Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Tandy of Jefferson, became the bride of Mr. Marvin Andrew Hutchins of Portland, Rev. Albyn Eason officiating.

Hubbard Enterprise that the Marion county Sunday school picnic will be held at the state fair grounds next Saturday, June 20.

Harrisburg Bulletin that Eugene plans on securing the S. P. shops by hook or crook. And one of the crooks is to trade the S. P. Co. a fine tract of land for its Springfield holdings. Springfield is mad all over and calls Eugene a thief in big letters, for Springfield has, as everybody knows, had those shops in its vest pocket for 10 years!

Albany Democrat-Herald that Old Glory, the national emblem 148 years old Sunday, was paid due tribute by the Elks lodge at the pavilion in Bryant park, which was attended by hundreds of people. Flags were unfurled in the business section throughout the day.

Independence Enterprise that the Polk County Farmers Union picnic will be held at Rickreall next Saturday, June 20. James S. Burch of Corvallis and Seymour Jones of Salem will deliver addresses.

Oregon Statesman that four of the eight deaf students who graduated from the Oregon Deaf School successfully passed the examination necessary to enter Gallaudet College in Washington, D. C. The state will now have five students there, for which $400 each is allowed by the state.

Insects and Scientists
Scientists are making a special study of animal and insect life as a means of determining changes which have taken place in the earth. The relations insects of one region bear to those of another indicate that certain islands were once connected. In Jamaica, recently, they explored a very ancient section of that country that has been above the sea for a longer time than its neighboring land and which shelters insect tribes of great age. This discovery leads authorities to believe that animal life of that isle is more closely associated with those of Haiti or Cuba, and that it originally found its way from the mainland over a land bridge long since engulfed by the ocean.—Family Herald.

Church Authority Runs Along National Lines

Authority in the eastern orthodox churches is divided along national lines. There is a Russian church, a Rumanian church, a Greek church and so on, with primates, metropolitans or patriarchs of their own nationality at the head of each.
Four offices to which a great and ancient prestige attaches are the patriarchates of Constantinople, Alexandria, Antioch and Jerusalem, and that of the ecumenical patriarch of Constantinople has the most weight of all; his influence extends throughout the eastern churches; though his authority does not.
But the Russian church, for instance, is a sister church to that of Constantinople and not at all a subsidiary. Nor is this a result of recent events in Russia, the autonomy of the Russian orthodox faith dating to 1721.
Under the czars this was the established church. Soviet Russia has disestablished it and appropriated certain of its properties, and the government policy includes a propaganda against all religion. But any faith whatever may be freely professed in Russia, so far as Soviet law is concerned.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Moravian Church Has School in Far North

At Makkovik, in the ice-bound peninsula of the North American continent known as Labrador, a country where one may travel hundreds of miles without seeing a human habitation, and where the temperature in winter is often 60 degrees below zero, there is a boarding school kept by two Englishwomen.
It is under the control of the Moravian church; and is one of the most remarkable as well as the least accessible schools in the world. A mission steamer goes out once a year with goods for the Eskimos, and on her last trip along the coast, prior to her return, she takes both Eskimo children and the few white children available to the Makkovik boarding school.

There they must remain until the long winter is over, for in such terrible cold, and with no conveyance but dog-sledges, it is impossible for children to travel. That they are happy goes without saying, and with a gramophone, a piano, and a fine selection of lantern slides, as well as an excellent library, the children get not only a good education but also a good time.
All Will Be Fine.
"Sir," said the haughty lady who was holding up traffic. "I never hold a conversation with a man to whom I have not properly been introduced."
"That's all right, madame," replied the traffic cop, as he jotted down her number. "you meet me in the police court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and the judge will attend to that little formality."—Brooklyn Eagle.
