Announcements Made

Henry S. Nolan of Lacombe, well known in Scio and over the county, has announced himself as a candidate for the office of county clerk. Mr. Nolan says he feels that he is well qualified to fill the position, having been a teacher in Linn county for several years. Mr. Nolan has some ideas concerning the office that are out of the ordinary, and we believe will have a telling effect among the voters. He says he thinks there is too great a gap between the salary paid the clerk and other officers in the county, and that he will pledge himself to work for a reduction in salary of that office, if he should be nominated and elected. He sounds good.

J. F. Knaka of Scio has announced himself as a candidate for the office of commissioner on the republican ticket. We have not seen him nor do we have any idea of his platform upon which he expects to seek the nomination.

Joe Hume of Brownsville also has announced for commissioner on the republican ticket. He is well known over the county and will make a most formidable candidate to beat. He is prominent in the councils of his party and understands the duties of commissioner, we are informed.

R. L. Chandler of Albany announces in this issue of the Tribune for the office of sheriff of Linn county. Mr. Chandler at present is night police of Albany and is giving splendid satisfaction. He is a world war veteran, has had experience in criminal work for the government, and is a terror to the wrongdoer without being abusive or autocratic. He is a republican in politics.

Community Supper

The ladies of the Z. C. B. J. will have charge of the supper at reasonable cost at the community club meeting on April 7th, and will conduct same on the "open forum" plan, that is a real meal can be secured or the individual may be served cafeteria style taking just the kind of food he or she wants. The supper will start at 6:30 so as to be over in time for the program of the evening in the main room. At first it was thought best to serve a light lunch at the close of the meeting, but the above seems more in keeping with those who may come hungry.

The Billy Kalina orchestra has kindly consented to furnish music for the community club meet here on April 7th. There will be other fine and enjoyable numbers on the program, together with large representations from all the outside communities. This will be held in the Z. C. B. J. hall and promises to be the largest gathering assembled in Scio in many years. Of course all will be there.

Scio Goods in France

Last Friday R. Walworth was in Scio from Albany calling on friends, chief of which was P. H. MacDonald. While here he called at the Tribune office, and in course of our conversation, he was reminded of an experience he encountered while serving his country during the war in France. He was in charge of a large fleet of trucks, and had been up at the front, and on his return, and while he was at the front had not had any milk or sugar, nor fresh meat, so he and his men were hungry for such edibles. At a cross roads he found a country store, and thinking maybe he might find something therein that would please the palate, he entered. In looking around he discovered some condensed milk sitting on the shelves, and he inquired the price per can, and was told two francs would buy one, so he said he would take a few cans. On examining the can, he found that it was made here in Scio, and said it looked mighty good to him, so he told the storekeeper he would take all of it he had, the merchant refusing. This called for commanding of what he wanted, which was the milk, various other stuff and two or three live pigs, which he took with him, giving an order on the quartermaster for the money.

Do You Know

That the theory that oil poured on troubled waters will still the waves has been knocked sky high by the recent exposures at congress?

That there is a great need for parents to take more interest in school matters, here and elsewhere?

That buying and selling at home helps you most, and makes a happier, more contented community?

That Albany is fast becoming the best county seat in all Oregon?

That the wrecking of the bridge at Albany is Albany's first consideration, and that she is not trying to saddle anything off on the people, reports to the contrary notwithstanding?

That good roads, good trading centers, good fellowship, can only be had by mingling together and telling collectively what each unit of a community is in need of?

That the next meeting of the Forks of the Santiam Community Club will be held in Scio on Monday, April 7, and that everybody is invited to come and enjoy a profitable evening?

An Appreciated Letter

Last Thursday we received a postal card from C. A. Posvar, who is located in Red Bluff, Calif., in which he says:

"Dear Mr. Editor: Please send me copy of the Scio Tribune of March 6th, as that number failed to come to me, and as I am very proud to read that little but well regulated paper, can hardly afford to miss one issue in the whole year.

Yours sincerely,
C. A. Posvar."

Words like the above make one glad they are in the news spreading field, and makes an editor happy for the appreciation of efforts put forth to issue a real newspaper in a good community. Thanks, Mr. Posvar, for these kind words.

Nearly every morning now the express wagon is loaded to its guard with shipments for various institutions in Portland and other points, which shows that things are picking up in a business way.

High School Notes

Jack Hiron was a school visitor last Friday afternoon.

The baseball team played its first practice game last Friday against a pick up team from town. The town team was victorious by a score of nine to three. This game was a help as it revealed the faults that will have to be corrected before the season opens. These teams will probably play again before the season starts.

Another gym dance will be given this Saturday. The music will be furnished by the Dreamland Six orchestra of Salem. The gym dances this spring have not been very well attended but the conduct has been excellent. This will be the last dance until the May Day dance which will be given May 1st.

Kenneth Westhouse has resigned as advertising manager of the Sphinx and Max Wesely has taken his place. Mr. Westhouse was forced to resign because of school work.

The school board is having the roses which line the walk at the school house trimmed.

Mrs. Ellwood Writes

In a letter dated March 18, 1924, Mrs. R. L. Ellwood, a former resident of this community says:

"Editor Scio Tribune:
"Dear Sir: I am enclosing my check for subscription to my paper. I have forgotten just when it expires, but do not want to miss one paper, and please change it from Malta, Ill., to Steward, Ill., care J. H. Walker. We had fine weather until New Year's, and has been cold and stormy since—some snow on the ground and cold. I am pretty well. Best wishes to all.
Mrs. R. L. Ellwood."

13th Wedding Anniversary

Last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Riley Shelton entertained a few friends and relatives in honor of the 13th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Myers, the latter being a daughter. A bounteous repast was served to the following: Arch Ray and wife, Mrs. Hannah Ray, Mrs. C. C. Pepper, Mrs. C. A. Montgomery and R. W. Montgomery. All report a fine time and wished the happy couple long life and much happiness.

Appreciates Tribune

The following letter was received Saturday morning from C. J. McIntosh, one of the instructors of the Department of Industrial Journalism, Oregon Agricultural College, commending the Tribune very highly upon its various departments. But let the letter tell its own story, which we appreciate most highly:

Corvallis, March 22, 1924

Mr. and Mrs. I. V. McAdoo,
Scio Tribune, Scio, Oregon.

Dear Friends—
I want to thank you for the pleasure of reading the Tribune this morning which bore the date of March 20. The following features struck me as particularly good:

The Santiam Farm news, Franklin Gilkey's item on killing the bean weevil, the "Do You Know?" observations, your editorial on the county court, county correspondence, and of course the items from here on feeding the dairy cow and handling the young foal.

The "Do You Know?" items strike me as very wise—the local dairy makes money, use of farm co-operation, danger of running wild on a single industry, value of diversification, unprofitableness of swapping business in price fluctuations, and most of all the value of community meetings and effort; each followed to its legitimate conclusion would in my honest judgement more than repay every subscriber to the cost of his yearly subscription. This policy has in every community we have surveyed increased subscription especially in the farming territory, which has in turn afforded the local merchants the best means of advertising they can possibly get anywhere. A reading of the fifth page shows they appreciate this and it is truly fine to see your community apparently working together. The letter to be answered by a school child shows that interest is being attracted from outside points.

A word more about the "Do You Know?" paragraphs: I can't agree that the community meetings are better than all the newspapers any more than I can see how railway cars are better than the track on which they run—without the track no cars, without the papers no conditions that would make such community meetings necessary or even possible. The meeting is a better means of cashing in on your resources while the newspapers are the means of cashing in on your community meetings. Which is I think after all just about what your correspondent had in mind.

With best wishes and a hearty invitation to hop into your Lizzie and run over to see us when you can.

Cordially yours,
C. J. McIntosh

George Armstrong of North Dakota spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week with his uncle, G. L. Flanagan. Mr. Flanagan had not seen his nephew for 24 years. Mr. Armstrong was 16 months over seas in the world war. He left for his home in the east Thursday. W. Armstrong, a brother-in-law of Mr. Flanagan, of Veneta Oregon and Henry Armstrong of Wheatland, N. D. were also visitors at the Flanagan home last week.

Nolan Parrish and wife returned Saturday from a week's visit with the latter's mother in Yakima, Wash. They report a fine trip and a pleasant visit. Nolan has resigned his position at the Ford Garage, but has not yet accepted another place of employment, deciding to take a much needed rest.

Here's The Answer

Last week we said that J. D. Densmore had broken ground for a new house on his acreage near the city limits, and asked who would be the next. Now comes the information that W. D. Reed has placed lumber on his tract near the Densmore property for a new home of considerable proportion, and that C. E. Kendle is building a new barn on the place he purchased from Mr. Reed. Verily, the building boom has started and the end is not in sight, we hope.

Mel O. Arnold has the lumber on the ground to build a residence on his place west of Munkers.

Henry Shelton has just completed the building of a fine new porch on his house.

Benefit Dance

The members of the newly organized baseball club plan a dance at Z. C. B. J. hall in Scio on Saturday night, April 12th, with an 8-piece orchestra furnishing the music, for the purpose of raising money. Large bills announcing the event and tickets have been printed and the bills are being posted. The tickets are being sold, so that there may be as many as possible take advantage of helping the team realize enough money to place the diamond in shape and get supplies that are needed. Admission will be $1.00.

Undergoes Major Operation

Mrs. Emaline Hassler, mother of our fellow townsman, Henry Hassler, underwent a major operation in Albany Monday. Drs. Prill and Wallace performing the operation. Mrs. Hassler is nearly 78 years old, and for one of her age came from under the strain in a most remarkable manner. It is confidently expected by her family and the physicians that she will regain her former health.

Beginning next Saturday at the Peoples theatre, a "country store" will be put on, and the many patrons will have an opportunity to get merchandise of worth without the extra expense except the purchase of a ticket of admission to the show. All the merchandise to be given away will be practically worth the price of admission. Mr. Wesely, the manager of the theatre, is showing the progress of the times in giving his local people the same sort of entertainment with profit as is going on in all places of merit throughout the land.

Our neighboring little city of Crabtree is a busy place these days, as all lines of endeavor there is on the boom. The prevalent feeling that the day of the small community centers of trading is past, is knocked high by activities at Crabtree.
