I pledge allegiance to my flag and the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

THURSDAY, Sept. 4, 1924

The independent party will not put a state ticket in the field, so the state headquarters announce. We know a good many independent republicans around here who have repeatedly said they were going to vote for Jeff Myers, Sterl Goin and A. K. McMahan (all democrats) and we guess that's where they are showing their independence.

When adversity strikes, it is the real man who crawls out, not the one who takes the count. The death of the old couple in Eugene the other day brings out the truth of our statement. At one time prosperous and respected, adversity overtook him and he was not able to buck the tide, so he took to drink, killed his life-long wife and then himself. A strong man when everything came his way, but woefully weak against the incoming tide.

The Prince of Wales received a royal welcome on his fraternal visit to Washington the other day. This welcoming of a distinguished guest is all right, but why spread the sham on so thick? An American laborer is worth more attention under all circumstances, yet if he ventured on or near the white house he would be arrested as being a lunatic and accused of carrying a bomb. Our nation is democratic, and when royalty comes let us remain democratic.

On Sept. 10 Judge Caverly, of the criminal court at Chicago, will render his decision in the case of Loeb and Leopold, charged with the murder of the Franks boy in Chicago about three months ago. This is a grave responsibility placed upon one man, and he must be made of iron to stand up under the terrible strain imposed upon him. No matter what his decision will be, he will be condemned by many people. The responsibility is too great to be placed upon one man to say whether or not two human beings shall die on the scaffold. The decision is awaited with abated interest.

One broadens his perspective and has a more tolerant feeling for his fellowmen, when trips are made on such errands as that of last week when business men and others from Albany, Lebanon, Scio, Foster and other points in Linn county visited Bend to get better acquainted with their neighbors on the east, and results mutual to both will follow. Linn county found the Benders a fine bunch of people, and anxious to become attached to us by the proposed Santiam Pass highway. It again demonstrates the old saying, "Get acquainted with your neighbor, you may like him." Only by friendly intercourse can we understand each other, and after all we have the same hopes and aspirations whether in Linn county or Bend—a betterment of our community and shorter route to market.

SANTIAM FARM NEWS

Sept. 2.

Jory Gaines and Mr. Allison of Portland called in Sunday afternoon for an evening's chat. This is the first call Jory has made in three years to see his uncle.

Newton Crabtree called in Sunday for a visit with his sister, Mrs. S. W. Gaines.

Mrs. Geo. Leever and two sons and Miss Stringer of Providence called in to see the old folks, as she is a niece, all having an old time visit.

Mr. Edwards and wife of Southern Oregon, and Mrs. N. E. Gill and daughter, Mrs. Grace, of Scio, called in Sunday evening for a short visit with old time friends and talk over old times.

There were five carloads of old friends came in to see the old people, which was a real grand treat, as it reminded us of our young days when people respected their friends and neighbors, which made life worth living for. Nowadays every fellow is all for self.

The old man and good wife made a trip to Scio Saturday to see the crippled lady, Mrs. Morris, and found her getting along nicely. On returning home in the evening, found the house full of company—John Swan and wife of Portland, Mrs. Delbert Yeargan of Butteville and Mrs. Martha Smith of Lebanon, all having a good time. Geo. Griffin and Clifton called in for an evening's chat, as they are all relatives. As Sunday was his 56th birthday he again called in for his birthday dinner which mother and relatives had prepared for him. He had a time eating 12 roasting ears.

Ray Baker, wife and son and Prof. Fisher and wife of Portland (the ladies are sisters and daughters of John Smallman, old time resident of Scio and ex-sheriff of this county) called in Monday afternoon. The ladies are grand nieces of Mrs. S. W. Gaines.

Jory Gaines, Mr. Allison and Mrs. Inez Stoddard, son and daughter of Portland called in Monday afternoon. Jory is a nephew and Mrs. Stoddard a niece of S. W. Gaines, all having a nice old time.

Mr. Chandler, wife, three sons and daughter of Albany called in Monday afternoon to form an acquaintance with the old people. He works in the Democrat office and are a nice family. They were treated to grapes and a good supply of vegetables.

J. W. McCoy and wife came out from Salem Sunday and spent the day with her aunt, Mrs. S. W. Gaines. Mrs. McCoy is a daughter of Mrs. Martha Smith and has been a cripple for the past seven years. PIE EATER.

Zink Brothers sawed wood for Carl Smith Labor Day and for W. H. McLain Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles McClain and daughter went over to pick hops near Talbot last Sunday.

Lee George and son, Clinton, joined the logging crew for the Hammond Co. last week.

Alfred Blatchford and family and her mother, Mrs. Lennox, all of Lentz, took dinner with Mrs. Mollie Miller and children Labor Day.

M. E. Gragg and wife of Bellefontaine spent Sunday at W. H. McLain's. Mrs. McLain returned to her home with them. She spent the last week at Bellefontaine.

GILKEY STATION

Sept. 2

W. J. Kelly and wife are leaving today for Lebanon to stay several weeks again, as Mr. Kelly has employment there in county road work.

The house and outbuildings of Hi Payne and wife were destroyed by fire the last of the week. It is rumored that all was lost, they just buried their son Charles about two weeks ago, and seem to be having more than their share of trouble.

Theodore Sims has been cutting lots of wood on the Guy McKnight place for Rolla Shelton.

About 30 attended the Farmers' Union at the Fred Sommer's home Saturday evening. A good meeting was enjoyed and muskmelons were served.

Richard Struckmeier has built a fine large prune dryer at a cost of several thousand dollars and is now operating it drying his own prunes and others. A. L. Tiedeman is running the engine to furnish the power.

The Crenshaws, Goars, Riggs, Yunkers, DeWall's and Schwartz's have gone hoppicking.

Herman Zeller and Floyd Crenshaw are hauling wood to the train from the Crenshaw place for Mrs. J. W. Miller of Shelburn. They have loaded six cars. Four hundred cords have been cut.

O. L. Holt of Portland was at his parent's home Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Ernest Kelly and Joe Kitchen and wife went to Cascadia Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Mespelt attended the summer school graduation exercises at Monmouth Thursday, where she witnessed her daughter, Mrs. Juanita Kitchen, graduate. She now holds a state life certificate, and has done remarkably well for one of her age and few years experience in teaching.

J. G. Holt and wife spent Sunday with Edward Ufford's at Lacomb.

Arthur Kelly's family of Lebanon and Russell and wife of Albany spent Sunday at J. H. Kelly's.

Ben Shafer and wife of Stayton were here Sunday visiting at the Frank Sommer and W. A. Gilkey homes. They were proudly displaying their newly adopted daughter, Flossie Cleo, a baby of 17 months.

The following attended the speaking by Missionary Evelyn Nichols Roy of India in Salem Thursday evening: J. G. Holt and wife, S. P. Crenshaw, W. A. Gilkey and wife and Marian.

F. I. Jones, wife and son, Harry, visited at J. G. Holt's Labor Day.

Mrs. Ernest Kelly is at her brother's home canning fruit.

A surprise birthday party was held for Lucille Crenshaw last week in honor of her 17th birthday, and about 40 attended. Cake, punch and melons were served.

People are picking prunes and evergreens here.

At the last women's club meeting held at Mrs. S. B. Holt's, with Mrs. T. M. Holt as joint hostess, it was decided to hold no more meetings until October on account of hoppicking and the county fair.

Several fires have made some excitement lately on Hungry Hill and the Klamer place, but no great damage was done.
