The new warden at the pen was a former Linn county man, and of course ought to make good—all Linn county men do.

Since the school question has been settled, quiet reigns supreme. Let's agitate a bigger and better Scio with just as much vim as we tackled the school question, and then we will arrive somewhere.

The people now have an opportunity to watch the lawmakers. They are in session in practically every state in the Union. They go to the legislature as men, but leave there as kids—and no real constructive measures will be enacted.

That was some disappointment to the basketball fans Wednesday night, when the players from the deaf school at Salem failed to appear—and it was a good sized crowd that was out. However, a game was staged between a picked quintet and the high school boys, and it was interesting from start to finish.

The Scio electric plant, though small as compared to some others in the valley, was the first in the field to give service after a forced shutdown occasioned by the flood. Stayton was without lights for over a week, we only were in the dark three nights. Yes, Scio has the world beat—if we can call the valley the world—and we have proved it.

The damage by the high waters of last week should give us a lesson in preparedness. Why not now, while it is fresh in our minds, give some thought to stopping the overflow into Scio by adequately diking the canal and further up the stream dike where it is needed. It will take a little money, but it will give greater security to all property owners.

Now that diplomacy has been shot all to pieces in Europe, and our diplomats have also been found wanting, it would be well for these same fellows to try real common horse sense, and if they do, all these perplexing problems will melt away like so much snow. The great difficulty in the settlement of most national and international problems is that honesty is lacking upon the part of all participants, and the use of horse sense will bring the best in all out in the open.

Representative S. H. Goin received only three committee assignments, no chairmanship, and they are Commerce and Navigation, Legislation and Livestock, while A. K. McMahan received the chairmanship Cities and Towns, and membership on two other committees: public Institutions and Revision of Laws. Goin should have been on the Agriculture committee, as he is well qualified by long experience to have rendered valued aid to the committee. In the senate, Mr. Gariand failed of a chairmanship, but landed on the following committees:—County and State Officers Education, Judiciary, Military, Public Lands, Railroads and Utilities.

The Scio school board has resigned because the voters cut the budget which in turn will cut the salaries of all the teachers. That's small town stuff. Scio is old enough to be over her puppy days.—Harrisburg Bulletin.

Probably Harrisburg has gone through the same process, and thus the Bulletin is qualified to speak of "puppy love." Anyhow 'tis done, and Scio and her schools still live—puppy love or not.

According to the papers, terms of settlement have been reached between the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific whereby the former retains control of the Central Pacific, over which there has been so much controversy. It is understood that the Natron cut-off will be built and other construction work taken up when weather conditions warrant. If the newspaper story is correct, Oregon ought to have an era of prosperity such as it has never known. It is good news anyway, and we are glad of the settlement.

OREGON has gotten into the limelight with atrocities committed by masked men. A woman, young and pretty, Mrs. Standish, of Tillamook county, had the sensation of having her breast branded by masked men last fall—a most terrible act to be committed in a most enlightened state. What do we have courts for, and why do not laws be enforced? Probably the only reason to be given is because men on the juries and in the seats of justice fail to do their bounden duty when called upon. When we can render equal justice in all cases without fear or favor, just so soon will justice be meted out—not before. The acts of these masked men cannot be condoned, and should not be allowed to be repeated.

VETOES PENSION BILL

President Harding has vetoed the pension bill passed by the senate and house, which gave a minimum pension of $72 a month to old soldiers and $50 to widows of soldiers. The old rate of pay now remains the same. The president gave as his reason for vetoing the measure that it opened the way for marriages to all soldiers in large numbers so as to get the pension, and therefore would fail in the intentions of the law as enacted by congress.

WHY THIS DISPARITY?

The Treasury Department urges people generally to look up their holdings of the 1918 War Savings Certificate Stamps and make early presentation of them, either for cash redemption or for exchange into the new Treasury Savings Certificates which are on sale everywhere in convenient denominations and on attractive terms.

Exchanges of the matured 1918 War Savings Certificate Stamps for these new Treasury Savings Certificates may still be made, without loss of interest, as of January 1, 1923, but this privilege stops January 15, 1923, and after that date exchanges can only be made as of the actual date of exchange.

As the 4% Treasury Savings Certificates are sold at a discount in denominations as low as $25 for $20.50 and $100 for $82; they are most convenient for small investors, while the new issue of 4½% Treasury Notes described above are for the larger investors.

Ten Demands

Rule I. Don't lie—it wastes my time and yours. I'm sure to catch you in the end, and that's the wrong end.

II. Watch your work, not the clock. A long day's work makes a long day short, and a short day's work makes my face long.

III. Give me more than I expect and I'll pay you more than you expect. I can afford to increase your pay if you can increase my profit.

IV. You owe so much to yourself that you can't afford to owe anybody else. Keep out of debt or keep out of my shop.

V. Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men (like good women) can see temptation when they meet it.

VI. Mind your own business and in time you'll have a business of your own to mind.

VII. Don't do anything which hurts your self-respect. The employee, who is willing to steal for me, is capable of stealing from me.

VIII. It's none of my business what you do at night. But if dissipation affects what you do the next day, and you do half as much as I demand, you'll last half as long as you hoped.

IX. Don't tell me what I'd like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a vault to my vanity, but I need one for my money.

X. Don't kick, if I kick; if you're worth while correcting, you're worth while keeping. I don't waste time cutting specks out of rotten apples.

And With Our Money

Mr. Editor:

I am not certain that the free distribution of vegetable and flower seeds is a wise expenditure of public funds, but Congress has authorized it and a limited supply has been allotted to me for such distribution.

It is my desire that everyone in Oregon that wants some of these shall have them, and none wasted by sending them out promiscuously to people that do not want them and will not use them.

Will you kindly advise all of your readers that desire some of these seeds to write me and I will gladly send them.

Most sincerely yours,
Robt. N. Stanfield
United States Senator.

From Minnesota

There are more and more inquiries from points all over the country about this part of Oregon, and the following letter is just a sample. Would it not be a good idea for every resident of the Forks of the Santiam to get a few of the Community Club folders and mail them out to friends and prospective settlers? They are free. But here is the last letter:

Denham, Minn.
Jan. 3, 1921.

Dear Sir:
Please send me sample copy of your newspaper Santiam News. As I would like to get some information from it around Scio as I would like to go up there and buy land.
Yours Truly,
Joseph Dobesh,
Denham, Minn.
