Bible Thought Today

DIVISION DESTROYS:—Every city or house divided against itself shall not stand.—Matthew 12:25.

Watch your step and be in tune with Scio on July 3d and 4th. Big doin's those days, 'tis said.

Don't forget the Community Club meeting next Monday night at the big gym. It's free to everybody, and the building should be filled.

The new signboards now being erected on vacant lots in Scio are notable improvements, but residences and business blocks would be of more benefit and help reduce the taxes. People want to come to Scio to live, but they want neat, comfortable houses.

Commencement not far off, and five will go out into the world to make their mark. Will it be bright and shiny or just a blank? The graduate can answer this question, but maybe we older ones might help them to keep steady and straight.

Even with capital punishment in Oregon, murders are occurring with increasing rapidity. The Tribune believes that if pardoning powers are eliminated and commutation of sentence forbidden, except in convictions secured on purely circumstantial evidence, and that technicalities be wiped from the books, there might be a lessening of such crimes in the future. Every man or woman who commits a crime of any nature has learned to depend upon some lawyer and our courts to find "technicalities" in court proceedings that will free them or lessen the sentence. We have the highest regard for the legal fraternity, but lawyers seek places in large numbers in our law-making bodies and of course they pass laws to benefit their business. Give us common sense laws in verbiage a common man can understand, and administer them without fear or favor, and all will come out right in the end.

CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS IS LIVE ISSUE

Our Jordan and Larwood correspondents in a small way touch up the school consolidation, which gives promise that the people are alive to one easy method of reducing taxes and at the same time greatly increase the efficiency of our public schools. It is true consolidation of school districts has been in practice in some states for several years and it has proved entirely satisfactory. The school board of district No. 95 and the patrons of the school are overlooking a real opportunity if they do not take steps to bring about a consolidation of the districts adjoining No. 95.

No better time will ever present itself than now. There is no bonded indebtedness against the district, and the outstanding warrants would not be a part to be assumed by the districts joining with us—No. 95 would have to carry that as she is now doing. This is a question that should be looked into and right soon—not later than the June meeting.

DANCE CRAZES AND CRAZY DANCERS

Of course it's an entirely different ent proposition, but we wonder how long the young lady who broke the long distance dancing record could walk the floor carrying a colicky baby.

And again, we wonder how long she would hold out in a long distance dishwashing contest.

We wonder what your own individual opinion is of these foolish girls who wear out several orchestras and a half dozen male partners apiece to get the title "Endurance Dancing Championship of the World?"

What possible good can be the outcome? It's a futile pursuit that will take its health toll later in the young dancers' lives. Over-exertion always presents its bill and it always collects—in full.

As we see it, there's just about as much sense in endurance dancing as there is long-distance running, prize fighting, weight-lifting, auto racing, and other equally foolish over-exert contests.

It's interesting to watch this dance craze with its hundreds of crazy dancers and wonder where it will end.

IS HENRY FORD A CANDIDATE?

The fact that petitions for the nomination of Henry Ford for president were filed in eight states in the West recently centers the attention of the country upon what his attitude really is regarding the nomination. The filing of the petitions looks as if he's in the field in earnest but as yet he has made no personal announcement, nor has any one else announced with authority that Mr. Ford seeks to be a candidate for the highest office in the land. The fact that his position is unknown creates an element of uncertainty in the situation that is causing much worry to politicians who have been accustomed to arranging things beforehand. If Mr. Ford were outspoken in his ambition to be nominated at the next national convention there would not be so much anxiety in some quarters. It is the quiet underground propaganda, evidently spreading silently all over the country among people who are not politicians nor partisans, that alarms the leaders. It is impossible to measure the strength of the Ford candidacy by any rules known in politics. It is elusive, and meanwhile Henry Ford says not a word. He does not even have any known organization, unless the men who sell and use his cars might be said to be an organization. The fact that those eight petitions have been filed shows, however, that work is being done in his behalf.

How many delegates will Henry Ford have in the convention? That is what puzzles the political leaders. They don't know and have no means of finding out. Ford's friends are scattered and yet in the final showdown they may be numerous enough to surprise and embarrass the political leaders.

It has been said that the wet and dry issue will cause more trouble in the nomination of a candidate next year than any other question. But Henry Ford's candidacy, if he is a candidate, will raise other questions which some people regard as infinitely more important and which others will view with undisguised alarm. He is the political sphinx of 1924.

SANTIAM FARM NEWS

May 29

Ed Kalina and wife made a run for Scio Sunday afternoon to visit with his mother, Mrs. Nimie.

Oscar Fillpot of Lebanon and Coral Lucas called in Sunday on business with G. A. Griffin, as he had been up to see Fillpot on a social trade.

Sunday was our celebration, as we had a full house. John Swan and wife of Portland, Delbert Yeargen and wife of Butteville, Clarence Lovejoy and wife of Dallas, Theodore Gaines of Portland, Aunt Eliza Crabtree and son John of Scio, and Griffin brothers, G. A., Elmer and Clifford; all are past 40 years, not a child, eight men and six women, all called in for a good old time at the old reliable Santiam Farm to remind the old folks they were still remembered. All had a fine time, such as you seldom see at a campmeeting. The Portland folks blow up the Santiam Farm as having the finest garden they have seen this year, and more of it and far cleaner.

Alvis Gaines, wife and son of Portland, where he has worked the past four years with the fire wardens at $175 per month, called in for a short visit with his old uncle, S. W. Gaines. He also visited Mrs. Eva Davenport and daughter Lilly of Larwood.

Our school closed Thursday. We have had a most successful school under the management of Miss Zysset.

Mrs. Hilda Schleman of Kingston called in Monday afternoon for a short visit with her father, Theo. Gaines, and her grandfather. She recruited up on vegetables for the mill hands while here.

Ed Kalina has set out 3800 kale plants, so as to have plenty of cow feed for the winter. He provides well for his cows.

One of the interesting events of the last week was a farewell party at the home of Will Richardson, being given in honor of Miss Bernice Faley, who is leaving for her home. The early part of the evening was spent in playing games. Late in the evening luncheon was served. Those present were: Spencer Long, wife and son; Vilas Arnold, wife and daughter; Vilas Philippi, wife and daughter; Alma; Porter Long and family, Maysell Hassler, Clinton Arnold, Leonard Arnold, Ethel Rhoda, Clarence Rhoda, Joe Ambrosek, Ed Ambrosek, Mrs. Laura Platt and three daughters, Dolly Arnold, Rheta Arnold, Ralph Hassler and wife, Will Hassler and wife, J. W. Merritt and family, Jim Dobrovsky, Ed Bilyeu and family, Otto Meuller and wife, Mildred Couey, Ida Shi-manek, Frank Merritt, Mrs. Georgia Loefer and daughter, Fred Dobrkovsky, Wilson Richardson and wife, Mrs. Dale Poindexter and Miss Bernice Faley.

PIE EATER.
