W. C. ?

A young couple, about to be married, were looking for a house in the country. After satisfying themselves that they had found a suitable one, they started for home.

During the return journey the young lady was very thoughtful and when asked the reason for silence, she replied, "Did you notice a W.C. anywhere?"

Not having noticed it, the prospective bridegroom wrote the landlord, asking where it was located.

The landlord did not understand what W.C. meant. After thinking it over for sometime, he came to the conclusion that W.C. stood for "Wesley's Church."

He replied as follows:

Dear Sir:

I very much regret the delay in answering your letter, but I have the pleasure of telling you that the W. C. is situated about nine miles from the house and is capable of seating about 200 persons. The distance is unfortunately far, but if you are in the habit of going regularly you will be glad to know that a great many persons take their lunch with them and make a day of it.

Others, who cannot spare the time take cars, arriving just in time. The last time my wife and I went was six years ago and we had to stand up all the time. I may mention that it pains me not to be able to go more often.

It may also interest you to know that we are behind a large movement to furnish the W. C. with plush seats as this has been a long felt need.

Yours very truly,

The National Industry Conference Board sees no cause for worry that the United States will not be able to support its increasing population, and says 200,000,000 persons could easily live and prosper here. Despite this authoritative assertion that we have plenty of room for visitors, we don't believe in extending special invitations to undesirable citizens of other nations to walk in and hang up their hats. Why not keep a little of this spare room for the home output of 100-per cent Americans?

AN OVERCROWDED INDUSTRY

In the acceptance speech of President Coolidge we find this paragraph: "I want the people of America to be able to work less for the government and more for themselves. I want them to have the rewards of their own industry. That is the chief meaning of freedom." This brings to mind the thought, and also fact, that there are too many working for the government that are purely excess baggage — for political reason — and should be checked out. How many people are there today drawing government salaries and the tasks they perform consist only in efforts expended in gaining votes to put in power their political machine? The man who is true to his government, to his own party and party principles, will neither ask nor receive financial returns for any aid he is able to render in putting his party and its principles into power. Where can we find such a man? Don't all speak at once.

You can get a lot of pointers if you happen to be in hearing distance when the good man begins to swear.

The merchant with a 33-inch yardstick will fall short of reaching the pearly gates, at least that far.

Inexpensive Fly Spray

A spray commonly used by Iowa dairymen and recommended by the dairy section at Iowa State college, is made by mixing four and one-half quarts of coal tar dip, four and one-half quarts of fish oil, three quarts of coal oil, three quarts of whale oil and one and one-half quarts of oil of tar. Dissolve three pounds of laundry soap, add the spray mixture and dilute the whole to thirty gallons with lukewarm soft water. This spray is not very expensive.
