the bill should carry it would entail about a million dollars of added taxes to the people, because it would throw about 9,000 pupils into the public schools, which are already taxed to their limit, for which additional buildings would have to be erected. Then would come the necessary teachers to instruct these pupils, which would also carry a considerable amount of added salaries, and these put together entails enormous work, much money, and the unknown future of the turmoil that would follow. Vote "NO" and be safe.

SAYS WE LIED,

The Turner Tribune, the editor of which signs his name as Pearl P. Hassler, in its last issue, says the Scio Tribune has started the usual campaign lie, when it said that K. K. Kubli and Gov. Olcott were stopped by a traffic cop in Albany and were allowed to go on their way because of their prominence. The Scio Tribune did not lie because of its desire to start a campaign untruth, because it has no interest in either Kubli or Olcott, no matter what their politics may be or have been. We merely pointed to a fact as published in the daily press and said that such episodes as this caused the people to look askance at the laws and feel that they had as much right to break them and go free as did the lawmakers and the chief executives.

We published the denial of Mr. Olcott, and was glad to do so, for the reason that he said he was not in Kubli's car and had not been in it. It proved that the reports in the daily press upon events of this kind are unreliable, and if unreliable in incidents of a local nature, we are more than ever constrained to believe that the great bulk of the information broadcasted by them is also unreliable, and sooner or later their great prestige will be lost. We still maintain that Kubli should have been arrested and those with him, no matter if the governor was or was not in the car. Too much breaking of the law by the lawmaker and enforcers have been in vogue in times past, and a good time to put a stop to them is now—later will not do.

The Turner Tribune is so intensely partisan that it can see nothing bad in a man of its political faith. He is the kind of an editor that urges the election of a yellow dog on a ticket if it claims to be of its political faith. He is the kind of an editor that sees no further than his nose in issues that are paramount if his party takes the opposite side, no matter how good the measure or the man may be. And he is the sort of editor who is always ready to say the other fellow lied when it is against any man or measure he or his paper espouses. He is intensely partisan, self-appointed to correct any statement by the "gentlemanly" argument that the other is a liar when he says something against a person or a measure he is for. He has branded himself as a Moses that leads to disruption rather than to cooperation. This paper has no interest in the election of Olcott, or his defeat, and have said nothing against him, and we have stood for the same issues on the educational bill as he, taking the same stand that religious matters have no place in politics. Before the statement is made that this paper has started a campaign lie to defeat Olcott, the Turner Tribune should have taken the trouble to find out where the Scio Tribune got its information and if the information was intended to to play politics. We still maintain that no matter how high or low, the law must have the same effect upon the individual.
