THURSDAY, July 17, 1924

Hooray! Taxes are reduced! We can see the movies now without being taxed. O boy!

A Scio woman says it is wonderful what bobbed hair does for her sex—you can't tell which is the "flapper."

The roads in this section were never in better condition. They can be kept that way if the patrolmen will use the drag religiously.

Wall street is betting 12 to 5 on Coolidge, which ought to be an incentive for the wheels of industry to begin to revolve. In this day an election is turned by gamblers, who break the law of the land, and the sooner we vote for the man because of his fitness and not because of the betting odds, that much sooner will we get beneficial legislation.

The democratic convention is over and the nominees are men of the highest character. The defeated men were also of high character but lacking in political expediency. They were personally ambitious and politically swamped. Can John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan cement a divided democracy and win next November? Election day will tell.

Good morning! This is July 17th and the month is half gone. Some say business is getting better while others say it is "rotten." The view point depends upon our optimism. If we have faith in our business, so will others, no matter what the business may be. The moonshiner and bootlegger have faith in their business, and there is just enough men and boys who buy their poison to make that business profitable, even to wrecking their health or life. Faith works wonders—either for good or bad.

How can a man be dangerous to his country when he does everything in the open? Is a man dangerous because he advocates and works for beneficial legislation for the masses? Bob LaFollette has never robbed bank depositors, nor defrauded the government, and has been straight in all things. We are not championing Senator LaFollette because of his candidacy but because the big papers like to tear a really big man to pieces because the "interests" say so, as they don't want to lose out on the good thing they now enjoy.

A. S. Gross, master of the Washington state grange, gives notice to the business interests of the country that a condition which forces nearly one-third of the population of the country (the farmers) to lose money and run into debt is certain to react to business generally, and that the other two-thirds, which have been enjoying prosperity, are certain to feel the depression of agriculture—in fact is already feeling it generally. He says agriculture has reached the limit of endurance, and the result is a distinct tightening up in industry and employment all over the country, and that further curtailment is certain until readjustment comes.

HAVE THE POWER

Farmers have the power to make their industry profitable. They produce what the world must have. By working together, selling together, standardizing and controlling their own business, they can get a large part of the profits that others now make off from them, and be contented and prosperous. But until enough of them can think this way, and enough of them will act this way, cooperative movements will continue to fail, or function with little results. It needs 90 per cent of the growers of a product to say "hands off" to the army of middle men. With such an organization the farmers would be as powerful to get profit prices for their products as the shoe manufacturers are to get theirs.

By this time farmers must realize that legislation will never restore their prosperity, and neither will an easier method of borrowing money. It will take mass action and complete control of their products. When they supplant the hosts of middle men by their own organization and reach the head of the big chain stores and other big buying concerns for their markets, they will be getting on. Ninety per cent organization is needed to do this kind of business. It is entirely up to the growers when this percentage of power shall come.

GILKEY STATION

July 15

Word has reached here of the death of Mrs. Bertha Price, which occurred at Clatskanie Sunday at the home of her son, Powell Price. The funeral will be held at Jefferson Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Price lived near Thomas many years and has many friends here who will regret to hear of her passing.

H. A. Riggs of Burns, Kansas, has come to visit his brother, H. P. Riggs, and they all went to Newport for the week-end.

Otto Yunker cut his arm quite badly on a saw Monday while working for S. P. Crenshaw.

O. L. Holt and son Nolan of Portland, and Nora Holt of Albany were visiting S. B. Holt's and Fred Sommer's Sunday.

Herman Zeller is home and he and his father went to Silverton Sunday. While there they visited Wm. Blakemeyer, an old friend and neighbor Mr. Zeller had not seen for 8 years.

T. M. Holt and wife went to Oregon City Sunday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Holt's second cousin. They returned Monday.

Isalene Kester has returned to Albany, after about two weeks' visit here.

Jack Jones, wife and son, Harry, of Stayton were dinner guests at J. G. Holt's Sunday. Harry remained to visit longer with his grandparents.

A good many from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Queener, held at the Miller cemetery Saturday. Mrs. Queener was a sister to Mrs. J. G. Holt, J. H. and W. R. Kelly and Clifford Kelly of Post. She had many friends here.

The Thimble club met Thursday at the W. A. Gilkey home with 27 members present and the following visitors: Mrs. Chris DeWall and Isalene Kester of Albany, Mrs. S. F. Zysset and Anna Riggs. A delightful time was spent. Mrs. Goar and Miss Riggs delighted the club with songs and piano music. The new president, Mrs. R. H. McDonald, presided. Mrs. Jessie Eckengren was ill and Mrs. Anna Mespelt took her place as secretary. Names were drawn for the committees to act for the yearly banquet, when we entertain our husbands and families the evening of August 9. Lemonade was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Edna Gilkey, July 24.

Mrs. J. S. Funk is now home from Corvallis and improved in health.

No Car Like It!

42 horsepower! 50 miles and more an hour—hour after hour—without over-heating—without loss of power—without carbon cleaning!

And at the end of a long sustained high speed, your motor will be cooler, will need less water than any similar sized poppet-valve engine.

This engine's power curve keeps climbing up while the power of a poppet-valve car is dropping off. Furthermore, the Willys-Knight is entirely free from those engine repairs which make up 50% of the upkeep cost of practically all poppet-valve cars. It has no cams—no springs—to get out of order. A car you can keep season after season. Take a ride today.
