Three Months Old Babe Dies

Last Friday morning about two o'clock, as near as it can be figured out, Evalyn May, the little three months old babe of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McDonald, passed away, presumably from heart failure, with no warning to the grief-stricken parents. A little before that time the mother had been up and attended to the little tot, tucked it away comfortably in its bed covers, and went back to bed. When they arose in the morning they proceeded with breakfast and not hearing any sound from the little one went to investigate and found that life was extinct. The doctor was immediately called and from the best he could figure out the babe had died shortly after the time the mother had waited upon it. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the parents in this sad affliction. The funeral was held Saturday morning at Franklin Butte cemetery, where the burial took place, Rev. W. H. McLain officiating.

Women From Ireland

Mrs. Hanna Sheey Skeffington, Miss Kathleen Boland and Miss Lynda Kearns, representing the Irish Women's Mission in America, will arrive in Portland next Sunday, Feb. 25, and will address a public mass meeting that evening in Hibernia hall, 340 Russell street, at 8 o'clock that evening. A special conference will be held between the ladies and friends of Ireland in the Portland hotel at 2 p. m., to which a cordial invitation is extended all friends of Ireland to be present and personally meet the delegates. The ladies are said to be fluent speakers. The United Irish Societies of Portland are in charge of arrangements.

It is of very great interest to learn that on Feb. 2, Dr. Simons N. Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, announced the discovery of the cause of influenza. Investigations have resulted in discovering a previously unknown, very minute germ which is present in the nose and throat the first 36 hours of an influenzal infection. This small bacillus has never been found in healthy persons, or those sick from other diseases.

All-Star Team Chosen

As a result of the recent county basketball tournament, the all-star team and the second team have been chosen. The sport editors of the Albany papers were the judges of the men to compose these teams. It may be said that the judges used good judgment in their selection, for they just naturally had to give the plums to Scio. There is nothing to be gained in the honors thus bestowed, because it had no authority to place games with other communities on try-outs. The following were selected on the first team: Holland of Scio and Mason of Albany, as forwards; Sims, of Scio, center; Lee Powell, of Crabtree and John Cox, of Albany, guards; Streff of Mill City and Phillips of Albany, utility men. The second team is composed of Knauf of Scio and Brandeberry of Albany, as forwards; Shaw of Mill City, center; Hubbard and Rolley, both of Albany, as guard; Haseman of Mill City and Hermis of Gates, utility men.

A good plan for the promoters of the tournament to follow would be to arrange a game between the first and second teams, and thus have a real county championship team.

Had Party—Good Time

A little late is this piece of news, but better late than never. On Saturday night, Feb. 10, about fifty people gathered at the home of Wm. Rhoda and enjoyed a real old-fashioned party and all report a good time. Games of all sorts were played and at midnight a bounteous lunch was served. Such gatherings as these always help to cement good fellowship, and pity 'tis there are not more of them.

Our boys trimmed the Lebanon boys in a fast game of basketball at Lebanon last Friday night—score 33 to 3. The Lebanon girls then cleaned up on the Scio girls by a large score. The games between the Willamette U. freshmen and the Turner girls also caused a slip backward for our teams. But it takes more real sportmanship to be a good loser than a victorious winner. Turner won 8 to 7, and the freshmen won by 11 to 9. Not so easy, either.

Do you want to sell all or part of your farm? Do you want to buy a small acreage or a large or medium sized farm? If you do, see the editor of the Scio Tribune, he might have something good to offer you in either event. Maybe you have a chief hen ranch for sale, suitable also for raising turkeys; if so we have an inquiry for such a place. Come in and see us, it won't cost you a cent to find out, and might be the winner.

Mrs. S. M. Hubbard, of Salem, was struck Saturday afternoon by an automobile in Salem and so injured that she died Sunday afternoon in a hospital. Mrs. Hubbard was on her way to spend Saturday night with relatives in another part of Salem when the accident occurred, and her condition was not known by her husband until he read of it in the papers Sunday morning, when he called at the hospital and identified his wife.

Lyle J. Ficklin, he who has done so much for the Scio school, was in Scio over Sunday visiting his mother, Mrs. M. J. Ficklin. Lyle is now general manager of the Columbia Distributing Co., with headquarters in Portland.

SESSION AT SALEM RUNS OVER 40 DAYS

Lawmakers Unable to Complete Labors Within Constitutional Limit.

Salem.—The constitutional 40-day period prescribed for legislative sessions expired with the important questions of consolidation, taxation and income tax unsettled, so it was necessary to extend the session over into this week. Even the appropriation bills did not make their appearance until Saturday.

The pay of members ends, they work for nothing, and the legislators can remain as long as they please, without expense to the state insofar as the pay of the senators and representatives is concerned. The compensation of the house and senate staffs, which include everything down to the stenographers and pages continues until sine die adjournment.

The question of consolidating various departments of the state government was in a chaotic condition and many believe nothing will be done at this session.

When the legislature adjourned over Sunday the Carkin bill was the only consolidation measure pending, as the Hall bill had been killed in the senate and the senate compromise bill was defeated in the house. The Carkin bill was lying on the house table and even if it is sent over to the senate it is very doubtful if it will get through that body.

626 Bills Introduced, 117 Approved.

At the close of the sixth week of the session a total of 626 bills had been introduced. A total of 227 bills originated in the senate and 399 in the house. In all, 117 bills had been approved by both houses and signed by the governor. One bill has been vetoed. There remain 75 bills which have passed both houses and which await executive action. Of these, 36 are senate bills and 39 are house bills.

The joint ways and means committee, upon concluding its work approved appropriations for the present biennium aggregating $6,120,985, or $669,257 less than had been recommended by the state budget commission. The budget commission had recommended appropriations in the amount of $6,790,242, after lopping off $440,000 from the amounts requested by the state departments, boards and commissions.

Appropriations authorized by the ways and means committee two years ago aggregated more than $8,000,000.

Several members of the committee had a change of heart and rescinded their previous action with relation to the desert land board and the scaler of weights and measures department. The desert land board had requested an appropriation of $85,000, which was declined at a previous meeting of the committee. The committee allowed this activity an appropriation of $50,000. The request of the scaler of weights and measures for $10,000, turned down at a previous meeting, was allowed by the committee.

Finance Body Bill Passed.

After a bitter debate the senate passed a bill authorizing the creation of a state finance commission. This bill originated in the house and was one of a number of measures based on the report of the state tax investigation.

New Ruling Announced

Many beneficiaries of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau will be paid additional compensation as a result of a new ruling announced by L. C. Jeseph, Pacific Northwest Manager of the Bureau.

The act of congress, under which benefits are disbursed, prevents awards on account of dependent relatives of veterans from being made effective more than one year prior to the date when claim for additional compensation for such dependents was made. Mr. Jeseph says many veterans who had, while in training under the federal board for vocational education, claimed additional training pay for dependents, failed until long afterwards to file with the Veterans' Bureau or the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, any claim for additional compensation on account of dependents.

Mr. Jeseph stated that the new ruling permits a claim for additional training pay to be construed as a claim for additional compensation also, and, if presented on or before Aug. 9, 1921, to be considered filed with the Veterans' Bureau as of that date because the vocational training records were then placed under the jurisdiction of the Bureau. As a consequence, Mr. Jeseph explained, additional compensation for dependent relatives may, in a considerable number of cases, be extended back to Aug. 9, 1920, and where that can legally be done the beneficiaries affected will be mailed checks to cover the additional amounts accrued under this new interpretation of the law.

Commissioner D. C. Thoms says the county commissioners are going to do everything they can to put the roads of Linn county in good shape, and that the road to Green's bridge will be rounded up so that water won't stand on it and thus cause so many pit holes to accumulate.

Prof. H. E. Tobie and family and I. V. McAdoo and wife were in Salem Sunday evening and saw the latest picture produced by Mary Pickford—"Tess of the Storm Country." Considerable snow was yet on the ground near Salem.

The first sign of spring hereabouts was Monday, when Frank Bartu, jr., was seen riding down Main street on his Cletrac tractor with a plow behind. Spring work will soon be in full swing if the present good weather maintains.

"Brown's In Town"

A play cast from Albany college will present a 3 act comedy, "Brown's In Town," at the Scio High School Auditorium on Tuesday night Feb. 27. It is unusual event for a college play to be given in so small a town; but due to the fact that facilities for presenting amateur performances are better in Scio than in Albany, the high school student body has been able to secure this excellent entertainment.

Youthful love, an eloping couple, comedy in rapid succession and a pair of newlyweds in a bungalow, feature the Albany College Literary Society Play.

Walter MacCannon thought he had one too many when he tried to handle the part of acting husband to two beautiful young women in an effort to protect the eloper from discovery by the irate father. Ardis Eberle and Vernon Henderson take the part of the newlyweds and the cast as a whole is of excellent quality.

The following article appeared in the Albany Democrat following the date of the play there.

"The Albany college students in Brown's In Town made a big hit in Albany. The students in the Eune-tian society of Albany college presented "Brown's In Town", a three act comedy and came thru with flying colors Friday, Dec 15th at the Globe theatre in Albany. They were critically watched as some of them will form the nucleus for later plays.

Expressing their appreciation by laughter and applause, the students and townspeople indorsed the training methods of Mrs. Childs, instructor in expression and dramatic art at Albany college.

Scioites are again to benefit by the enterprise of the High School Student Body. All are curious to see a real College Play in Scio. The High School will benefit financially by the performance.

The Parent-Teachers Association will give an entertainment at the school auditorium this evening, in which the grade pupils will take part. This entertainment is a combination Lincoln-Washington celebration, and should be well patronized. The admission price is small—10 and 25c. Everybody invited.

"Billy" Sunday came into the limelight again last Thursday when he was permitted by the authorities to smash 30 stills on the lawn of the courthouse at Knoxville, Tenn. "Billy" says he delights in attacking the devil, and this time he "knocked the tar out of him."

A couple of Scio citizens were heard arguing on the streets of Albany lately about how much coffee the husband had drunk while eating a meal at one of the restaurants. Finally the husband said, "Wife I had to drink a lot of that coffee to get one good cup like you make at home". This ended the argument.
