SHELBURN NEWS

July 29

Alfred Blatchford and family of Lents called in the neighborhood Wednesday evening on their way to Plainview to spend his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Blatchford.

Lee George and family returned home from the ocean Thursday evening.

Mary Gibbons is spending the summer with her uncles near Condon, Ore.

Opal Shilling went to Silverton Friday to spend a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Kate Hay, and family.

Ralph Shilling returned from Silverton Thursday evening, where he spent several days visiting his uncle, Jim Hay, and family.

Mrs. John Ransom called on Mrs. Charles McClain Friday afternoon.

George Blatchford and wife and Alfred Blatchford, wife and daughter were visiting old friends and neighbors in the Shelburn and Scio communities Friday.

Oro Bates and Vannie Shelton have been trucking the lately threshed wheat of some of the neighbors to market.

Mrs. Lee George visited her mother, Mrs. Trolinger, who is ill, last Saturday.

M. B. Miller and Margaret Brown visited friends in Salem Sunday.

Catherine Ransom and Vera Carson visited Venita McClain Friday afternoon.

W. H. McLain made a business trip to Albany Saturday.

Harvey McLain was visiting in Salem Monday.

Charles Bates and wife returned home Sunday from their ranch below Shelburn, where they have been harvesting their crop.

Delmer Churchill was visiting home folks Sunday.

Word has been received from Eugene Miller and wife that Eugene's health has been much improved by the ocean air. In consideration of this they intend to stay a few days longer.

Mrs. Fred Roadarmel drove to Eugene Sunday to visit her daughter-in-law and infant granddaughter. She found them both getting along fine.

As the Stayton sawmill truck, loaded with heavy lumber, was crossing the pontoon bridge near Stayton Monday afternoon, the middle span gave way and the rear part of the truck went down. Had there not been long lumber on the truck, which held the truck from tipping over, the driver would have met with serious injury. As it was, no one was injured, not even the truck.

Leave For Red Bluff

After spending a week with his daughter, Mrs. Vilas Arnold, and other children and friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Posvar and granddaughter of Red Bluff, Calif., left Monday on their return trip. J. W. Shimanek and family, also of Red Bluff, who came up the first of July accompanied them.

Theodore Shimanek also went down to see the country.
