SANTIAM FARM NEWS

Nov. 7

Ed Kalina will finish digging his potatoes today. He will have 1000 to 1200 bushels of as fine potatoes as any one could wish, some weighing as much as four pounds. One will make enough for a meal for any family.

John Griffin is patriotic, as he went to Salem to vote, returning home today.

The Pie Eater and good wife, with Ed Kalina, made a flying run up to Providence yesterday to vote, making the trip in one hour and ten minutes. We then paid a visit to Scio, calling at the Bummer's hotel for dinner, faring luxuriously.

The old man has been amusing himself the past seven days by helping Ed Kalina dig his potatoes. He has fine health now, after being punched in the back a few times by a chiropractor. I now have no use for a cane.

The old man bought another fine dog from Chris Bilyeu while in Scio Tuesday, a fox terrier.

Our heavy thunder and hail storm of Tuesday came as a surprise to all of us. It was the worst in many years.

There are few families cut off on this side of the Crabtree creek, which is quite a distance. The roads are in a fearful condition, and we wish them changed so we can go to Scio.

Uncle Tom Small made a trip to near Albany yesterday for one of his daughters, and also to Shinders Bridge, for another, so they could vote. He sure got a ten cent move on his tin lizzie.

Ed Kalina has been giving four bushels of potatoes a day for diggers and 5c a sack for pickers.
