

Enoch Shelton Writes

Word from Enoch Shelton, who with his wife, Art Shelton and family and Henry Bilyeu and wife, is sojourning at Belknap Springs, says they arrived okay and have a nice place to camp. It has rained several times there. The roads are good all the way in. The cabins rent for $2.50 per week, and you buy your wood or rustle it.

On the mountainside the other day they saw a big bear, and one morning a deer was grazing near their camp. The mineral waters and baths have proven beneficial to the party. The party, excepting Bilyeu's, will leave for home next Tuesday, stopping in Eugene to visit an aunt. The management is kind and courteous to all, and plan on spending $100,000 on improvements in the next five years.

It is just 125 miles to Belknap Springs, and they made the trip in six hours. The river abounds with large fish and is the swiftest in the world. Elden Knauf has won the honors for being the champion fisherman of their crowd.

When you entertain, let us furnish you, with 500 score cards.

At this time of year it is well to market your eggs at least twice a week or oftener, as they spoil quickly in the heat. A loss is sure if you do not—bad eggs do not sell
