

LOCAL BREVITIES

Chris Bilyeu was a state fair visitor Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. I. Morrison spent Saturday at the state fair.

Wm. Brenner, wife and Miss Vella were business visitors in Albany Albany Monday.

The total receipts of the state fair was more than $63,000, so it has been announced.

S. M. Couey, of Oregon City, was visiting his brother, J. B. Couey, during the week end.

O. K. Howard and family are spending a few weeks at Hood River during the apple season.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bilyeu, Mrs. Frank Gill and Ray McKnight were state fair visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Florence Everett spent Monday in Albany, some say to see that the county fair got its right start.

Mrs. Clara Griffin returned home Monday from an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Sturges, at Suntex, Oregon.

Good news for the housewife—Sugar going up 15c per sack. It isn't high enough yet, and will go higher, we opine.

Linn county boys and girls clubs were among the ten counties winning cash prizes at the fair. The clubs will receive $100.

Mrs. Vladie Dvorak and babe were able to leave the hospital yesterday and return home. They have named the baby Dorothy Frances.

The county fair opened Tuesday and quite a number went from here for the opening. Rev. Steder, of Jordan, was named as the official representative of the Forks of the Santiam Community Club, and was present yesterday.

Senator Borah pleads for the liberation of the poor, and scores the present administration for liberating the rich, who are and have been political prisoners since the late war. He also pleads for absolute free speech. At last one man has the courage of his convictions.

The supreme court has decreed that the Portland Exposition tax can go on the ballot. So let her have the exposition if she wants it—it will help the state as much as Portland. If you have not registered to vote yet, do it before Saturday, as that is the last day to register.

The workmen on the heating plant at the high school came up from Salem Monday and finished the job. An addition of 7 feet was made to the smoke stack, and new downspouts put in the radiators to remove the water from the pipes. A roof is badly needed and also gutters.

Henry Senz was in Albany Thursday on business.

John Jiroch and family attended the state fair Friday.

Miss Josie Kotan and mother visited the state fair Saturday.

Miss Lydia Prospal, of Portland, is visiting her parents this week.

Vilas Phillippi went to Ashland the first of last week on business.

30x3 1/2 Cord tire $12.45. We give you a tube free. Bartu Motor Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gill, and Josie Kotan, spent Sunday at the Kotan ranch.

Clyde Thomas made a trip, to Albany Thursday and transacted business.

Misses Vella Brenner and Doris Weddle, motored down to the state fair Friday.

J. D. Densmore and wife went to Salem Friday evening on business, returning the same night.

Mrs. C. A. Everett returned home from Kalama where she has been visiting at the Walter Bilyeu home.

Ivan Balschweid, Walter Brodie, Glenn Cobb and Henry Luckenbach were state fair visitors Wednesday.

Otto Bilyeu and family have returned from the Pankalla hop yards, where they have been for the past three weeks.

Charley Warner, who has been looking after the Phillippi & Warner band of sheep near Roseburg, came up Wednesday on a short business visit.

The public sale of Spencer Long on the 26th was quite well attended, notwithstanding the heavy rain that was coming down, and fair prices were realized for the offerings.

Riley Shelton purchased a small interest in the S. P. Friday and went to the Fair, at Salem. It was only a ticket, but the arrangement now makes it handy to travel by train and get back the same day.

R. M. Raymond, a former resident of this community, but who is now in the plumbing business in Portland, came up last Wednesday to look after business here. He returned to his home Thursday afternoon.

Judge TouVelle, of Ashland, has been named by the democratic state central committee as its standard bearer for the office of state treasurer, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. Milton A. Miller on account of ill health.

Dean Morris made a short visit to his home Friday returning to the state fair same day. Dean is copping off some good premiums with his dogs, letting the visitors at the fair know that there are some fine dogs in the Forks of the Santiam.

Roll Morris, who returned from the Pendleton Round Up last week, reports a wonderful show this year, but a fellow has to pay for all he sees—$2.25 for a grandstand seat. The only redeeming feature is that the restaurants only boosted their prices 20%.

The rains of the past week have put the smile on the faces of the stockmen and sheep men, as well as the farmer. It was badly needed, and would have been more greatly appreciated had it come several weeks earlier. But we must take the weather as it comes.

N. I. Morrison, Chris Bilyeu, E. G. Arnold and J. S. Sticha went to Lebanon Friday night to attend a meeting in the interest of the education bill, known as the compulsory educational measure, to be voted on at the November election. It is quite probable, so Mr. Morrison states, that a meeting will be held here in the near future when a prominent speaker will be present.

The steeple on the Baptist church has been treated to a new coat of shingles, the work having been done Saturday.

There is a lot of repair work on farm homes and outbuildings going on all over this district. This is one way of putting money into circulation, and a good way, too.

A. H. Lee, secretary of the State Fair Board, tendered his resignation last Saturday, to take effect at midnight, but was persuaded to remain on the job until the books for this year's fair had been cleared. Mr. Lee consented, and the resignation will be accepted on Oct. 14, it is said. Strained relations, according to the daily press, is the cause of the resignation. It seems with politics, that when a man makes good there are those who throw monkey wrenches in the wheel and stop his further progress. This is a case.

C. E. Kendle received a letter from Ed Chrz last Saturday in which he stated it took him ten days to reach Orient, S. D., and while going through Montana experienced some of the worst roads he ever traveled. On Sept. 26 he stayed with the Voleck's, who visited here a year or more ago, and the next day went out hunting prairie chickens with the Tucek boys. On the 25th a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tucek, and Ed says tell the old man Tucek he is now grandpa. He said the weather in South Dakota was fine, about like it was in Scio when he left.
