A most nutritious salad is made by mixing cottage cheese and oranges cut in small cubes. Arrange on lettuce and serve with mayonaisse dressing to which whipped cream has been added. Nuts chopped rather coarsely may also be added.

A pleasing variation of plain vanilla ice cream is made by scooping out balls of ice cream with the round ice cream dipper, and rolling each serving in nabisco crumbs, made by rolling nabisco wafers on a board with a rolling pin.

For angel food cake, try using three-fourths cup egg whites (about 7 whites) and filling the cup with ice-water or very cold water. Mix in the usual way, using 1 1/2 cups sugar and one cup sifted flour, three-fourths teaspoon cream of tartar, and salt and flavoring to taste. This is a saving of from one to two whites.

The practical finish for woodwork in the kitchen is a washable paint in cream, gray or buff. Light colored walls make the kitchen a brighter and more cheerful place to work in.

Wicker furniture used in combination with oak or mahogany often adds to the attractiveness of the living room.

Painted furniture is dainty and attractive for use in bedrooms. Wicker furniture when upholstered with chintz, is good.

Furniture in the center of the room gives a crowded appearance and is inconvenient. In a small room especially it is better to leave the center of the room clear.

Oregon Made Home Knitting Yarns

A great surprise for the home knitters of Oregon, but still a fact. Furthermore, this yarn is absolutely virgin wool yarn; the wool was grown in Linn county, sold by Mr. Senders to the Oregon Worsted Company (mills located at Sellwood), made into worsted yarn by Roy T. Bishop, son of C. P. Bishop, proprietor of the Woolen Mill Store of Salem. Oregon knitters try this yarn out. All colors, 45¢ per ball of 2 ozs. Samples sent on application. Address C. P. Bishop, Box 75, Salem, Oregon.

THURSDAY, May 15, 1924

Jefferson Myers is a former Scio boy, and is thoroughly competent to handle the treasuryship of the state. Nominate him.

Tomorrow is primary day. Lay aside your work for a short time and go vote. You owe it to your country. Don't let it be said you did not do your duty--incompetents get into office if we do not vote.

Senator McNary is the leading man at this late hour for U. S. Senator, and as he has made good, why should we burn the bridge before us? The other men are good, to be sure, but McNary has proven true to his people, so why change at this time?

There are some 2500 miles of roads in Linn county and over 3200 bridges to keep in repair, to say nothing of the new ones to be built. This requires money, and a wise administration of the finances to keep the taxpayers' heads above water. But we need roads and bridges, so there.

Tomorrow is primary day, and it behooves every voter to do his or her share in nominating good and true men to office. This community has two good men on the ticket for county offices, and one for representative, and if we are to get anywhere it is up to us to help put them over the wire tomorrow. Never in years has so much good road work been done in this community as since we elected D. C. Thoms as commissioner from this end of the county, and no other part of the county needed the roads any worse than we did. He will continue to give us the same due consideration if he is nominated and elected county judge. Let's help to put him over.

Major Frederick L. Martin, who was assigned as commander of an airplane fleet to explore the world, and who on two occasions met disaster, is to be recalled, according to report emanating from Washington. Martin and his mechanic have twice faced death since they started on this wild and expensive trip, and because of faulty engine. To the official in his padded office back in Washington, this should not have happened to Martin and his companion--so he is to be recalled and his record investigated. Probably being done to prevent an investigation of why such an untoward program was mapped out by the department responsible for the world trip by airplane. The thousands of dollars being spent on this whim could have been used to better advantage, such as keeping it on hand to help in reducing taxes. But seemingly this had to be done to show the country that a real tax reduction program would bring financial disaster to the country.

San Francisco county and other counties in the bridge district are planning a bridge across San Francisco Bay to connect San Francisco and Oakland. It is estimated that this work will cost over $1,000,000. A suspension bridge is also planned for Golden Gate to connect San Francisco with a tier of northern California counties, which, it is said, will be 1040 feet longer than any other suspension bridge in the world.

PATRONIZE THE TAXPAYER

Because of the recent change of schedules upon the running time and accommodations of the S. P. Ry. for the Scio territory, it behooves the people to take cognizance of the reasons for the change and the unhandiness of possible passengers on the train to the capital city. Busses have displaced the trains, for people would rather patronize them than the train; short freight hauls are made by trucks, while the trains can go on their way empty; the railroads are heavy taxpayers in the county and state, while the people have built expensive highways to allow them to be used by trucks for gain and without taxation except the auto licences collected by the state. The railway company cannot go on forever doing business at a loss, no more than a farmer can keep a hundred head of stock on hand when the feed they consume would eat up the majority of the stock before they are sold. If we want railway service, if we want easy access to the metropolis or the capital city, we must begin to figure out a system whereby we can have it. We cannot have it by giving all our trade to busses and trucks. We cannot have it by taxing ourselves to build highways and getting nothing in return for the expenditure. We must solve the question by patronizing the taxpayer.

HELPING OREGON FARMERS.

The relation of manufacturing, labor and pay rolls to agricultural prosperity is not usually given that thoughtful consideration which its tremendous importance deserves. That the Oregon farmer is denied that degree of prosperity to which the rich farm lands, the genial climate and the arduous labor put on the growing crops entitles him is unquestionable. This is largely due to lack of customers--consumers of the product he can produce. These customers can only be procured by increasing manufacturing plants thereby employing labor in turning our cheap, raw materials into finished products of far greater value. The farmers of Oregon are vitally interested in those agencies which promote manufacturing. It is obvious to anyone who will investigate that farmers in close proximity to large industrial plants where many men are employed and large pay rolls exist, are prosperous and land values are high. These much to be desired conditions can and will be established in Oregon in proportion to the extent the manufacturing interests are created and extended in the several sections of the state.

The public utilities of Oregon are doing constructive work in this direction as a result of the vast development programs now being carried out.

Their work will inevitably bring more productive industries to the state because of the unfailing and unlimited power supply that is being prepared by the local utilities to meet all current and prospective demands.

Ed D. Gilson, former Lebanon man, now Justice of the peace at Bend, has gained distinction by fixing Alfred Munz, a hardware dealer, $2500 dollars for selling moonshine stills and equipment. During the last two years he is said to have made and sold 25 stills.

U. S. EXPERTS LEAD WAR ON FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

This is Dr. U. G. Houck of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, (left) who has been placed by Secretary Wallace in complete command of the fight being effectively waged on the foot and mouth disease outbreak in California, and G. H. Heck, director Department of Agriculture, State of California, who is assisting Dr. Houck in quickly and permanently stamping out the epidemic.

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—The full force of the United States government has been brought into play effectively against the foot and mouth disease in California. The disease has been confined to certain limited districts in the state and the work of stamping it out is proceeding rigorously under the direction of Dr. U. G. Houck, personal Representative of Secretary Wallace, department of agriculture, who has complete control of the combined federal and state forces. "Every method justified by our past experience and by scientific study is being used to prevent any possibility of spread of the disease and to wipe it out so thoroughly that there will be no chance of its recurrence," said Dr. Houck. "There is no danger of spread of the disease through shipment of fruits, vegetables or dairy products from the great non-infected areas of California. We know of no instance where the disease has been carried by such shipments," Dr. Houck said. Complete confidence in the men in the field was expressed by Dr. J. R. Mohler, chief of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture, in a message he has just sent to Dr. Houck and the local federal inspectors. "We have in California," he said, "the best equipped force of inspectors that was ever assembled on a foot and mouth detail. Our methods are not experimental, but have been weighed in the balance of practical experience and have always produced the desired results."
