

A Rat That Didn't Smell After Being Dead for Three Months

"I never had a dead rat before," writes Mr. J. Sykes (N. J.). "I saw this rat every day; put some rat-trap behind a barrel. Months afterwards, my wife looked behind the barrel. There it was—dead. Rat-traps sell in three sizes for 25c, 50c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Kelly's Drug Store, Scio, Oregon.

Oregon Made Home Knitting Yarns

A great surprise for the home knitters of Oregon, but still a fact. Furthermore, this yarn is absolutely virgin wool yarn; the wool was grown in Linn county, sold by Mr. Sanders to the Oregon Worsted Company (mills located at Sellwood), made into worsted yarn by Roy T. Bishop, son of C. P. Bishop, proprietor of the Wacien Mill Store of Salem. Oregon knitters try this yarn out. All colors. 46c per ball of 2 ozs. Samples sent on application. Address C. P. Bishop, Box 75, Salem, Oregon.

Hurrah! Baseball will soon be here. Oh, boy!

While we think of it, wouldn't it be a good thing to get that woman's civic club to going? What say you, ladies?

Congress is having the picnic of its life just now. Investigations have given them an opportunity to set by and watch the parade, which is a much better excuse for doing nothing than heretofore.

We notice a woman writer in the Portland News is speaking a good word for her bachelor friends. As it is leap year she is calling the girls' attention to certain gentlemen who would like a helpmate. We might say we have a young man near Scio that could support a cook pretty well.

A resident of this community, just returned from a visit to California, wonders why the people of Oregon, and Linn county in particular, do not emulate California in boosting for our state. He says that every community you go into in California is boosting the other for its own particular industry. For instance, they will boost Oakland as the great automobile manufacturing center of the Pacific coast, another its oranges, another for lumber, and so on down the line. Why not try that here?

The Tribune has been asked by one of the peace officers of Linn county to call attention to the laws that are being violated every day in most of the towns and cities of Linn county. These laws are the selling of cigarettes to minors under 21 years of age, to the admittance of such minors to pool halls and allowing them to play pool or billiards, and then the punch boards that have become quite the rage of late. The above are state laws, and cannot be amended or abridged by municipalities. This peace officer does not want to take any undue advantage, he says, of a lack of knowledge of the laws in these cases, hence the request to call attention to them. If there are any in Scio who is violating these laws, the Tribune admonishes them to become law-abiding and thus prevent any publicity unsavory to the reputation otherwise first-class.

Change now to the brand that never changes and you'll never change again. LUCKY STRIKE

For Sheriff's Office

R. L. Chandler

R. L. Chandler has served as deputy sheriff of Linn county and as Albany night police officer for 14 months. During his term of office he has received the constant endorsement of the city council, and has been commended in open council meetings for his services to the county.

Chandler came to Oregon four years ago to Portland, from where he came to Albany with his wife and child to take up his permanent residence. While in Portland he was employed by the city in various capacities.

Prior to coming west Chandler had been for two years a deputy sheriff of Hamilton county, Tennessee, with headquarters at Chattanooga, where he was manager and secretary of the Chattanooga Golf and Country club for six years, serving concurrently as an officer the last two of his residence there.

Before going to Chattanooga, Chandler had served nine years in the U. S. army. He was a sergeant during his last two enlistments and has three honorable discharges. He saw service in Cuba and the United States while in the army. In connection with his army service he obtained clerical experience as canteen steward and later in his capacity as manager of the golf club.

Chandler is a native of Ohio, and is 35 years old. In announcing his candidacy Chandler said that he will seek above all to administer the office of sheriff if elected, efficiently and economically. The following statement of his platform summarizes his intentions:

"If nominated and elected I will during my term, construe my oath of office to mean a complete and efficient enforcement of all laws.

"I will conduct my office with strict regard to economy.

"I will at all times serve my official papers with promptness.

"I will give all prisoners in my custody humane treatment but will be ever cautious in my policies regarding their confinement.

"I will deprive no person of his liberty without due process of law, nor unjustly use the power of my office to the injury of any person.

"I will have no interests to serve other than the public. [Paid Adv

Under the caption, "Peoples Column," will be found an article taking the editor to task for boosting and other reasons. We would not publish this article if it was not for showing just what we think is the matter with a few of our most "prominent and well educated" people here and elsewhere. We signed the name to it "I. N. Rong" because he is wrong, and shows the trend of kind of people of his or her mentality. We do not object to him borrowing the Tribune to read, nor to finding fault with other features of the paper, but we do take exception to his attempt to belittle the public schools. The schools are here for the education of our young, and the man or woman who cannot support them and take interest in them, is about as ignorant as our correspondent, and the letter shows how much he needs a little of the schools in his mental makeup. It might be well for him to hire some competent person to give him a few lessons—he sure needs it.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Scio, Oregon, March 19, 1924 Mr. Editor of Tribune:

I have been borrowing your paper for sometime, being too poor to come down to yore office to subscribe for it, but i want to say that i aint get myself all worked up over yore editorials and rantings about this here being the propr town and comunity to do all my trading in or to send my kids to skule. Yore skule is about as punk as enny i have ever hered, and yue aire all the time boosting it, and from what i can here yue are trying to run everything in this here comunity, even from the city to the schools and us farmers by telling us where to trade &c. Now, Mr. Editor, what i am trying to get at is that i think there is some other work for yue to do other than to try to tell us that yore way of thinking is the rite weigh, and for you to attend to yore own business and let us alone. Ov coarse yue think that evryone ought to take yore paper and maybe thev ought, but if all the pepul was like me yue would not have enny takers of yore sheet—it aint worth subscribing for or reading. Quit boosting the stores and the skule, and i will promise you i will be yore friend.

I. N. Rong
