Oregon Made Home Knitting Yarns

A great surprise for the home knitters of Oregon, but still a fact. Furthermore, this yarn is absolutely virgin wool yarn; the wool was grown in Linn county, sold by Mr. Senders to the Oregon Worsted Company (mills located at Seilwood), made into worsted yarn by Roy T. Bishop, son of C. P. Bishop, proprietor of the Woolen Mill Store of Salem. Oregon knitters try this yarn out. All colors. 45¢ per ball of 2 ozs. Samples sent on application. Address C. P. Bishop, Box 75, Salem, Oregon.

THURSDAY, Nov. 8, 1923

The Lebanon Commercial Club met with Scio business men Monday evening to discuss the proposed bond issue relative to the building of the building of the bridges at Albany and Harrisburg.

Mr. Jackson and C. H. Murphy of Albany and N. M. Newport and J. C. Mayer of Lebanon presented the issue to the Scio business men in such a way that the largest majority attending the meeting were "converted" or convinced that the issue was really a business matter, not a sectional matter, as the State and Lane county were willing to co-operate in the building of the bridge, which has never been the case in the history of Oregon before, and possibly never again in the same way.

World Silver Market

There have been changes in world silver markets during the past few weeks in which New York has assumed greater importance.

That New York has been for several weeks a more important silver market than London was because Indian buyers realized for the first time that the primary market was in this country and not in the British center.

To insist that London exchange rates determine the basis of Chinese exchange is absurd and simply shows that these authorities are arguing from the past.

The object of the new Silver Export Association is to secure better agencies for the disposal of their product representing more than 1/2 of total yearly production.

The London "Financial News", after belittling the importance of silver, makes the following appeal: The international position of the London money market would suffer a heavy loss through the abandonment of its supremacy on silver.

The loss of the control over silver and silver exchanges would endanger British trade in the Far East.
