Some of our subscribers from away would like to hear from these communities through the Tribune, so they write us. Will some one please volunteer. We have asked a number of people privately to take on this work with no success. Will you do it for some old friends who have moved away and would like to know what is going on? We furnish the stamps and stationery.

A Misunderstanding

Last week the editor of the Tribune misunderstood the duties of Mr. John Wesely, who has entered our employe as salesman, when the news story said he would sell and deliver in any quantity to the consumer at each call. Mr. Wesely's duty is to sell to the consumer direct, eliminating the middle man, and deliveries will be made to the farm if orders are individually or collectively large enough to warrant it. This is a new departure and means a big saving to the feeders.

Our feeds are as good as the best at a little less cost.
