

GILKEY STATION

Jan. 2

Leo Zeller has returned from Hay-creek, Crook Co. where he went Dec. 24 to visit his sister, Mrs. Cynthia Galloway. This was Mr. Zeller's first trip to that country and he enjoyed his visit immensely.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Weinberg is very ill. Another child has been ill. Dr. VanWinkle, of Jefferson, has been called to attend them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shepherd, attended the funeral of W. W. Francis in Albany Tuesday.

W. A. Gilkey and wife attended the Nellie Barnes funeral in Scio Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Holt, Will and J. G. Holt visited the Wm. Nicolson and Grant Holt families in Salem Wednesday.

Gordon Gilkey has shipped two registered pigs to Brougner Bros. at Sisters, Oregon, as a result from his ad in the Scio Tribune.

Although Mrs. Henry Preever moved out of the neighborhood some months ago she still has a kindly feeling for her old friends, particularly the women's club of this place, which she entertained at her home near Crabtree Thursday afternoon. Despite the wind and rain seventeen women journeyed there and they did not mind the storm without there was peace and quietness within. Mrs. S. B. Holt, the new President, took the chair, and after the usual order of business the hostess entertained with a spider web programme. Each member took a thread from the web on the wall and followed it to its end, on which was found a peanut containing a note, telling them some stunt to perform. 'Twas there the fun began at story telling, reciting, reading, singing, and making music. The most popular of which was a tune played on a comb. A New Year's gift was sent to each member from a former, and never to be forgotten member, Mrs. Mary Ellwood, of Malta, Ill. The hostess served delicious hot buns, "The kind mother used to make," and coffee.

Mrs. Minnie Smith attended from Albany, and Mrs. J. K. Reiley was an invited guest.

Officers Installed

On last Friday night Leodas Temple No. 20, Pythian Sisters, installed their officers for the ensuing year. Members of Leone Rebekah lodge were guests.

The following were installed by installing officer, Rose Chromy: P. C., Caroline Shelton; M. E. C., Audry Hobson; E. S., Audie Myers; E. J., Vella Brenner; Manager, Esther

Holland; M. of R. and C., Vivian Bilyeu; M. of F., Eulela Arnold; Protector, Cora Bragg; Guard, Zeila Ballin.

After the installation ceremony a program was rendered. J. S. Sticha and Ethel Arnold played a saxophone duet which was so much enjoyed that they gave an encore. Mrs. Esther Holland played a piano solo and she also gave an encore. A recitation by Harry Wesely was an enjoyable number.

In the contests Mrs. Hackleman and Mrs. Dr. Browne won the prizes. At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the committee.

SANTIAM FARM NEWS

Jan. 9

G. A. Griffin went up to Hamilton creek Friday to spend the night with Oscar Fillpot and family. He returned Saturday morning in a fearful rainstorm.

Mrs. S. W. Gaines has received a letter from her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Lovejoy, of Dallas, saying that her husband was laid up with a fearful cold and fever.

Because of the high waters on Crabtree creek Saturday and Sunday, our regular milk haulers failed to appear, so John Wesely came out from Scio in his small trucks and hauled our milk to the condensery.

Our neighbor, Art Lettenmaier, has been having a good time of it for the past day or two ditching the water from the side of our new road, as the rains have caused the sides to slide into it, thus endangering the road. He sticks to it like a flea to a dog—rain or shine.

Art Ray and George Griffin made a run for Albany Saturday, getting as far as Scio, where they called in on our telephone meeting. Our dues have been reduced to $5 a year—some help on our expenses.

David Horsburgh and family were watr bound for the past two days, as the country is all under water.

We were sorry to learn that Mrs. Johnny Hoffman, of Crabtree, had sold her stock of dry goods, but we are glad that "Billy" Turnidge, who founded the town of Crabtree, is the purchaser.

M. C. Gaines, of Crabtree, called in Thursday to see his old father for a few minutes. Reports his wife has been son better for the past week.

The old Pie Eater was confined to his home for five days the past week with a fearful cold and bronchitis on the lungs. He felt for a time that he was slated for the bone yard.

A good friend and school mate called in Sunday week to see the Pie Eater, and also solicit shares in his mine. He invited the old man up to church, as it was nearby, and the old man feeling quite poorly, declined the invitation, so he went up to the church and reported the Pie Eater as a lost dog without a bell on, as he is taking no stock in church or mine.

David Horsburgh and Tom Small have been blasting and opening up the mouth of the new canal so as to direct the current under the bridge.

There was an appointment for church services here Sunday, but on account of the high water it failed to materialize. Our deacons failed to convene Monday.
