"Uncle Tom's Cabin"
 In many respects W. J. Harvall's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is the most important of the season's productions. In the first place it serves to exploit the masterpieces of two of Europe's noted artists, i. e., Ralph Brunt's elaborate painting entitled "The Celestial City" and Hartz Verrion's picture of the New Orleans slave mart; and secondly, it has brought back into prominence the memories of that grand old lady, Harriet Beecher Stowe, and serves to reveal the beautiful lessons really to be learned by careful attention.
 Second to the Holy Book does Uncle Tom's Cabin rank as a sacred instructor. The pulpit has endorsed it as a moral teacher worthy of mankind's support, while the board of education in many of the large cities has encouraged scholars in witnessing the worthy dramatization of the story that was instrumental in making our country religious, free and happy.

It is a known fact that W. J. Har-vall possesses the original version of Mrs. Stowe's story and that it has been unanimously accepted by the press, pulpit and public of America and England. The Harvall revival

Hall's Catarrh Medicine
 Those who are in a "run-down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions.
HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Combined Treatment, both local and internal, and has been successful in the treatment of Catarrh for over forty years.
 Sold by all druggists.

will be brought to Scio on Saturday, June 20, 8:15 p. m., in a mammoth waterproof tent, having seats for nearly 2000 people—Mr. Harvall's company numbers nearly 50 people, travelling in their own train of motor cars, trucks and trailers. Two free concerts on the principal streets daily of the worth while kind.

GETTING SOMETHING TO GO WITH WHAT YOU HAVE

"When I am buying one new article I always try to select something that will go well with what I have on hand," says one well-dressed woman.

I call that a first-rate guide in choosing new clothes.
 For instance, if you have gray furs, don't buy a brown dress, but choose black or blue or gray, so that next winter they will look well together.
 But if you have a brown hat, do not select a gray dress, but take a brown one.

When a woman buys at random any color she may fancy, it can readily be seen that she will require many more clothes than the woman who selects everything new to harmonize with something she already has.

Many a hat looks well with one suit, but does not go with any of the others. An evening coat may look lovely with your blue dress, but positively hideous with the pink one, so that they can never be worn together.
 If you know that blue and brown, for example, are your most becoming colors, you should decide which of these is going to be most popular with the fashion dictators, or best suited to your purpose, and let this be the general tone of your wardrobe, keeping all your coats, suits and gowns, at least in harmony with it. Especially can the number of outer coats be reduced in this way. And, of course, all waists made this season will then be just the thing to wear with the next new suit.

In the same way, if you can afford only one new outfit, and you decide that a tailored suit best fills your need do not spoil it by purchasing an over-elaborate hat, or shoes meant only for party wear. Or if you have found by experience that fluffy, frilly things best fulfill your purpose, do not change over to tailored clothes all at once, and expect to keep a harmonious effect.

This is one of the greatest secrets of economical dressing. If you will plan your wardrobe so that any article you buy can be worn with any of the others, you will find that you do not begin to need so many hats, gloves, shoes, furs, petticoats, parasols, and the like, as the woman who does not use such foresight in her shopping.

SURFACE COOLER IS BEST FOR COOLING

Prompt cooling to 50 degrees Fahrenheit is absolutely essential for producing milk of low bacteria count, warns F. C. Button, professor of dairying at the New Jersey College of Agriculture in New Brunswick.

The quickest and therefore best way of cooling milk is to run it over a surface cooler. On such a cooler the milk passes over the outside surface in a thin layer. Cold water is circulated through the inside and thus chills the milk. By this means the temperature of the milk can be brought within two or three degrees of the temperature of the water. Ice water will be needed in hot weather to bring milk to 50 degrees Fahrenheit.
 Morning's milk should be cooled to at least 50 degrees Fahrenheit.
 Night's milk may, however, be cooled within two or three degrees of the temperature of spring or well water, since it is afterward placed in the cooling tank where further chilling can take place. The water in this vat should not be above 45 degrees.

After milk has been cooled by a surface cooler it can be held at 50 degrees Fahrenheit by placing in the vat two to two and a half pounds of ice for every gallon of milk. If the milk is not pre-cooled before being placed in the vat, four pounds or more of ice are needed to cool each gallon of milk.
 This pre-cooling will cut in half the amount of ice required in the tank.

The use of small-top milk pails and clean, sterilized utensils, and the milking of clean, healthy cows help to keep bacteria out of milk. Some always get in, however, and unless the milk is cooled quickly they multiply rapidly. In warm milk bacteria double their number every half-hour. At 50 degrees they reproduce very slowly.
