

SANTIAM FARM NEWS

July 8

The old man pulled in home Saturday evening after a few days visit to Monitor and Portland, where he took in the sights, as it was his first visit to Portland in past ten years, finding all well and prosperous and enjoying life. With a crowd of relation we celebrated the Fourth five miles east of Scott's Mill, having a time such as you read about in the good book where they killed a Jersey bull, and had ice cream galore and all wanted more.

John Swan and wife of Portland drove up to the Richardson Gap hall and greatly enjoyed the Fourth out among the country people.

Delbert Yergen, wife and two sons of Butteville pulled in to our celebration at the big hall, having quite a time and enjoying life; returning to the Santiam farm in the afternoon, also Mr. and Mrs. Swan, where they had a fine time till over Sunday.

The old man, while out on his vacation visited his daughter, Mrs. Ida Graham, and family of Elliott Prairie, near Monitor. Also visited his niece, Mrs. Inez Stoddard and his son, Theodore, in Portland, finding them all fine. Mrs. Stoddard has a fine home at 158 Idaho street. Theodore took his father over the town to view the sights of the city.

Tom Haley and family of Free-water, an old-timer of this section some ten years ago, are down on a visit among their old friends, calling in at the Santiam farm Sunday. They will go to Yaquina the last of the week to spend ten days, when they will return to their home at Free-water, where they own a fine fruit farm. He sold his crop of Bing cherries before leaving at 18c per pound, but had only about half a crop.

Clarence Lovejoy and wife of Dallas pulled in at the Santiam farm Saturday afternoon. He returned home Sunday, but Mrs. Lovejoy will remain a week with her mother, Mrs. S. W. Gaines.

When the Pie Eater returned home he found all well and everything floating along like a leaf on the stream, with a house full of friends and relation, with Curtis Griffin and jewel wife making everybody happy, so the old man felt like he was in heaven.

John and Elmer Griffin drove up from Salem Saturday. Johnny returning the same day and Elmer remaining until Monday. Johnny reports that three of his convicts at the pen made a dash and got out, not liking the grub. All left for the tall timber, as the hotel had too many boarders.

Grant Teeters and wife of the Chemawa Indian school came up Tuesday to visit her grandmother, Mrs. S. W. Gaines, returning home Wednesday. Mrs. Teeters is a daughter of Al Munkers of Scio.

Mrs. John Hartley, two sons and daughter called Sunday for a supply of cherries, as they are quite ripe.

Art Lettenmaier and wife called in Sunday afternoon for cherries and a social chat.

Mrs. Milligan and three daughters dropped in Sunday for a short visit with her aunt and three cousins.

Our good neighbors, Ed Kalina, wife and son, Raymond, came in late Sunday for to renew old acquaintance with some old friends, all having a hog-killing time, the same as when we were a boy.

Coral Lucas' youngest son met with a serious accident last Tuesday when he fell from the hay loft onto a sharp picket, which cut a bad gash in his breast. It required several stitches to close the wound. He was removed to the hospital. Last reports say he is getting along as well as could be expected.

James Platt of Scio was around Monday selling medicine and extracts, as he is not able to work.

Ed Kalina went up to Dr. Rosine's for a load of fall oats to sow this fall, as he fears they will be scarce and high. He paid 60c per bushel.

GILKEY STATION

July 8

Mrs. Joseph Fares of Park City, Utah, arrived over a week ago at the R. H. McCarter home to help care for her invalid nephew, Mr. McCarter, whom she had not seen since he was 15. Mrs. Fares is 85 years old and made the trip alone; was two days and one night on the road.

Melvin Donald Smith, Alvin Smith and Chester Tempest of Portland arrived at the Leonard Gilkey home Monday. The boys are camping on the banks of Thomas creek, where the Smith brothers camped two years ago. They are enjoying an outing, and are in search of work. Melvin attends the blind school in Salem, where he is doing good work, and plans to become a lawyer. The boys say they want to stay here all summer.

Isalene Kester is visiting at Orville and W. A. Gilkey's.

Floyd Crenshaw went to Roseburg Saturday with his truck to move Prof. and Mrs. Harold Therby of
