Elsie Limbek and her brother Carl drove to Salem Saturday to witness the unveiling of the Circuit Rider monument.

A conference of boosters for Albany College is being held in the First Presbyterian church in Albany today. Several from here were invited.

Wm. Folz found time while in town Wednesday to give the Tribune a friendly visit. He lives on route 1, and says things are looking pretty good in his neighborhood.

Miss Hazel Philippi, who is attending O. A. C., spent the week-end at her home in Scio. Miss Philippi is a Junior in commerce and a member of Beta Kappa sorority.

Ed Pamperine and wife; S. Chihak and wife of Portland; R. R. Borovika and wife and Wm. Beran and wife and daughter of Scio spent Easter with R. Borovika and wife.

J. W. Merritt has been confined to his home for several days with an attack of the flu, followed by pneumonia. For a time he was quite low, but is now on the road to recovery.

Mrs. J. N. Weddle stepped on a nail the first of last week and has been hobbling around on one foot for several days. Her foot is getting along nicely now and will soon be all right.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Long have just received word from Pacific City that Delbert Long and wife are the proud parents of a fine baby girl, born April 16. She has been named Delvon Irene.

Boys' and girls' clubs of the vicinity of Scio were visited by W. H. Baillie, district club agent, last week. He reported all members full of "pep" and progressing favorably with their work.

G. N. Crabtree and family of Albany, Mrs. Clara Griffin and E. C. Shelton and wife spent Easter Sunday at the home of Grandma Pomeroy. All report a fine time at home with mother.

Notice the ads in this issue of the Tribune. These would not be there if the advertiser did not know he would receive value therefrom. It pays to use the advertising columns of the Tribune for results.

The Scio high school, the home beautification club and the sewing club at the Oakview school, and the Riverview school were visited by Mr. Baillie who conferred with individual members at each place.

"A Council of War" in which moral forces of the Northwest will join to lay plans for an intensive campaign against violation and nonenforcement of the Prohibition laws has been called by the Anti-Saloon Leagues of Washington, Idaho and Oregon, for June 3-4-5 in Portland.

Fred Mumpers, the new commission man, moved his family from Junction City to Scio last Sunday, and have rented the furnished house of W. M. Abbot on South Main street. Three of their children have entered the local school.

The subject of the sermon in the Christian Church Sunday evening will be "The Lost Trail." If you have lost the trail come to church Sunday night and take it up again. A cordial invitation is extended to all. J. Y. Stewart, minister.

E. C. Shelton and wife have sold the place where Jerre Holechek lives to Jim Stalcup, the transfer taking place on the first of April. Consideration was $1200. Thus Scio property is still on the move.

A good many of our citizens have taken the opportunity to do the early clean up around their offices and homes the past few days—the beautiful sunshine and balmy atmosphere putting a little pep into the average citizen.

Wm. Young and wife came up from Camas, Wash., Saturday to spend a ten-day vacation at Scio visiting relatives and friends. They report having had a pleasant trip up, and as being glad to meet old friends in their old home.

Dr. A. G. Prill and wife and the latter's niece, Mrs. Edna Therber, who is visiting them, went to Newport yesterday to spend a few days at Oregon's famous beach. Mrs. Therber expects to leave for her home in New York early in May.

A truck load of express is leaving Scio every morning now for Portland, which shows that there is much produce raised around here to be disposed of. The coming to Scio of the commission house has had a wholesome effect upon the produce market.

Last week we said that "N. B. Moses had sold 139 acres to Frank Powlaski," when it should have been "Frank Powlaski has sold that number of acres to N. B. Moses." Sorry the mistake happened, but it is one of the trials and tribulations of newspaperdom.

The spirit of Easter reigned supreme on western railroad trains on Easter Sunday. Baskets of Easter eggs and candy rabbits were distributed by the company to tiny tots traveling on its trains. The little folks scampered about the cars in joyous egg hunts.

The Tribune was real busy the last of the week printing envelopes at $4.00 per thousand, which is the cheapest these have been in a number of years. And a great many people have realized it and took advantage of the liberal offer. We still have a large number on hand and can fill all wants. But you had better hurry, for this offer cannot last long, for as soon as the present supply is gone, the old price will prevail.

The unveiling of the "Circuit Rider" statue at Salem last Saturday drew great throngs of people from all over Oregon. It is estimated that 20,000 witnessed the unveiling. It is a beautiful bronze affair, and was donated by R. A. Booth of Eugene in honor of his father, who was a circuit rider for the Methodists in the early days of Oregon. It is located on the beautiful state house grounds near the state house.

"Jim" Ward, who is well known here, and who served time in the Oregon penitentiary for manslaughter, when he killed the city marshal at Sweet Home a few years ago, is again in the toils. He is charged with stealing calves and merchandise and robbing the Kings Valley post office. "Jim" is a notorious character, and this time he may be placed in the federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island, near Tacoma, if found guilty.

Mr. Baillie has recently taken charge of the club work in Linn, Marion, Benton and Lane counties under the auspices of the extension service. Club members of Linn county are much interested, in his opinion. He found many individual club members whom he will attempt to combine into standard clubs. More benefits will be derived, he thinks, and the clubs will be entitled to a judging team to enter in the competitive judging work of the county.
