

THE SCIO TRIBUNE

The electrical show Saturday night came to us without any advance advertising and caused some fright and considerable damage. It was the worst we have seen or heard since coming to Oregon 13 years ago.

On the front page an opportunity is offered for some organization to put some extra money in its treasury and also boost the Linn county fair. There is opportunity also for everybody to make a little money by patronizing Tritone advertisers.

In the untimely death of J. W. Miller the community loses a worth while citizen and booster, the county a real asset, and his family a kind and considerate husband and father. Though dead, his work and life will live, for no man lives in vain who does the best he can for his fellow-man, his community, his county and his state. Every community has too few of men like J. W. Miller.

The Land Settlement committee of the State Chamber of Commerce is making a campaign to bring new settlers into Oregon—farmers and manufacturers. The idea is to so populate Oregon that home products will find a demand and all available soil put under cultivation. No one should sell out and move away, but should divide their large holdings at a reasonable price to the settler. It is a big work, and all of us can help considerable.

Politics started Monday, when the democratic nominee for president received his official notification from the committee appointed for that purpose at the democratic national convention. It must be a terrible strain on all presidential nominees to have to wait so long after a convention adjourns to hear the news of their nomination. The republican nominee will hear about his nomination today, while the independent must wait till September.

C. C. Bilyeu and daughter, Grace, and Miss Myrtle Hollis returned yesterday afternoon from a weeks outing at Belnap Springs.

J. D. Densmore and son, John, and Paul Lardon were in Salem Friday buying finishing lumber for the Densmore's new home.

Wade Cyrus and wife Rainier, Wash., visited E. G. Arnold and wife Sunday. Mr. Cyrus and Mrs. Arnold are brother and sister.

Archie Lindley and family drove to Eugene Sunday, going up on the east side and returning on the west side highway through Corvallis.

Mrs. Margaret Welander and two daughters and Ole Haugen have returned to their homes at Hoquiam, Wash., after a visit at the Gerald McDonald home.

The jury panel for the September term of court was drawn Tuesday. Six of the 31 jurors are women. Elizabeth K. Ewing of North Scio and Charles Vsetecka of South Scio are on the list.

P. H. MacDonald and wife attended the baseball game in Salem Sunday. Mr. MacDonald says it was not very interesting because of being so one-sided. Salem won by a big score.

SANTIAM FARM NEWS

August 12

Hello, Mr. Editor! Not dead yet—good as two dead men.

We had a regular July picnic in August today, as the threshing crew finished up the last job of threshing in this section Sunday, so most of the neighbors gathered in for a general good time. They were all glad to know their crops were all in the dry without the loss of a man. We wish the crew good luck and prosperity, with thanks for past favors.

Clarence Lovejoy and wife drove in from Dallas Saturday night to the Santiam Farm for a visit with the old man and good wife, who is Mrs. Lovejoy's mother.

Our thunder storm Saturday night failed to bring us that big shower we were so anxious to see. They had a good shower around Brownsville and Lebanon.

Eldon Griffin came down from Lebanon, where he has been working with a threshing outfit, calling on his Uncle George, as his car needed some repair work. George does not run a garage but has quite a lot of tools, running opposition to the Scio boys, as he is good at fixing up cars free of charge.

Art Lettenmaier, wife and son, Dean, called in for a supply of sweet corn.

John Griffin drove up from Salem Sunday afternoon for a short visit over night with his mother, Mrs. S. W. Gaines.

We are expecting the lady of the Riverside Inn out to the Santiam Farm most any day, as she has not been out for some two months. She has been having a sore toe and lame knee, with a little touch of the hip swiney.

Harkened Back 30 Years

(Gilkey Correspondent)

The ladies' club again proved themselves to be royal entertainers when they entertained their husbands and families Saturday evening at the school house with a splendid program and supper of fried chicken, cakes, pies and all the good things farmers' wives are noted for in the baking line.

Both rooms of the school house were filled. The program caused a great deal of merriment, as the ladies tried to turn back the cycle of old Father Time and once again roam down the fair aisles of long vanished years, when they were school girls some 30 years ago. They dressed as then, and recited the same pieces which they spoke when at the little red school house on the hill. Mrs. Tina DeWall played the part as school teacher, the others sang and recited when she called their names, such as Arabell, Pollyanna, Melinda Jane, etc. It was a veritable school children's program of the long ago, as follows:

Grand march
Opening song
Recitation, Jennie Crenshaw
Recitation, Hattie DeWall
Recitation, Jessie Eckengren
Recitation, Frances Bartnik
Piano solo, Lucile Sommer
Recitation, Hazel Young
Recitation, Myrtle McDonald
Vocal solo, Pearl Freitag
Recitation, Hattie Kelly
Recitation, Anna Mespelt
Piano duet, Lucile and Violet Crenshaw

Recitation, Anna Holt
Recitation, Vada Whetstone
Dialogue, Pansy Shepherd and Mrs. Young

Piano solo, Opal Mespelt
Recitation, Lizzie Gilkey
Recitation, Effie Sommer
Piano solo, Lottie Sommer
Recitation, Bertha Young
Vocal solo, "Success to the Jolly Old Farmer," Edna Gilkey
Recitation, Alma Struckmeier
Recitation, Aunt Jemima (a young man dressed as woman)
Piano solo, Marion Gilkey
Song, "America," by all

The main feature of the program was a play which all would like to see again entitled, "Muffs, a Husband's Mistake." It was mostly in song, the quartet being composed of: Soprano, Lucile Crenshaw; alto, Mary Lois Goar; bass, Mrs. Goar; tenor, Evaline Holt. Mrs. Goar and Mrs. Holt acted the part of young gentlemen, and all did their parts exceptionally well.

Baptist Church News

Last Lord's Day the Lord Jesus blessed both the morning and evening services. After the morning preaching service there was a baptismal service held near the Scio bridge. Four of the young people were baptised in the river giving a testimony before the world in obedience to Christ that they had been saved by His grace. Mrs. Mumper and two of her daughters were received into our church membership.

The Lord willing the following services will be held in the Scio Baptist church on the Lord's Day.

Bible school for all, 10 a.m.
Young people's meeting, 7 p.m.
Boys and girls meeting Friday, 2:30 p.m.
Bible class Friday evening, 8 p.m.
All welcome. —Reporter

The regular Endeavor business meeting and social was held at Rev. Hedrick's home Wednesday evening, Aug. 6. The meeting was opened with Scripture reading, prayer and song service. After the business meeting the young folks enjoyed a pleasant evening playing games, and the older folks enjoyed the evening visiting and taking part in some of the games. About 40 were present and all enjoyed a good religious and social evening together.
