Kenneth Westenhause has been unable to attend school for the past week, on account of an attack of the flu.

Ethil Arnold, who was laid up for several days last week on account of an attack of the flu, is now able to be around. He says it is no joke to be assaulted by such an enemy.

The dance given by the Student Body at the gym Saturday night was well attended, and a good time is reported. Music was furnished by an Albany orchestra, and some say it did not measure up to the usual standard of orchestras that have played here.

Several from here went to Salem Friday night to attend the boxing event at the armory. Each say the various bouts were good, but that they did not last long enough, as in the three events an opponent was knocked out in the third round. The boxer from Monroe failed to appear, so the fourth card was not put on.

City council meets tonight in regular session.

Joe Senz and wife of route 1 were shopping in Scio Monday.

Mrs. R. E. Hibler left Tuesday morning for her home in Seattle, after a visit here with Mrs. N. C. Gill.

Lawrence Montgomery, one of the mail carriers, is confined to his home with the flu. Frank Bartu is substituting.

Mrs. N. C. Gill and Mrs. J. C. Edwards returned Friday evening from a visit at the home of Dr. J. G. Gill and wife in Lebanon.

There will be regular preaching services at the Baptist church Sunday conducted by Rev. C. H. Hedrick. Everyone invited to attend these services.

While working at the Ballin saw-mill Fred Axe had the misfortune to have the third finger of his left hand crushed while rolling logs last Thursday. He is incapacitated for work at present but the injured member is healing nicely.

The Scio town team of Basketeers defeated the Crabtree team at Crabtree Wednesday evening, while the girls' basketball team was defeated by the Crabtree girls. We understand a return game is to be played here some time next week, but the date is not yet set.

Lyle Ficklin was in town Monday evening for a short time to see his mother. He had been at Salem on business and could not go back to Kalama without coming on to Scio. Lyle is looking fine, and says he and his sister, Mrs. Julia Bilyeu, are making good in their restaurant.

Miss Fern Flanagan is confined to her home with the measles.

N. I. Morrison and John Schindler went to Salem Tuesday afternoon.

C. C. Bilyeu and wife made a business trip to Albany Tuesday morning.

Genuine Ford Service with Genuine Ford Parts. Ford Garage, Scio, Oregon.

Mrs. D. D. Austin of Albany spent the week-end at the Wm. Brenner home and attended the gym dance Saturday night.

J. D. Densmore took a truck load of flour to Lebanon Tuesday. He took the place of Dell Westenhause, who was about half sick.

Mrs. Lambert Coppock of Milwaukee, who is visiting relatives in Lebanon, spent Sunday in Scio with her daughter, Mrs. Oliver Powell.

Lawrence Montgomery, who is ill with pneumonia, is reported to be improving. Frank Bartu is carrying his mail route during his illness.

Claire McLain and wife of Salem, who have been stopping with Mrs. McLain's parents, J. I. Shelton and wife for a short time, are preparing to move to Marshfield.

If the users of city lights in the country would place the street light in front of their residences, it would make the lanes look like traveling at night through cities. This light is free if the users will place the bulb on the pole, and they should DO it.

The high school annual is taking on considerable airs these days, and the boys are putting in all the time possible to make it even better than two years ago. Considerable advertising space has been sold already, and more has been promised. The price per copy we understand has been placed at 50c, and all friends of the students no doubt will be purchasers.

Albert Randie and family of Albany were in Scio Tuesday.

Mrs. Marie Hodge, who has been confined to her home for the last three weeks with the measles, is now reported to be on the road to recovery.

Clifton Bond and C. E. Ward of Hoquiam, Wash., who had been working at the Ballin mill for some time left Tuesday morning for Portland.

Mrs. D. D. Austin, Mrs. J. S. Sticha and the Misses Doris Weddle and Vella Brenner visited at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Hobson in Salem Sunday.

One of the fire axes has disappeared, and the party who borrowed it is requested to return same. If fire should break out the axe would be needed—and for your house, maybe.

Dr. Wallace of Albany came out Sunday to see Marion Arnold, who is ill with pneumonia. He says she is improving. E. G. Holland is substituting for Mr. Arnold on the mail route.

Father Goerlich and Martin Schnieder were in town Tuesday from Jordan. The Father says it is probable church may be resumed at the local Catholic church, but the date is not known.

Aunt Becky Morris brought a beautiful bouquet of spring flowers to the Tribune office yesterday, for which we acknowledge our humble thanks. Aunt Becky is one of God's chosen who keeps her heart and mind young by such kindly deeds.

It has been suggested that some of the most progressive women call a meeting of the ladies of Scio to form a civic club, the purpose being to make our little city more beautiful and desirable a place to live. We hope this suggestion will be acted upon and that such a club will become a reality.

Mrs. Lee Gaines gave her husband a surprise in honor of his 47th birthday on Sunday, Feb. 24. Thirty-six of his friends were invited to spend the evening with him. Mr. and Mrs. Gaines were presented with a fine leather rocker by their guests. A birthday cake weighing thirty pounds and decorated with forty-seven candles was a feature of the refreshments.

Here are a few matrimonial tips given by the director of educational activities in the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A.: "Don't marry for sex attraction alone. Don't fail to run your house on a budget system. Don't expect your wife to live according to a single standard of morality while you have a double standard. Don't pay more than 30 percent of your wages for rent in New York; or more than 20 per cent elsewhere."

High School Notes

Miss Nina Snyder of Lebanon visited school Friday afternoon as the guest of Hazel Howard.

The Scio Girls were defeated by Crabtree at Crabtree on Feb. 27, the score being 24 to 5. The girls' team was greatly weakened by the absence of Mildred Couey and Mary Herman from the floor.

On account so many of the girls having the measles, the girls basketball team has been compelled to cancel the remaining games of the season.

The gym dance Saturday night was well attended and the floor was in good condition.

The boys' basketball team was defeated at Halsey last Friday night. The Scio boys badly handicapped by having Long and Small on the sick list. Miller and Thurston were to fill their places. The boys go to Lebanon Friday night to play their last game. We hope to have our team intact for this game.

The boys are arranging a baseball schedule and will soon begin practice.
