

THE SCIO TRIBUNE

VOL. XXVI. NO. 11.

SCIO, LINN COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1922

$1.75 THE YEAR

UnAmerican!

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, one of America's great institutions of learning, in a letter to the general Protestant and Non-Sectarian Committee for Freedom in Education, with headquarters in the Consolidated Securities building, Portland, voices the universal sentiment of educators thus far heard from when he says:

"This bill (compulsory education, so-called) should be entitled, 'A Bill to Make Impossible the American System of Education in Oregon!' It is fundamentally un-American in its principle and purpose and should be overwhelmingly defeated."

Many college and university presidents, after reading the bill, which is to be voted upon November 7, have written the committee, severely condemning the measure, according to Joseph A. Hill, principal of Hill Military academy, committee executive secretary.

Next Monday Night

The next meeting of the Scio Business Men's Association will be held at the Scio hotel next Monday night at 7 o'clock, and the committee appointed to arrange for the meeting will no doubt have some surprises for the members. At this meeting the permanent officers will be elected, and also the by-laws adopted. It is quite probable the business men will attend the Community Club meeting on the following Monday night.

Come Out Tonight

Father Rubis, of Lebanon, will speak at the Z. C. B. J. hall in behalf of the opponents of the Compulsory Educational bill on the ballot for acceptance or rejection at the election on Nov. 7. Father Rubis is said to be a splendid speaker and will have some excellent things to say against the measure. The committee having the same in charge say it is free and everybody welcome.

Notice to Odd Fellows

All Odd Fellows are requested to be present at the I. O. O. F. hall on Saturday night, Oct. 23. All come that can make it convenient. A surprise awaits you.

Meets in Scio

The next meeting of the Forks of the Santiam Community Club will be held in Scio on Monday, Nov. 6, the night before the election. It is hoped that every member and every friend of the Club will make it a point to be present.

An invitation has been extended to Gov. Olcott to be with us on that night, and also an open invitation to each candidate in Linn county to be present has been extended. A place on the program will be arranged for them, and the officers know that they and the people in general want to see and hear what these candidates promise to do if elected.

It will be definitely known by next Saturday as to whether Gov. Olcott can be with us, as he is now on a speaking tour in Western Oregon, and his private secretary promised to take the matter up with him on his return to his office next Saturday and let us know. But come.

High School Notes

A student body meeting was called to order Tuesday afternoon. The editor, manager and the rest of the Sphinx Staff were appointed. Dellarea Sutherland was elected editor-in-chief, and Glen Holland business manager.

Leslie Thayer, advertising manager, of the Sphinx Staff is busy soliciting advertisements for the paper which is to be published Nov. 6.

Coele Zysset, a last year's graduate of Scio Hi., visited school Monday afternoon.

A pep meeting was held on the school grounds Monday evening. Most all the students were out and much interest was taken. Under the supervision of their yell leader Dellarea Sutherland, the students serpentine around the grounds and in the gymnasium. Johnnie Wesely was appointed assistant yell leader at the time.

Professor Tobie spread the glad tidings to the Junior English class Wednesday, that a fifteen hundred word history must be written about the gymnasium.

The committee which was to purchase a sweater for the yell leader was dismissed by the chairman, in meeting held by the Student Body last Thursday. Bobbie Thayer, Glenn Holland and Ray McKnight were chosen as a new committee.

The students have endorsed Andrew Gump for congress.

A Student-Teacher council meeting was held Wednesday afternoon.

Earnest Tuck, a member of our Junior class, is suffering from an attack of heart trouble.

It was rumored in assembly Tuesday morning that two of our students had quit and entered Albany college, but we hope this is not true.

A Man's Prayer

Grant me a man's amount of common sense and the ability to use it. Teach me the value of the Golden Rule. Keep my eyes open for a chance to give another fellow a lift, and my ears dead to the tempting of evil gains. Make me to realize mine own faults; blind me to the sins and human errors of my fellowmen. Dim the bright lights, keep my menu card of life free from bubbling wine and women vamps. Guide me to three square meals a day, honestly earned, and help me to live so that I may lie down at night with the door unlocked and a conscience that will let me sleep.

Bless me with a sense of humor to see the other fellow's joke and make me a good listener. Give me an understanding heart, free from prejudice, sensitive and sympathetic to the troubles of others. Help me to keep my feet anchored on the narrow path, with my eyes ahead, away from the other fellows job—and his wife. Give me a healthy body and the gray matter to appreciate it. Help me to live so that in the end, when the music plays soft, the flowers many and the horses tread lightly out front, I may look back over the past with no regrets of having gaffed the innocent; and lastly, give the marble carver a short job. Let the inscription read, "A MAN."

A Great Girl Rider

Doris McCleave is probably better known to the general public than any other show horse rider in the west. Her youth, her magnificent riding and daring combine to make her an idol with the people. The picture shows her on her horse "Victoria," going over the bars. She will be at the Night Horse Show of the Pacific International Live Stock Exposition, Portland, Ore., November 4-11.

The Night Horse Show became so popular last year that three matinees were added to the program, and they will be continued this year, of course.

Over $16,000 is offered in premiums for the Horse Show alone and seven $1000 stakes are offered—almost unprecedented in horse show annals. One of these is for the heavy horse driving contest, an event of wild excitement among the horsemen. The horse show this year is replete with color and action. Some of the finest horses of the entire country will show their paces in the big arena, and some of the most enthusiastic horsemen, drivers and riders will exhibit the paces of the prancing beauties of the equine world.

Celebrated Birthday

Mrs. W. S. Carpenter was 76 years young yesterday, and a number of her relatives gave her a birthday dinner in honor of the event. It was a complete surprise, and Mrs. Carpenter thoroughly enjoyed the affair. Those present were: Fred Roadarmel and family, Rolla Shelton and family and Ed Holland and wife, and Miss Skei, a teacher in the public schools.

Still in the Race

The report that I have withdrawn from the race for Sheriff of Linn County is untrue.

I am in said race expecting to stay to the finish and hope the finish won't be my finish, whichever way it ends.

I solicit the support of Linn County voters and promise to deal justly with all, so far as may lie in my power after election.

Yours for justice,
O. E. Eichinger,
Scio, Oregon.

Every user of electric lights in Scio is entitled to one free porch light. Wouldn't it be wonderful if every business man had their free light burning in front of their business house. It would make some Main street we'll say.

Mrs. Edwin Holland announces she still has room for a few more pupils who want music lessons on the piano. For further particulars, see Mrs. Holland.

YOU!

You, voters of Oregon, must decide November 7 whether or not you want the state to take away your God-given, American right and privilege to educate your child as you deem best.

An initiative bill, sponsored by a certain element of our citizens, known as the compulsory education measure, will be on the ballot this general election. It purports to compel children up to certain years to go to school (a very good thing in itself), but it goes so far as to tell you that you must NOT send them to any private school.

There is already a compulsory education law on our statute books that is working well. It, however, gives you the right to say whether your child shall be educated in the public or a private school. YOU decide; but this new bill denies YOU the right to determine this question.

Do YOU want such a law as this in Oregon?

Bucking Contest

You cannot afford to miss the bucking contest at Scio Sunday, Oct. 29. Broncho busting, bull riding cow-boys, novelty races and trick riding. Special feature: Exhibition riding by one of the lady champion bucking horse riders of the world. Show starts at 2 p. m., at old race track, Scio, Oregon.

Laugh

Build for yourself a strong box,
Fashion each part with care;
Fit it with a hasp and padlock,
Put all your troubles there,
Hide therein all your failures,
And each bitter cup you quaff,
Lock all heartaches within it,
Then—
SIT ON THE LID AND LAUGH.

Tell no one of its contents,
Never its secrets share,
Drop in your cares and your worries,
Keep them forever there,
Hide them from sight so completely
The world will never dream half;
Fasten the top down securely,
Then—
SIT ON THE LID AND LAUGH.

Millard Shelton says he is a firm believer in the lucky number "13", as last year he won 13 ribbons and this year he won 13 blue ribbons. The ribbons of last year constituted all the colors. He says he won $26 at the county fair, thus doubling the lucky 13. Besides the 13 blue ribbons he also received two red, and two white and a fourth and a fifth ribbon. Like Wilson, let the 13 come as often is possible with him, he says. He is raring to go to Portland, and says he will have another blue ribbon on his return. He won $18 at the state fair and a trip to the O. A. C., as well as $9 more from the county fair.

The next holiday is Armistice day, and soon thereafter will come Thanksgiving. Two big holidays in the one month, which means that November is well blessed so far as time off from labor. Armistice day is on the 11th and Thanksgiving comes on the 30th.
