Kind Words From Readers

The following letter explains itself:

Red Bluff, Calif., Aug. 25, 1925
Mr. I. V. McAdoo,
Scio, Oregon.

Dear Sir:
Homesick again. Inclosed find $1.75 U. S. money order for another year's subscription to your good home paper. It's impossible to get along without it—it is as welcome as a letter, or as good as one right from home.

California had a good grain and fruit crop this year. We have had a nice summer, too. I am still engaged with the Lyon-Garrett Co., in the plumbing and pump business; have had good work and plenty of it this summer.

Took two weeks vacation on the coast at Eureka and the redwoods—O boy, some big trees.

Yours truly,

J. W. Shimanek.

A letter from Elmer Yocubets of Alhambra, Calif., requests us to change the paper from the office to the home so he and his wife will have more time to read it. He said it was like a letter from home and wished us success.

Walnut, Calif., Aug. 13, 1925
Editor of Scio Tribune.

Dear Sir: I am enclosing a clipping from the Bell Herald which I thought might be of interest to friends around Scio and Jordan and would reach them if printed in your paper. We certainly enjoy reading the Scio paper and look forward to the news from it each week. We left Oregon last October, and in many ways we would like to return there, and hope to some time for a visit anyway.

F. W. Combs.

The clipping referred to in the above letter told of celebrating the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Combs, who were married in Chester, Pa., on July 27, 1875, at their beautiful home at 278 South Bear avenue, Bell, Calif.

Mrs. J. J. Dietrich of Pasadena, and Mrs. Ida E. Lewis of Gardena, were present also 50 years ago, and are sisters of Mrs. Combs and her husband, respectively. The happy couple received many presents. Mr. Combs some weeks before came near losing his life when he stepped in front of an automobile in Los Angeles. During a musical program in the afternoon Miss Marie Persons sang "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," and piano solos were given by Mrs. Frank W. Combs and Miss Eileen Garuer.

The home paper when away from home is mighty welcome. Shouldn't the Tribune be a welcome visitor each week to every home in this community?

Berries Proved Profitable

H. S. Nolan and family of Lacomb were in Scio on business Tuesday, and while here paid the Tribune office a pleasant call. Berries are being extensively planted and grown in his community, Mr. Nolan says, and during the last two seasons the growers have prospered. He does not believe that prices will always remain as high as they have been, but if not he thinks berries would be more profitable than grain. At any rate berry vines improve the ground, he says.

Given Birthday Party

Adolph Krosman reached his 11th birthday Friday. In the evening after the meeting of the Junior Sokol club, of which he is a member, he was given a party at the Z C B J hall by the members of the club. Games were played until 10 o'clock, when cakes and candy were served. About 25 were present. Adolph received several useful presents.

Friday, Aug. 21, Miss Joyce Peterson reached her 7th birthday, and in the afternoon from 2 to 5, her mother, Mrs. Dwight Peterson, assisted by Miss Lona Zysset, gave her a party. Games suitable to the occasion were enjoyed by the following little ladies: Edris Thayer, Sylvia and Audrey Bartu, Madeleine McDonald, Lorraine Hixson, Virginia Bilyeu, Norine Sims, Lureen Arnold and Lloyd. Mary Beth and Ardis Whetstone of Albany and the little hostess, Joyce Peterson. Ice cream and cake comprised the refreshments.

Meetings in Progress

Rev. W. J. Large and Rev. J. Y. Stewart are holding services in the Mt. Pleasant church every evening this week at 8 o'clock. Sunday services will be at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Everybody invited.

This Hen Record Breaker

In the farm papers recently there has been going on a quiet contest as to the age when a pullet should begin to lay, and all this without regard to breed name and color. One breeder discovered a Plymouth Rock pullet laying when it was 147 days old. And another breeder found a White Leghorn pullet laying at 123 days old. These are all good records and are something to be proud of.

But this community has a pullet which will stand out as the leader of them all. When she was 114 days old she deposited her first egg, which was on July 28, and she has kept at it ever since. The pullet is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Sid Stringer, and is from the Rex Peery flock, who has several hens in the 300 class. Both gentlemen feed the Golden Pheasant feeds and say it, with good care and the right blood lines, will produce the same results for any one.

The Three Bandits Caught

Tom Murray, one of the three escaped convicts, was caught Friday night in a hotel at Centralia, Wash., and returned to the penitentiary on Saturday. A willingness on his part to talk to another hobo, who suggested a hold-up, proved his undoing.

Ellsworth Kelly and James Willos, who were his accomplices in the escape, broke company with Murray at The Dalles Friday morning, went to Goldendale, Wash., and at Bingen robbed a store and stole a car. This brought about their capture while eating lunch Saturday in a canyon about 12 miles from Bingen. They were returned to the pen Sunday.

A special Marion county grand jury is investigating the causes of the death of the two guards and the wounding of two other attaches, and it is probable a verdict of first degree murder will be returned against the three convicts, who are in solitary confinement and under guard.

A Little Handicapped

For some time C. L. Pennell, head miller at the Scio mill, has been feeling bad and in a week lost 10 pounds. Last Thursday Mr. Densmore told him he must take a vacation, so on Saturday Charley and his family left for Camas, Wash., where they will visit his parents and rest. B. A. Holteen, another employe, is on the Linn county grand jury, and John, sr., has lumbago in the back, while John, jr., is nursing a broken finger. Mrs. Densmore and Henry Lukenbach are the only well men on the job, with the exception of the truck drivers, Wm. Sims and John Wesely, jr.

Just a little handicapped, but the business is going on.

Has Eye Removed

It will be sad news to many of his friends to learn that the cataract on one of Joe Young had such damage that the eye had to be removed in order to save his life. About two weeks ago Joe went to Portland to consult a specialist, with the above result. The last reports said he was getting along fine.

John Wesely and wife went to Portland Monday to see him, returning home Tuesday night.

Received $50 Fine

Last Saturday Deputy Game Warden Ed S. Hawker came to Scio and made an investigation that caused the arrest of Ed Holland for hunting and killing game birds out of season. He was taken before the local justice of the peace, and upon a plea of guilty, was fined $50 and costs, which was immediately paid.

Dr. Floyd B. Utter of Salem was a visitor in Scio Friday.

Four Injured in Auto Wreck

Saturday night while on their way home from a dance at Crabtree, a coupe, owned by Raymond Downing who was driving and carrying the Misses Vella Brenner, Leta Couey and Dorris Weddle, failed to make the turn at the corner of the G. M. Bilyeu farm and went into the ditch. By a miracle the four occupants escaped instant death, probably being saved by the young willows growing along the ditch.

When the coupe hit the ditch the occupants were hurled through the windshield. Miss Brenner was the most seriously hurt, receiving a bad wound on the forehead and eight small cuts on the head, and it is believed her spine is injured. Miss Couey had the flesh torn above the knees and was cut on the under lip and chin. Miss Weddle received the slightest injury of all, escaping with small skin wound on each leg. Mr. Downing received a bad gash over the left eye which required seven stitches to close, and minor bruises. He was able to drive home Monday.

The injured were brought to the J. N. Weddle home and Dr. Prill was called. He dressed the injured and reports they are getting along fine.

Road Work Humming

The big caterpillar and about 8 teams are busy as bees on the West Scio-Munkers road filling in for the crushed rock. A new bridge is to be built at the Tom Quigley place. The West Scio road is also being graded.

Work on the road in the canyon near Jordan is progressing nicely, although it is slow. This road will furnish a splendid outlet for the ranchers in the Jordan, Bilyeu Den and Lyons communities.
