PUBLIC SALES TO BE TRIED HERE

Council Holds Meeting, Transact Business and Hear Mr. Sudtell

The regular meeting of the Scio city council was held in the city hall last Thursday night, with a majority of the members present. Only routine business was transacted, such as allowing bills and okeying the report of the water and light committee for repairs to be made on the plant at Jordan. A spillway has been made necessary in order to have a probable washout at the plant, and the committee reported that about $115 would be necessary to expend on the extension. The report was adopted and the committee instructed to proceed with the work. The spillway is expected to be completed within two weeks.

The usual monthly bills were allowed.

The business men of the city also met with the council, and had under consideration the matter of holding public auctions in the city at least once a month, and to acquaint the council and business men on what is being done elsewhere. Col. Ben T. Sudtell of Albany had been invited to come before the council session and make a talk. Mr. Sudtell gave a very able talk on such matters, and after discussion and many questions, it was decided to put such sales on here, beginning April 5th.

J. D. Densmore, John Wesley and I. V. McAdoo were appointed as a committee to make arrangements for the first sale. If any of the Tribune readers are interested in a sale of this kind, and we believe they are, we urge them to see any member of the committee for particulars.

"Why Worry"—Ticket Free

The above heading is the title of the picture coming to the Peoples Theatre Saturday and Sunday, with a matinee Saturday afternoon. Harold Lloyd is at his best in this picture, and should you be placed in his peculiar positions you probably would worry, but he shows us how not to worry, but to laugh and laugh heartily. It will be regretted by the people here if they do not fill the theatre to overflowing at every performance, as it is worth your time and money to see it. We understand that the price of the matinee tickets have been placed at 10c and 25c, with evening tickets at 15c and 35c. This is one of the rare opportunities to see a picture that is shown everywhere but here at 50c, and this bargain price should be readily seized. The matinee will start at 1:30 o'clock sharp. Read the heading to the full page for further particulars—page 5.

Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gill gave a birthday dinner for their mother, Mrs. N. E. Gill, it being her seventy-sixth birthday. After enjoying a sumptuous dinner those present drove to Albany and spent the afternoon visiting with relatives and friends.

With Mrs. Rodgers

On Friday of last week Mrs. Jesse Rodgers entertained the "500" club at her home. Decorations suggestive of St. Valentines day were used about the rooms. Mrs. E. Myers won high score and Mrs. E. W. Holland, low score.

At four-thirty the hostess served a dainty two course luncheon to the players. All the members of the club were present. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. A. G. Prill on February 22.

Scio Wins Both Games

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Scio boys and girls were both victorious in their basketball games with Halsey last Friday on the local floor. The boys game was a rather rough contest. The Scio team took the lead from the first and were never in danger from the Halsey team. The final score was 26 to 5 in favor of Scio.

The girls won from the Halsey team by a score of 12 to 9. This game was very fast. Clark, of Halsey refereed both games.

The Student Body has decided to publish an annual this year. It will be about the same size as the one published year before last. The work on it has already commenced.

The school play is progressing rapidly. It will soon be decided when it is to be given.

Rev. Muckley gave a very interesting and educational talk to the Scio school Wednesday forenoon. His talk was in honor of President Wilson, who was buried that day. School was dismissed in the afternoon.

On Arbor Day the regular school work was omitted and the boys took teams and started leveling the city park. The work was not completed but a creditable start was made and the work will be finished later. The park is not large enough for a regular baseball game, but it will be used as a practice field by the high school team. At noon the girls served a lunch to the workers.

The High School Students have divided into two teams and are having a contest in taking subscriptions to "The Country Gentleman". The price is one dollar a year and the student body gets half of every one they sell. The contest closes next Monday. It has been decided that the losing team give the winning team a party.

Word received from Organians now in the Near East confirm reports telling of suffering among refugees both from Turkey and Greece. Recently four American Relief workers died in efforts to relieve this suffering.

State Health Officer Explains Botulism To Help People

Botulism, says Dr. Frederick D. Strickler, state health officer, is a deadly food poison. The name botulism has lost its original significance, which was sausage poisoning. It was thought that the germ that produces the poison causing botulism would grow only in sausage, but it is now known that it will grow in ham, cottage cheese, string beans, corn, asparagus and ripe olives.

Botulism is a rare disease, but is more common in Europe than in America. In a period of 22 years there were 150 people ill and 111 died of the disease among approximately 150 million people. Therefore it cannot be compared in magnitude to tuberculosis or syphilis. Botulism is the cause of forage poisoning in horses and of limberneck in chickens and turkeys.

There has been a marked increase in the number of recorded outbreaks of botulism in the United States in the past few years. The present outbreak in Albany is the only one in the history of Oregon, and in the number of cases and rate of fatality is one of the greatest in this country.

The bacillus botulinus grows only when deprived of air and at room temperature. It produces the botulinus toxin. The botulinus toxin is the only one of the true toxins that is poisonous when taken by mouth. It is exceedingly poisonous. A 250 gram guinea pig was killed by 0.00001 c.c or 1-200,000 of a drop of toxin. Persons have been known to die from "nibbling" a small portion of a pod of string beans.

Symptoms of poisoning may appear in as short a period as four hours and as long as six days after eating food containing the poison. The general appearance of the patient is one of muscular weakness, anxiety, utter helplessness, difficulty in swallowing, struggle for breath, and unsuccessful attempts to articulate, making a picture which once seen will never be forgotten.

The poisoning is caused by a toxin and not the germ. It may develop in many of the foods we eat when conditions are right. All that is necessary for the formation of the poison in many kinds of canned food is that spores of the organism remain alive within the container after it has been processed. The spores of the bacillus will resist the temperature of boiling water several hours.

Botulism can be prevented by exercising the following precautions:
1. Do not use any canned food which shows the slightest sign of spoilage.

II. Use no canned food unless it has been processed at high temperature; this is especially applicable to vegetables of the type that are used in salads. To insure high temperature a pressure cooker is a necessity.

Deer Meat Expensive

Jack Yeoman of Lyons was fined $400 and costs in Justice Victor Oliver's court in Albany Monday for having in his possession the hide and meat of a giant bull elk which was shot near the Ed Jackson ranch four miles west of Lyons on January 20.

The state game department released a small herd of elk in the Lyons neighborhood some years ago and the residents have taken pride in protecting it. It is estimated that this animal weighed close to 1200 pounds.

Special Notice

Having decided to put on a special matinee next Saturday for the benefit of our many patrons, the management of the Peoples Theatre will honor any ticket given out by any of the local merchants for admittance. This picture "Why Worry," by Harold Lloyd, is one of his best, and we want every man, woman and child to see it. Price of admission for children will be 10c, and for adults 25c to the matinee, which starts at 1:30 sharp, Saturday afternoon. Evening shows as usual, but prices are 15c and 35c. Don't miss this show if you want to laugh.

We have just received 100 autographed photographs of Harold Lloyd, and these will be given away with the first 100 paid admissions Saturday night.

THE GRIM REAPER TAKES HIS TOLL

Four Well Known People of Linn County Called From Earthly Tribulations

W. H. WOODARD

W. H. Woodard, age 46, of Jordan died at a hospital in Albany Feb. 8 from apoplexy. He was taken ill about the middle of January with what was thought to be neuralgia, caused from exposure during the extreme cold weather the early part of the month. As his condition grew more serious he was removed to the hospital.

He is survived by his wife and two young boys.

Funeral services were held at Scio last Sunday and interment in Franklin Butte cemetery.

HURST RUEHLING

Little Hurst Ruehling, age two years, the last of the twelve poison victims died Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reitz, about 12 miles east of Albany.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon, a simple service being conducted at the grave side and the little fellow was buried in the same grave with his mother.

JOHN R. PENLAND

John R. Penland died at his home in Albany Monday morning following an illness of several weeks of pneumonia.

Mr. Penland has been a resident of Linn County since 1908. For some time he assisted Mr. Goddes, county surveyor; and later became city engineer. Since coming to Albany he has been associated with the city or county in many capacities as engineer and was employed by the county in market road work at the time of his death. Mr. Penland was a graduate in engineering from the University of Oregon.

He is survived by his wife and three children also his parents and a brother and sister, all residing in California.

The deceased was a member of all the Masonic bodies in Albany and has served everyone of these bodies as presiding officer. He was a member of the grand council of Adoniram Council, Royal Arch Masons at the time of his death.

Mr. Penland was well known in this community where he had been engaged in road work during the past year.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Albany yesterday afternoon and interment was at the Masonic cemetery, where a Masonic funeral was conducted.

JAMES M. CALAVAN

Word has been received here of the death at Oregon City last Friday.
