Constructive Improvements

Adoption by the Southern Pacific Company of a comprehensive construction program, designed to give materially improved transportation service to the Pacific Coast, obviously is of vital interest to the people of our Western Coast.

Announcement by officials of the company indicates that the improvement program contemplates expenditures in excess of $50,000,000 for actual construction work, in addition to recent purchases of equipment aggregating $40,000,000.

The present line of the Southern Pacific Company enters Oregon at about the center of the northern boundary of California and from Weed continues on up the west side of the Cascade range to Portland. Freight and passenger traffic between San Francisco and Portland is extremely heavy. There is, necessarily, but a single track line through the Siskiyou and as a consequence traffic becomes congested. Completion of the Natron cutoff will mean construction of an alternate line from Weed around the east side of Cascades, which will rejoin the main line at Eugene, Oregon. This will make possible the diversion of traffic through Klamath Falls and around the east side of the Cascade range, through an unusually rich timber and agricultural region.

Hello, Friends! No matter what you do someone always knew you would.

He struck her, but she uttered no sound. He struck her again but no word escaped her lips. Once more he hit her on the head brav thing that she wuz, she did not even whimper. Then enraged beyond all reason at her unconcern of his akshuns, the brute uttered a loath and began raining blows after blows on her pretree littl hedd, even skrateking her in his madnus. Even thru this she had remained silent. But finally, not being able to stand it any longer, she heaved a reluctant sputter and burst into flame. For you see she wuz only a match.

FAREWELL TO KITTY

You can keep all the kisses I gave you;

You can keep every golden caress; You can keep all the sweet tricks I taught you,

And the jokes that you made me confess. You can keep whatsoever you care to—

My loving, the parties you threw; But please send me back what I'm missing—

The cold cash I wasted on you.

NOTE— HOLLYWOOD—SOON

Production of Fat Is Affected by Age of Cow

Fat production by the average dairy cow increases till she has passed her seventh year, reaches its peak before the end of her eighth year and then gradually declines. This fundamental truth in farming science was discovered recently by C. W. Turner, a teacher in the dairy department of the Missouri College of Agriculture. This conclusion was reached only after Turner had worked out the relation between the age and the yearly fat production of more than 40,000 dairy cows. The data included all the yearly fat records available of pure bred dairy cows in the United States. This is the first time an intensive compilation of this sort has been carried out.

The value of this information lies in knowing what production may be expected of a cow at a certain age. For example, if a farmer knows the present production of a two-year-old cow and wishes to estimate what she will be worth to him in five years, he will have an authoritative table which he may consult.

A yearling produces 64.6 per cent compared to a cow at maturity; a two-year-old, 73.6 per cent; a three-year-old, 84 per cent; a four-year-old, 90 per cent; a five-year-old, 95 per cent, and a six-year-old, 99 per cent. After seven years the decline in production is gradual.

Of the total number of records examined, 13,723 were Jersey cows; 15,569 Guerneys; 12,504 Holsteins; 5,162 Ayrshires, and 1,014 Milking Short-horns.
