

SANTIAM FARM NEWS

June 5

Most all who have relations and friends buried at Providence were there cleaning up and decorating the graves as tokens of their affection for the loved ones passed away but not forgotten, as we will soon join the army of the dead. All seemed greatly interested in cleaning up the graves and decorating them with the finest of flowers.

The old man has to offer his apologies to the lady of the Bummer's hotel of Scio, as she was not mentioned in last week's items as one of the guests at the Santiam Farm on Sunday week when the house was full and running over, as she felt like one of the lost sheep of Israel. She was the main duck in the goose pond, as she amused the crowd all day by telling anecdotes and fish stories and how the mule threw Logan.

Ed Kalina, wife and son called in Sunday afternoon. The babe is the prettiest child I ever saw; smart and pert as a cricket and will soon be a man.

The Scio hotel was well represented at the Santiam Farm Sunday afternoon, as the landlord, Mr. Chandler, Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Ramalza, came out for a supply of vegetables and stocked up for the week. All had a fine time.

George Griffin has traded for some fine property in Lebanon. I believe if he could pull some wool over some widow's eyes he would soon be a city dude, as batching is getting rather monotonous to him.

John Brock and son called in with a specimen of his prune crop, which is surely wonderful, as every limb was full of more fruit than any tree can bear. He has a gold mine without going up to his quartz mine.

The old man and his good wife were in Scio Friday. He was stepping around like a blind dog in a meat house, cutting the mustard as fine as bullet patching.

John Griffin of Salem came up late Sunday after his brother, Elmer, as he has a fine job at the asylum.

Theodore Gaines soon gets tired of the Farm, after cultivating the old man's corn, and has returned to Portland, where he has a good job. PIE EATER.

The "Live Wire" entertainment given by Salem young folks at the I. O. O. F. hall Friday night proved a success. They are a jolly bunch and everyone attending felt paid for going. They camped at "Taylor's grove," in Marion county, over the week end. Around 100 were present Sunday morning, taking charge of the 11 o'clock service at the M. E. church.

Miss Lucile White of Stayton is spending a week here with her cousin, Mrs. Ed Trask.

The students receiving 8th grade diplomas last week were as follows: Dorothy Trask, Alice Judson, Raymond Brooks and Francis Schnackenberg. All expect to attend high school next year.

Robert Shilts returned home Friday evening from Grand Ronde. He has been engaged in Spaulding's logging camp at that place for some time.

Mrs. Mercer is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Canning, at Riverside this week.

An army travels on its stomach, said Napoleon. Many a young business man gets there on his gall.

"The whole is greater than any of its parts," said one of the high school students, looking ruefully at the doughnut.

They've changed it to the "light fanatic" since so many girls have tried to break the endurance record.

It is hard to tell whether that story about senators being drunk is offered as scandal or an alibi.

Another mystery is where the artists get those tall, skinny women of flagpole dimensions to pose for the Paris style drawings.

Men with short memories should not make long promises.

THE LA FOLLETTE REPORT

A dollar a gallon for gasoline, Bob? That hardly could come to pass Unless reformers got after that, too And bootleggers handled the "gas" The nation's soft drink bill is $5,700,000 yearly, but there is no record of the hooch bill.

NO INTEREST

"What is your favorite book?" "My bank book, but even that is lacking in interest these days."

The dance Saturday night was one of the best ever given in Scio both from an attendance record and from receipts. The spacious gym was decorated most handsomely, and every guest was a ready purchaser of the balloons and other mirth provokers. The High school students are to be congratulated upon the successful dances given by them the last few months. It is said the total net receipts will be about $90.

Work is now being done on the road leading out from Scio to Jordan, and it is something that has been needed for so these many moons. It is said the road to Green's bridge will be one of the next to receive attention.
