Scio defeated the Bakers nine of Salem by a score we are ashamed to announce. Next Saturday Scio will play at Lebanon, the occasion being the annual strawberry festival, which will no doubt draw a large crowd from here.

Committee Selects Monument

The committee to raise the funds and select the monument to be erected in honor of Elder Joab Powell and the 19 original members of the Providence church, met in Salem last Saturday at the Salem Monumental Works and selected a five-ton monument, which will bear all the historical names of that grand body of men and women who brought the Providence church into existence away back there in 1853.

The committee is composed of Riley Shelton, Jefferson Myers, Prof. J. B. Horner and W. L. Jackson. While all the funds are not in sight, it is believed all the money will be raised before the dedication day arrives. The monument will be in place for the annual meeting of the society on Sunday, June 15, when it is expected several thousand will attend. Prominent speakers will be secured, a basket dinner served at noon and other features will mark the day.

Graduates Get Diplomas

The school house was well filled last Thursday night when the graduation exercises for the seven boys occurred. Each performed their part well, and those who took part in assisting with the program also performed well. The stage was tastefully decorated with the colors of the class, lavender and yellow, which made a handsome background. The address of the evening was delivered by Prof. S. M. P. Dolan of the engineering department of O. A. C., and his subject was "Play Fair." Much good food for thought was distributed throughout the talk.

Day Spent Quietly

Decoration Day was spent quietly in Scio, many going to the cemeteries and decorating the graves, others on picnics and fishing parties, but there was no exercises staged. It is entirely fitting that this day should be spent as quietly as possible, and our people are no exception to this rule.

Mrs. Vilas Philippi and daughter, Alma, Mrs. Fred Jones, Mrs. R. L. Hixon and Miss Leta Couey attended the Cinderella ballet dance in Salem Monday night given by Mrs. White's class. The visitors say the exercises were good, but that too many hours were consumed, nearly four hours of extreme heat and activity trying the nerves of the participants.

Ten car loads of boys from Albany

College passed through Scio Thursday evening enroute to Cleveland Rock to spend Memorial Day holiday. Friday morning while opening a can of coffee one of the boys cut his hand quite badly and some of the boys brought him to Scio to a physician to have it dressed.
