

John Shindler Dies

At 5:30 last Friday morning John Shindler passed away at his home in this city, the cause of his death being heart failure.

John Shindler was born in bohemia 68 years ago and came to America when a young man. He has lived on a farm near Scio for 25 years. He is survived by his wife, six daughters, three sons, 17 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The daughters are: Mrs. Helen Mitchell of Kentucky; Mrs. Amy Bures of North Dakota; Mrs. Anna Plenert of Ohio; Mrs. Elva Caples of California; Mrs. W. H. Stratton of Albany; and Mrs. J. H. Hildreth of Scio. The sons are: Frank and Joe of Scio and Charles of Panama.

The funeral was held at the Z. C. B. J. hall Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, conducted by J. F. Patry, and burial was at Franklin Butte cemetery. The service at the grave site were conducted by W. H. McLain.

A. C. Chrisman Hurt

Sunday afternoon, as the people were leaving the Providence church at the close of the memorial service, A. C. Chrisman was knocked down by a Ford car which came up behind him on the incline leading from the church to the main road. It is not known just how the accident occurred, but it is thought that the driver became excited when people began to call to Mr. Chrisman warning him of his approaching danger. It is said the driver held the car for a time and then for some reason seemed to let it go.

Mr. Chrisman was knocked down and the front wheel of the car ran over his leg and bruised his hand, but fortunately no bones were broken. After being rescued from under the car by friends he was able to walk, although suffering considerable pain. He is 87 years of age and lives with a son, W. E. Chrisman, at Lebanon.

In Memoriam

Whereas, death has again come into our midst, and has removed our brother, John Shindler, we bow our heads in sorrow as we submit to the will of the Almighty. Be it therefore Resolved, that the T. J. Sokol Club has lost a steadfast friend and booster, and the community an upright citizen.

Resolved, that we do truly sympathize with the bereaved family in this sad hour.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread on the records of this club, a copy be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother, and a copy published in the Scio Tribune.

If You Want to Sell

On page 4 there is an advertisement (so there is on every page) of considerable interest to every one who has an article of any kind to sell. The promoter is a young man living on route 3, and not having a great amount of stuff himself, felt there were others who would join him. The commission is very small and you save the hard work. Read the ad and make your listings with him or either of those mentioned in the ad. List anything from a teakettle to a sawmill.

Card of Thanks

We hereby extend our sincere thanks to our many friends for their kindness and expressions of sympathy and for the beautiful floral offerings for our dear wife and mother.

THINGS UNUSUAL

By T. T. MAXEY

THE OLD FAIRBANKS HOUSE

There is hardly a section that does not have its "old house." Most of them, however, take their hats off to the old Fairbanks (formerly Fayerbank) house, which stands in a cluster of stately trees in the little city of Dedham, Mass. With the exception of certain adobe, stone or shell houses in California and Florida, this probably is the oldest house still standing in the United States.

This relic of days gone by was built in 1686. It is perhaps the best example of Old English frame cottage construction to be found in America, was lived in up to about twenty years ago by eight generations of the Fairbanks family, retains its primitive simplicity, quaintness and picturesque and is now filled with heirlooms of the Fairbanks family.

Like many old-time structures, the main portion is flanked on two sides by wings and the pitch roof of the middle section extends very near to the ground in the rear. The front side contains eight windows and no two of them are alike. As if to have an individuality all its own, a time-honored practice was departed from in that neither the front door nor the chimney are in the exact center of the house. Curiously, also, the doorways are exceptionally low—persons of ordinary height having to bend slightly on entering.

Some of the rooms never have been plastered and the beams and rafters show overhead. Over the fireplace in the quaint little parlor swings a wooden crane from which kettles were suspended over the fire for cooking purposes. In the days before kerosene, grease lamps hung in this crane furnished such light as was available when there was no fire in the fireplace.

Other relics of bygone days include: Molds for making candles, spinning wheel, foot warmers, Dutch ovens, an ox saddle, small diamond-shaped window glass, made to be set between lead strips, putty being unknown.

All in all, this old place portrays in vivid fashion the home life of the early New Englanders. It has attracted visitors from practically every state and more than twenty foreign countries.

The descendants of the family have banded themselves into an organization to the end that this historic spot may be preserved.

Rural Carrier Examination

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Lebanon, Ore., on July 12, 1924, to fill the position of rural mail carrier at Scio and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from that post office. The salary is $1800 per year for 24 miles with $30 per mile or fraction for all over 24 miles. Applicants must be actually domiciled in the territory where the vacancy exists. Either male or female are eligible, provided the female is a widow of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines, or the wife of a soldier, sailor or marine who is physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty. Application blanks may be secured from Postmaster Sticha or from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. At the examination applicants must furnish unmounted photographs of themselves taken within two years.

Meets Old School-friend

J. D. Densmore went to Portland Monday to meet an old school-friend, A. E. Bradford, whom he had not seen for 36 years. Mr. Bradford and Mr. Densmore attended high school together in Augusta, Wisconsin, when they were aged 13 and 14 years.

Mr. Bradford is a banker at Augusta and is president of the Umpqua Timber company at Marshfield, Oregon.

Mr. Densmore says they had a wonderful visit, and that his friend recognized him as soon as he saw him.

So that's your new overcoat, eh? Isn't it rather loud?

It's all right—when I put on a muffler.
