News From Lyons.

August 18

Quite a few families are taking an outing in the mountains and gathering huckleberries. As a rule they report good picking, while some haven't been as lucky in locating the patches. The berries are of good size and quality this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott of Union Hill were week-end visitors at E. E. Trask's, the latter's uncle.

Ward Forrest and Lawrence Trask made a trip over in the Jordan and Scio country Friday to get some dairy cattle. They purchased from a Scio butcher.

A couple of the Jungwirth boys of Jordan were callers at Jack Johnston's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Berry are the proud parents of an 8 pound baby girl, born Aug. 13. The youngster has been named Margaret Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bodeker are rejoicing over the arrival of a 9 pound daughter, Betty Jane, Aug. 11. All concerned are reported doing well.

The Peek and Wiley families spent the week-end in Lyons. They are camping near Detroit, where the men are working on the road.

Several women and children in our neighborhood are planning to spend 10 days or two weeks in the hop fields, and expect to go about Aug. 30.

Ransom's store began receiving blackberries Wednesday and several lots were sold, although the berries are only commencing to ripen generally.

Miss Ethel Swank was an over Sunday visitor with home folks, returning to Albany Sunday evening.

J. H. Johnston and family were Stayton visitors Thursday.

Arthur Vaughn and family were Sunday visitors in Fox Valley.

Mrs. Henry Bodeker spent Thursday and Friday at the George Berry place and gathered evergreen berries.

Albany Activities Aired

(By Staff Correspondent)

Albany's baseball team went to Toledo Sunday and crossed bats with the team that Scio is tied with. The local team received a good trouncing, Toledo beating them 8 to 2, almost as bad as Toledo beat Scio the Sunday before.

It is wonderful what a slogan does when it catches the eye of the reader. If it is catchy and truthful it is certain to be indelibly impressed upon the mind of the reader. "When Banks says sale he means sale" requires no explanation as to location or as to who is the author. Allan H. Banks has built up a splendid dry goods business with that slogan.

Business should be good here now since starting work on the new administration building, the construction of the new bridge, the building of new residences, the construction of the Santiam Highway and the cannery. Times are not so hard after all.

Between taking care of his growing business, keeping the correspondence of the Santiam Fish and Game Association and answering a multitude of questions about the game laws, Frank Horsky is about the busiest young business man in town, and hardly finds time to go home to eat and sleep. He seems to hold his own—in weight, anyway.

Leonard Gilkey is a busy man these days. Besides his duties as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, he is boosting the Linn County Fair, which is only a month away. About the same number of communities will be there with exhibits as last year. So far Scio is only community not reporting either a local fair or exhibit at the county fair.

The Albany Iron Works, from a small affair at the time F. J. Miller purchased it, is now classed among the best in the state. Frank understands the iron business, and with a wide acquaintance over the state, it is natural his business would grow. Like all other good citizens, he is a natural Linn county booster.

When a man goes out to his farm and finds that the man who has been living on it has left for parts unknown and also left a still; when the farm owner decides to take it to the sheriff and is on the way to town with it in his wagon, and meets the sheriff and is arrested after telling him about it—that's hell, says Ed Ekholm. The sheriff told him to tell it to the judge, as he was the one to hear alibis. He did, and the case goes to the circuit court.

F. C. Dannals, the paint and wall paper man, pulled a good one the other day when a customer came in and wanted something different from the rest of his neighborhood. "If you want something that will make them think you are 'painting the town red,' or make them green with envy, give 'em the blues or make 'em run up the white flag—which color do you suggest as meeting your requirements?"

Oklahoma is following Oregon and is working to standardize the potato industry. In 1924 there was no shipped-out stock inspected, while up to August 1 of this year nearly a thousand cars had been federal-state inspected and found ready markets outside. Standardization of nearly everything is demanded and it is those who get in early that get reputations and permanent markets.
