Oregon Made Home Knitting Yarns

A great surprise for the home knitters of Oregon, but still a fact. Furthermore, this yarn is absolutely virgin wool yarn; the wool was grown in Linn county, sold by Mr. Senders to the Oregon Worsted Company (mills located at Sellwood), made into worsted yarn by Roy T. Bishop, son of C. P. Bishop, proprietor of the Woolen Mill Store of Salem. Oregon knitters try this yarn out. All colors. 45c per ball of 2 ozs. Samples sent on application. Address C. P. Bishop, Box 75, Salem, Oregon.

THE GOODNESS OF GOD:—
Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing.
—Psalm 145: 16.

"MY CITY AND I"

My home and my business is founded in my city. She gives me and mine the protection of law and order, that my property may be enhanced and my right be sacred. I vote here.

My City gives my children a superior schooling. Good neighbors are mine. Truly, my City is "home spot" for me.

I owe my City my full measure of civic loyalty. If I pretend a manly and fair conception every occasion give My City a full measure of loyalty through intelligent cooperation with others of similar sentiments.

My City does not want my partisanship, my offishness, my dissention, my criticism, nor my indifference. Rather, My City expects of me qualities of high citizenship, tolerant friendship, willing cooperation heart-given sympathy and intelligent support.

Eight Hours is Enough

It has been a long fight but the steel interests have finally granted an eight hour day. The steel industry has become important, but one of its corner stones was its overuse of humanity. No man has any business to work 12 hours a day at hard manual labor. The eight hour day has been established as fair, and is making better conditions.—Salem Statesman.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Ladies wore bustles.
Operations were rare.
Nobody swatted the fly.
Nobody had seen a silo.
Nobody had appendicitis.
Nobody wore white shoes.
Cream was five cents a pint.
Most young men had 'livery bills.'
Cantaloupes were muskmelons.
You never heard of a "tin Lizzie".
Doctors wanted to see your tongue.
Milk shake was a favorite drink.
Advertisers did not tell the truth.
Wood was legal tender with the printer.

Nobody cared for the price of gasoline.

Farmers came to town for the mail.

The butcher "threw in" a hunk of liver.

Nobody "listened in" on a telephone.

Strawstacks were burned instead of baled.

Publishing a country newspaper was not a business.

People thought English sparrows were "birds".

Jules Verne was the only convert to the submarine.

"Darius Green and His Flyin' Machine" was a popular school recitation.

You stuck tubes in your ears to hear a phonograph, and it cost a dime.—Exchange.

Farm Reminders

Following up the general application of poison bran for earwig control with small amount of poison bait applied to trees, walls, and other places the insects climb at night, is recommended by the Oregon experiment station specialists. This bait is good to catch the insects as they begin their climb at night.

Field tomatoes keep well in cold storage and lose but little weight when handled with care. The average loss was only 2 per cent in a period of 26 days in test conducted by the horticultural department of O.A.C. The chance of coloration during storage is small. High temperature during storage causes the fruit to "sweat" readily and break down.

A home-made fly spray for dairy cows made as follows is recommended by the O. A. C. dairy department: Kress dip 1 gallon, neutral oil 3 gallons, kerosene 1 gallon, carbon disulphide 1 pound, and horse mint 3 ounces. Mix in 5 gallon container and use as spray twice daily or often.

Freedom from tuberculosis of dairy cattle means a better price for hogs, when the fact is properly guaranteed. A premium of 10 cents per hundred pounds on live hogs received from Clatsop and Tillamook counties has been offered by Swift and Company. That is because the counties have been declared free of tuberculosis as a result of several years of persistent work in testing and eradication.

With work going on and planned for the future, Oregon is making progress toward elimination of this disease. This would add not only to the profits of dairy breeding and production in the state but likewise to Oregon's reputation as one of the greatest though one of the youngest dairy states of the Union. The prospect for $20 bonus on a car lot of hogs is another incentive to dairymen raising hogs to carry on the testing work.

Our Platform

We believe in our town, community and its people; in our store its goods and fair prices.

We believe that honesty is not only the best policy but also the only means to success and happiness.

We believe in courtesy, kindness, generosity, good cheer, friendship and honest competition.

We believe life too short and holds too much to be made solely a matter of dollars and cents.

We believe success should be the aim of every man and the measure of his ability.

We believe a store should be judged by the quality of its service.

We believe in advertising. That it is not wisdom to keep ones light under a bushel.

We believe in practicing in what we preach, and that if you get acquainted with us and the business principals for which we stand you will stand up at all times for our store, our town and our community to your full measure.

Yours to Live and Let Live.
