Traffic Laws Discussed

A special meeting of the city council was held at the city hall last Thursday night, all members being present except Councilman Pennell.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing traffic and parking regulations and other laws which most everyone breaks every day unthoughtedly.

The councilman made it very clear they wanted the laws obeyed, but would not put the clamps on anyone who unthoughtedly broke the law until they had at least been notified once. The council thinks when the people understand traffic and parking regulations are made for their protection the occasions for arrests will be few, and that the city will be complimented by the public.

Semaphores will be placed in the intersections of Smith and Main, Mill and Main and Water and Main streets. Parking is to be done by backing to curb on 45 degree angle.

Safety is the slogan, so traffic on the streets in the city limits must not be over 15 miles per hour.

Scab Fungi Is Damaging

"Much damage is expected from apple scab and pear scab in western Oregon as a result of recent cold rains which favor rapid spread of the scab fungi," says H. B. Bars, plant pathologist of the experiment station. "Special precaution must be taken in putting on the calyx spray in commercial orchards to insure absolutely complete covering of the entire foliage, as well as the young fruit, with the spray as soon as the petals have dropped."

Liquid lime sulfur at the rate of 2 1/2 gallons to 100 gallons of water should be used except on sensitive-skinned pears, which should be sprayed with some non-caustic sulfur spray or dusted with dusting sulfur when the air is still.

The Spray Program for Oregon Orchards gives the complete spray schedule. It is sent free by the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis on request of growers.

Dance Saturday Night

A benefit dance will be given for the Scio baseball club next Saturday night at the Z. C. B. J. hall, and it is hoped a large attendance will be had. A 6-piece orchestra will furnish the music. The proceeds go to secure paraphernalia and fix up the ball park.

Dr. Poling Coming

Dr. Poling has tentatively set Friday evening, May 8, as the time to bring the Easter Cantata of the Albany First Church to Scio. Everybody keep that date in mind. If it becomes necessary to change the date, due notice will be given.

Stampless Letters Come Now

From an Oregon senator, whose family home is said to be in Idaho and business interests are in Chicago, the Tribune is now regularly receiving "franked" letters telling what he is doing for the dear people. For four years we noticed he was absent in Chicago on business or in Idaho looking after his sheep when important roll calls were to be had, except when he helped to seat Newberry of Michigan—he was present then. He was also present to help vote salary increases to all members of congress. He has just mailed this bit of good information to all Oregon newspapers:

"The Acting Chief Forester has just advised me that Oregon has been apportioned $1,039,474 out of the $7,500,000 authorized for national roads and trails in the Second Deficiency Appropriation Bill passed during the closing days of the last Congress.

Most sincerely yours,
Robert N. Stanfield."

Is Eighteen Years Old

Miss Bobby Thayer celebrated her 18th birthday last Friday. Thirteen of her girl friends were invited for a "Kid" party in the evening. They dressed as young children, half of them dressing as boys and the others as girls. The time was passed in playing children's games and doing stunts, and closed with the serving of refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake. Bobby received a large number of beautiful gifts.

Those present were: Misses Grace and Gloria Long, Myrtle and Dorris Hodge, Mildred Couey, Lona Zysset, Lucille Sommer, Bonita Sutherland, Bertha and Mae Calavan, Wilma Miller, Neva, Freda and Bobby Thayer, Mrs. Ben Thayer, and Leslie Thayer and Lyle Shelton.

Miss Gill Wins Prize

Donna Gill of Lebanon has been honored by being awarded first prize for the best story written by girl scouts on the subject, "Pioneers". Some time ago Mrs. Herbert Hoover offered a prize to the girl scout who wrote the best story, and last week Miss Gill received a telegram informing her that she was the winner.

Miss Gill is but 14 years of age. She is a daughter of Dr. J. G. Gill of Lebanon and a niece of W. F. Gill of Scio. She well deserves the congratulations she is receiving from her friends.

For Portland Visitor

Mrs. Jefferson Myers of Portland was the motif of several small social functions during her visit at the E. D. Myers home the past week.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. E. D. Myers invited a group of ladies for two tables of bridge in her honor.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Jefferson Myers and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Myers were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sticha, and Monday evening they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gill.

A Double Shower

Last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. M. Donovan a shower was given for her daughter, Mrs. Gerald Hassler, and Mrs. Johnnie Meritt (Maysel Hassler).

Twenty-five ladies were present to enjoy the afternoon in conversation and music. The afternoon closed with the serving of refreshments.

DO YOU REMEMBER

When the Holt family started in the business of raising pure bred Jerseys? That was 12 years ago. The Holts have found it interesting and lucrative, and all their animals are now register of merit. Sales now reach other states and the business is growing.

Last Meeting of Bridge Club

Mrs. Rolla Shelton was hostess at her home last Friday for the final meeting of the luncheon bridge club for this season. Mrs. Shelton used narcissus for decorations.

Mrs. W. F. Gill won first and Mrs. P. H. MacDonald the consolation prizes.

Mrs. Edwin Holland was an additional guest.

Go Slow on Flax Growing

State Market Agent Spence believes there is a great future for the flax-growing industry in Oregon, and that Governor Pierce perhaps builded better than he knew when he undertook to practically demonstrate it in the penitentiary. But he does not think the farmers should become over-enthusiased and overdo flax production until the markets for same are assured. "Flax mills are coming," says Mr. Spence, "and flax growing will no doubt develop into a big industry, but the farmers should not rush in ahead of demand. It is far safer to follow it."

CONGRESSIONAL RELIGION

More than 90 per cent of the members of the present Congress are adherents of some religious denomination, according to a statement from the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, Washington, D. C. The following is a summary:

Settlers Are Coming

More than 700 new families, representing an investment in excess of $2,000,000, have been located in Oregon during the past year through the efforts of the Land Settlement Department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, according to a report completed by W. G. Ide, manager of the department, for presentation at the annual meeting of the Portland Chamber, April 24.

During the same period, the number of agricultural inquiries received totaled more than 15,000, of whom 1087 prospective settlers have definitely announced their intention of coming to Oregon this year. The report stresses particularly the active cooperation received by the Land Settlement Department from a majority of the counties of the state, and calls attention to the enormous volume of inquiries received in recent months. During March, for example, more than 4700 requests for agricultural information were received, and these inquiries have been relayed to all Chambers of Commerce in the state.

I. O. O. F. at Sweet Home

The Linn-Benton semi-annual meeting of the I. O. O. F. lodge was held at Sweet Home last Saturday afternoon and evening. The meeting was attended by large delegations from both counties, and a good program was carried out.

A banquet was served to the delegates by the Rebekahs of Sweet Home in the Union high school building at six o'clock.

Those who attended from Scio were: C. C. Blyeu, B. A. Holteen, D. C. Thoms, N. I. Morrison, Frank Sommer, Newton Crabtree, J. N. Weddle and Otho Wallace.

The fall meeting will be held in Albany some time in October.

No County Prizes This Year

As a result of the county exhibitors last year petitioning the state fair board to eliminate the custom of awarding premiums to the several counties for the best exhibit, the change has been made to eliminate the strife which has existed among the counties owing to dissatisfaction over the decisions that have been made in the past. It has not been decided whether or not Linn County will have an exhibit this fall.

On Annual Study

Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Prill, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Shelton, will leave about the first of May for Lake Adel, in Lake county. This is the doctor's annual voyage to Lake Adel, where he studies the habits of bird life, nesting and care of young, the varieties, etc., for the biological branch of the Department of Agriculture of the U. S. Government. They expect to be gone a month.

Issues Outdoor Folder

A beautiful outdoor folder has just been issued by the Southern Pacific company depicting the great Oregon outdoors. It is in colors on the cover, while the inside pages are filled with pictures of health resorts and recreational grounds, as well as hunting and fishing. Anyone wishing a copy can secure same by writing to the general passenger agent, 805 Yeon building, Portland, Ore.

Wool Growers to Meet Here

Wool and mohair growers in the vicinity of Scio will hold a meeting in the city hall at 2 p. m., Monday, April 27, according to George A. Sandner, who will act as chairman.

The purpose of the meeting will be to consider the marketing and production problems of the small flock owner. E. A. McCornack will represent the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers' Association at the meeting, and C. J. Hurd, marketing specialist, and H. A. Lindgren, livestock field man, will also speak. Mr. Hurd will discuss marketing and Mr. Lindgren will take up the cost of producing wool and lamb. The meeting here is one of a series of similar meetings which have been held in Linn county and many other Southern Oregon and Willamette Valley counties.

Marketing is just as important, if not more so, than production, Mr. Sandner believes. He urges that all local growers who can possibly do so arrange to attend this meeting.

When Scales Are Wrong

From several sources have come letters of commendation to the state market agent, C. E. Spence, for the recent bulletin urging that country scales be kept tested and accurate. A paragraph from a letter from the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers is to the point, and follows:

"We are having this matter brot to our attention very forcibly in handling the shipments for 2600 wool growers in this and other states during the past four years. It is very seldom that we find any country scales that even closely check up with our U. S. licensed scales, which are tested twice daily. The result is misunderstanding and distrust on the part of the grower towards his cooperative, which is a bad thing."

There is absolutely no reason or excuse for inaccurate scales, says Mr. Spence. The state department will test them for any elevator, warehouseman or others without charge.
